Torrential Storms, Heavy Floods Wreck Ireland's Lowlands

Thousands Trapped In Their Homes, Many Fishermen Are Believed Lost

DUBLIN, Ireland, Dec. 9 (AP) — Flood waters surged through almost all the low-lying northern area of Dublin today, trapping thousands of Irishmen in their homes. It was the worst flood in the memory of this Irish capital of more than a half-million population.

Freezing winds and torrential rains whipped much of Europe. Ice, sleet and snow added to the misery. Shipping was hard hit with 64 French fishermen feared lost in seven trawlers which vanished along the French coast during fierce gales. About 100 seamen were known dead or presumed lost in two weeks of almost continuous heavy weather.

Army Aids Police

In Dublin the Irish army joined with police and fire services in the rescue of thousands of persons marooned in flooded homes. Waters poured out by raging rivers hit the northern part of the city bordering Dublin Bay—an inlet of the Irish Sea.

Flood victims by the hundreds received quick hospital treatment for shock, exposure and exhaustion after 12 hours and more of battling the surging waters.

At least 30 were injured. Some had fractures dealt out by floating furniture.

Already the Shannon had spilled over more than 30 square miles and was rising hourly. But last night's gales so disrupted telephone communications across the country no clear picture of the Shannon floods could be formed here.

In England, lashing rain brought floods to areas still counting damage from yesterday's vicious gales. Landslides closed more than 20 main highways.

Leicestershire in the midlands reported its worst floods in 25 years. Nearer London, police kept anxious watch on the Thames River, already spilling into washlands in some areas and still rising.

Sends Ships Scurrying

Gale warnings sent battered shipping scurrying for shelter in the North Sea and Baltic.

Snow spread over Belgium, Holland and Norway. Gales and hail storms lashed Denmark. Up to three feet of snow in the Swiss and Italian Alps blocked roads overnight. Many more roads were icebound. The forecast was for more bad weather.

Europe's one warm note came from Austria — and even that spelled danger. Abnormally warm winds swept over new snowfalls in Austria's western mountains and the weatherman warned avalanches might follow.

Former Bosses Are Indicted In Vice Murder

PHENIX CITY, Ala., Dec. 9 (AP)—Two of the reputed bosses of Phenix City's fallen vice empire were indicted for murder today in the killing of A. L. Patterson, the man who had sworn to drive the racketeers out of Phenix City.

Suspended Circuit Solicitor Arch Ferrell and former Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller were arrested on first degree indictments returned by the grand jury which undertook an unprecedented vice cleanup here four months ago.

A third indictment was returned but the name of the defendant as well as the charge against him was withheld until he is taken into custody.

Ferrell, 37-year-old former state commander of the American Legion, was arrested at his home and booked at the Russell County Jail without bond.

Fuller, 35, also was at home when Sheriff Lamar Murphy and two state investigators notified him of his arrest. Because of a severe back injury which has kept him bedridden since July 4, the once-swaggering law enforcement veteran was put under house arrest and a guard assigned to watch him.

Ironically, both men, as Russell County's prosecuting attorney and chief deputy sheriff, were among the first officers to investigate the slaying of the Phenix City lawyer who had won the Democratic nomination for attorney general of Alabama on a vice cleanup platform.

Ferrell later was relieved of all duty during the murder investigation and Fuller lost his job when ex-Sheriff Ralph Mathews resigned. The sheriff's office already had been taken over by National Guardsmen under limited martial law.

Patterson, a crippled, 59-year-old former state senator, was shot to death in an alley outside his Phenix City law office the night of June 18.

Sinatra, Publicity Man Swap Punches

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 9 (AP)—Frank Sinatra and publicity man Jim Byron swapped wild punches early today in the latest Sunset Strip night club fight. Observers called it a draw.

The argument stemmed from a simple question, Byron said, and resulted in two fair punches and several roundhouse misses, as Judy Garland and several others looked on. Sinatra landed once on Byron's cheek and the press agent countered with a right to Sinatra's nose.

Hall Says Ike Benefited By Solon's Blast

Greater GOP Unity Seen By Chairman In M'Carthy Attack

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Chairman Leonard W. Hall of the Republican National Committee said confidently today that President Eisenhower will benefit from the attack made on him by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Hall was replying to a question which had been asked Eisenhower at his Wednesday news conference. Eisenhower had referred it to Hall. It asked: "In what appears to be a declaration of war by McCarthy, what danger do you see to the Republican party?"

The party chairman replied in a statement:

No Doubt In Mind

"There was no doubt in my mind as to the answer. However, to confirm my own opinion, I deliberately delayed one day in issuing this statement so that I might personally check key Republican leaders around the country and take a representative sample of Senate and House opinion.

"Some Republican members of Congress had already publicly stated their views. It is noteworthy that they almost uniformly and unhesitatingly went to the support of President Eisenhower, even though they took differing positions on the McCarthy issue in the recent Senate proceedings.

"My own survey confirmed this on a much broader scale and it convinced me that the President will find even greater unity and support among Republican members of both the Senate and House during the next two years. This is the only real measure of party unity, and the public in the coming months will have an opportunity to verify my findings.

Continue To Support Ike

"I am equally certain that the overwhelming majority of the American people, both Republicans and Democrats alike, will continue to give the President and the Republican program their support, and in even greater measure than before."

McCarthy made his declaration Tuesday. It said Eisenhower had displayed a "shrinking show of weakness" toward Red China, while congratulating those senators McCarthy accused of holding up his efforts to expose Communists at home.

Two AP Men Are Promoted

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Appointment of Wes Gallagher and Harry T. Montgomery as assistant general managers of the Associated Press was announced today by General Manager Frank J. Starzel.

Gallagher, a general executive since 1951, will continue in charge of the personnel department, AP Newsfeatures and Wide World Photos, the latter an AP subsidiary.

Montgomery, traffic executive since 1951, has responsibility for newspaper membership relations, communications and business affairs.

Starzel said the promotions reflected the "broadened scope of their assignments."

Gallagher and Montgomery joined the AP in 1937.

Gallagher, born in San Francisco in 1911, graduated from Louisiana State University in 1936. He worked on the Baton Rouge, La. State-Times and Morning Advocate and the Rochester, N. Y., Democrat and Chronicle before joining the AP. He served in the Buffalo, Albany and New York AP bureaus before going to Europe in 1940 as a foreign and war correspondent.

Montgomery, 45, was born in Flint, Mich. He was educated at the University of Michigan, King's College of the University of London and Columbia University. He was a Nieman Fellow at Harvard University in 1940-41.

Pope Is Gaining, Hiccups Are Stopped

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 9 (AP) — Medical experts announced tonight Pope Pius XII is gaining strength, his hiccups have ceased and his general condition has improved preceptibly.

The 78-year-old pontiff underwent a two-hour examination—his second in a week of grave illness that brought fears for his life—by three specialists and his personal physician, Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi.

Investment In Surplus Farm Products Rises

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP) — Uncle Sam's investment in surplus farm products stored under price support programs has climbed to a record high of nearly seven billion dollars.

The Agriculture Department reported today that the investment totaled $6,634,107,000 on Oct. 31. Additional commitments since that day, officials said, have pushed the amount close to the seven billion dollar level.

A year ago, the amount was $4,544,897,000.

Included in the investment as of Oct. 31 were $2,525,834,000 in loans advanced to farmers on grains, cotton, tobacco, and other products stored under price support programs and $4,108,273,000 in commodities owned outright by the department's Commodity Credit Corporation.

Commodities belonging to the department have been acquired through purchases under price support commitments and through surrender of commodities by growers in lieu of payment of price support loans.

The department also reported that it lost $189,924,142 in carrying out price support programs during the July-October period of this year.

This amount compares with $419,477,074 lost during the fiscal year ending last June 30.

Losses are incurred when the department sells commodities for less than it paid for them. This year's losses resulted from sale of surplus dairy products for less than cost.

Major items in the Oct. 31 inventory included: wheat $2,698,700,000, cotton $1,231,942,000 corn $1,167,471,000, butter $326,436,000, tobacco $260,046,000, and cheese $184,164,000.

Mailman's Curiosity Was Just Too Much

BAYONNE, France, Dec. 9 (AP) —A court sentenced Paul Fayet, 52, a postman, to eight months in prison today after finding that:

For 10 years he had taken five letters a day from his bag of mail. He picked them at random. The ones he found interesting he kept. The others he tore up in little pieces.

Motive? Not blackmail, not money, said the judge. Just plain curiosity.

Military Service Time Is Reduced

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Dec. 9 (AP)—Denmark, one of the NATO nations, announced today it is reducing the period of compulsory military service from 18 to 16 months. The reduction, effective at once, was described as part of an economy drive.

Earlier this year Belgium and the Netherlands reduced such service from 24 to 18 months. The United States requires two years of most draftees.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP) — President Eisenhower will drive to his Catoctin Mountain retreat in Maryland tomorrow for an overnight stay.

Bank Bandits Use Walkie Talkie To Aid Their Lookout

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9 (AP)—Using a walkie-talkie to keep in touch with a lookout man, four bold robbers took an estimated $16,000 from a branch bank today.

The ingenious holdup men had opened a manhole at the rear of the Bank of America branch and had cut all cables, including telephone and burglar alarms.

Three of them entered the bank, two carrying walkie-talkies.

"Freeze!" one robber commanded as he pointed a gun at bank officials and customers. Then he ordered tellers to put cash on their counters. They failed to get many more thousands in a bank vault.

Police said the lookout remained in a parked car with another walkie-talkie and Asst. Mgr. Al Gentenaro, of the bank, said the holdup men "talked constantly" with the instruments.

Employers Seek To Break Unions

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9 (AP)—The CIO's chief attorney said today an "unreconstructed" group of employers is pressing a drive to "cripple" labor unions by bringing them under the antitrust laws.

Arthur J. Goldberg, CIO general counsel, told a law conference held in connection with the CIO convention, that applying antitrust laws to labor unions was designed to "destroy or weaken" them and to break up national unions and industry-wide bargaining.

The conference was attended by both employer and union attorneys, law school professors and labor arbitrators.

Convention delegates approved a resolution asking Congress to investigate the "present and prospective impact of technological developments on our economy." It said that automatic machines and new production techniques are displacing workers at a rapid rate.

"The facts allow no room for the illusion that expansion of employment in the manufacture of the revolutionary machines will compensate to any substantial degree for contraction of employment in industries using them," this resolution said.

Bing Crosby Damage Suit Gets Under Way

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9 (AP)—Trial of a $1,051,400 auto accident damage suit against Bing Crosby began with selection of a jury today.

The crooner is accused by three plaintiffs of driving his $12,000 sports car negligently when it was involved in a collision Oct. 11, 1953. City fireman Frank F. Verdugo, 33, his wife Lucy, 29, and her brother, Eulalio Perea, 29, were injured in the crash.

Man Steals Bikes, Sentence Suspended

BALTIMORE, Dec. 9 (AP)—Magistrate Simon Schonfield imposed only a suspended sentence on Warren Fowler today, but the five Fowler tots probably won't get tricycles for Christmas.

Fowler pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing the three-wheelers from the furniture store where he worked.

Malik Denounces U. S. Complaint In UN Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 9 (AP)—Russia's Jacob A. Malik today denounced as "shameful" and "jerry-built" a complaint in the U.N. Assembly by the United States and its Korean War allies against Red China's jailing of 11 American aviators as spies.

The top Soviet delegate in the Assembly gave the Communist answer to attacks on the Peiping regime by the United States and some of its allies in a special meeting of the full Assembly. Malik spoke for one hour and 25 minutes.

He contended repeatedly that the airmen were spies and the U.N. has no business interfering in the processes of Peiping's justice.

The 16 U.N. Allies in Korea have put before the Assembly a resolution condemning the imprisonment of the men and asking Secretary General Hammarskjold to make efforts to obtain their release.

Malik rejected claims by Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., that the case of the 11 airmen was separate from that of two American civilians captured after the plane landed in Manchuria. Lodge said those two were not within the U.N. Command. The Soviet delegate replied all 13 were bent on espionage assignments given by the American Intelligence service.

Malik said the American case, supported by 15 U.N. members who fought beside the United States in Korea, was a mass of contradictions resting on a "jerry-built foundation."

"Individuals seized in China committing espionage can lay no claim to treatment as prisoners of war," Malik said. "These persons are subject to sanction according to legislation of the state where they are taken into custody . . . The United States has foisted upon the General Assembly this shameful question. The Soviet Union takes exception to and will vote against the resolution."

Greece, Belgium, New Zealand, Thailand, Turkey and Australia announced support of the resolution.

Rainmakers Successful, It Won't Stop Raining

BRISBANE, Australia, Dec. 9 (AP) —A rainmaking team moved into Conclurry, in northwest Queensland, a week ago and it hasn't stopped raining since.

Within hours after the experiment's start, rain began to fall. By last weekend up to 4 inches had soaked a wide stretch of cattle country and by yesterday falls totaled 5½ inches.

It is the world's first "wide range" rainmaking experiment. Instead of giving chemical treatment to individual clouds, silver iodide is being dropped from heights of up to 15,000 feet over areas 200 miles across.

Bears Like Steam Heat

JASPER, Alta., Dec. 9 (AP)—Some black bears in Jasper National Park have started a new fad in the bear world: hibernation with steam heat.

Eight of them have settled under a platform adjoining Canadian National Railways' stores building here. They tore the insulating cover from a steam pipe entering the building under the platform.

Tomcat Hitches Ride On Wheels Of Air Liner

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 9 (AP)—A tomcat which hitched a ride underneath an airplane, probably from South Dakota, was doing well here today.

He made the trip in a wheel well—the opening into which the wheel folds when retracted.

Ray Keogh, pilot, said the plane stopped at Las Vegas, N.M., but he was sure the cat got aboard at Sioux Falls, S.D., where it was drizzling.

The tabby streaked from his wheel's-eye view compartment when the plane landed Nov. 1 and it took three days to coax him from under an airfield building.

Now he is a field pet and takes rides first class—snoozing on cushions in the pilots' compartments of chartered planes.

Soviet Warns West Against Armed Germany

MOSCOW, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Soviet Union warned the Western powers tonight that Russia and its East European Communist allies would increase their armed forces if West Germany is rearmed.

In notes specifically aimed to prevent Western ratification of the Paris agreement to rearm West Germany, Russia told the United States, Britain and France the stepping up of Red armaments was "to counterpoppose the growing armed forces of the aggressive states threatening the maintenance of peace."

Discussion of the German question, Russia said, will depend upon Western rejection of proposals to rearm Bonn.

Together with its notes to the Western powers the Soviet government delivered the text of a declaration adopted at last week's Moscow security conference of eight East European Communist states pledging an increase in armaments under a unified command — presumably Russia — to counter the prospective rearmament of West Germany.

The Soviet notes said rearming West Germany would make impossible the unification of the East and West zones of Germany. They added that ratification of the London-Paris agreements "will bring about an intensification of the arms drive and will create new obstacles to achieving an agreement on the reduction of armaments.

"Such a policy leads to the transformation of Western Germany into a militarist state, with all the dangerous consequences thereof, not to mention the fact that the remilitarization of Western Germany will make impossible her reunification with the peace-loving (Eastern) German Democratic Republic into one state," the notes added.

Moscow said its stand on the German question is backed by the seven nations which signed the joint declaration after the Moscow conference. They are Poland, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Albania.

How Do You Make Prison Better Place?

FOLSOM, Calif., Dec. 9 (AP)—Editors of the Folsom Prison Observer conducted a survey on how to make Folsom a better place to live.

One inmate suggested weekend passes to a destination of the prisoner's choice. If an inmate failed to return he'd get a black mark—and no more passes.

Accused Man Denies Rift With Marilyn

Osteopath Begins Defense In Murder Trial In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Dec. 9 (AP) — Dr. Samuel Sheppard took the witness stand today in defense of his life. He swore in a solemnly boyish voice that he and his slain wife had no serious disagreement, did not discuss divorce.

The 30-year-old osteopath is accused of murdering pregnant, 31-year-old Marilyn Sheppard, his wife, in her bed last July 4 after an illicit love affair with pretty Susan Hayes.

With calm, surgeon's detachment, Dr. Sheppard touched only lightly on the affair with the 24-year-old Miss Hayes. He was not pressed for details. But he did say Marilyn had no more than an academic interest in gifts he gave Susan.

Ahead of Dr. Sheppard at the end of the court day lay his supreme ordeal—his own word by word recital of Marilyn's violent death. In his telling of the story may lie his salvation. He says a prowler killed Marilyn.

Denies Abuse Of Son

In a level voice, intently and gravely, Dr. Sheppard denied he ever abused his 7-year-old son, Chip, in a fit of anger—an allegation the state raised in trying to show he had a temper that could flare into murderous rage.

And he testified he did not counsel a woman acquaintance on how to feign a head injury—the very manuever the state insinuates he adopted after his wife's death. He claims her slayer badly injured him.

"Now," Defense Atty. William J. Corrigan told Dr. Sheppard at one point, "there was some information given to the jury about talk of divorce between you and Marilyn . . . Will you tell the jury whether there was any talk of divorce between you and Marilyn?"

"No, sir, there wasn't," Dr. Sheppard replied firmly.

"Now," he was asked. "Was there any serious disagreement between you and your wife?"

"No, sir," the witness replied. "I wouldn't say there was any serious disagreement between Marilyn and myself at any time."

Dr. Sheppard, fighting to escape the electric chair, claims a bushy-haired stranger bludgeoned Marilyn to death, then twice knocked him unconscious when he sought to aid her.

Two witnesses earlier in the day — chance passersby during the hours of the murder—testified they saw a bushy-haired stranger that morning near the Sheppard home.

Testified To Affair

Miss Hayes testified a 15-month affair with Dr. Sheppard was climaxed in Los Angeles last March when they shared the same bedroom for a week. Marilyn was staying with friends at a ranch near Monterey, Cal., 300 miles to the north.

Dr. Sheppard testified he went to California for graduate hospital work.

"And it was on that trip at that time that you met Miss Susan Hayes, as she testified?" Corrigan asked.

"Yes, sir," Dr. Sheppard replied.

"All right," Corrigan went on, "well, when you got back home in March was there any difference in the life that you took up after March than there had been before?"

"My wife and I hoped that she was pregnant," Dr. Sheppard said. "And we were happy for that reason."

Washington Party-Go-Round Is Too Fast For Welcomers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP) — So many kings, potentates and premiers are beating a path to this world capital that welcoming officials hardly have time to get their striped pants pressed.

So the State Department delicately disclosed plans today to slow the pace in 1955. As press officer Henry Suydam put it:

"The whole matter of foreign visits for next year is being examined to see how it shapes up. Efforts are being made to arrange them at somewhat more widely spaced intervals."

Suydam didn't say so, but the red carpet has worn a bit thin, with the footsteps of foreign dignitaries following so closely upon each other there was hardly time to run the vacuum cleaner and whisk away the dust.

The crowded procession finally perturbed the State Department. Perhaps it perturbed President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles first. They have had to struggle to sandwich their other chores in between ceremonial functions.

This year Washington will have received 17 visitors requiring high level courtesies, police escorts, and the personal attention of Eisenhower and Dulles. This does not count a host of lesser VIPs.

The strain of callers began with President Celal Bayar of Turkey last January. It will end in a few days with the visit of the Shah of Iran. In between have come such personages as the Premiers of France, Japan, Pakistan, Ceylon and three Scandinavian countries, the Queen Mother of England, the Chancellors of West Germany and Austria, the Presidents of South Korea and Liberia.

Suydam stressed that all the visitors were invited here and were welcome. It's the rapid succession of visits that poses the problem.

Tiny Siamese Fighting Fish Aid To Schizophrenia Study

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Tiny Siamese fighting fish—cultured by Asiatics for centuries as a sport—may provide a new aid in the study of schizophrenia.

Two scientists reported today that a new drug-testing technique employing such aquatic scrappers opens possibilities of determining whether there is a body chemical cause for this major mental disease in humans.

Schizophrenia, or "split personality," is one of the worst forms of mental illness, and some researchers have long theorized that it may result from some subtle chemical abnormality within the body.

Drs. H. A. Abramson and L. T. Evans of Cold Spring Harbor, N. Y. reported production of "trance-like" and other slowed-down behavioral effects in the fighting fish by giving them minute doses of a drug called lysergic acid diethylamide — nicknamed "LSD 25." They made their report in the technical journal "Science."

This same drug, they said, already has been used by other researchers to produce temporarily a "schizophrenia-like state" in certain normal people — with the objective of learning more about the affliction.

But one impediment to the latter research, they indicated, is the difficulty of detecting the drug in urine and other bodily fluids after it is administered—detection which would provide a better gauge of the effects of the substance.

They said the new testing method with the fish opens up the possibility not only of detecting the drug in the urine of normal people given the drug experimentally "but also of studying the urines of clinically schizophrenic patients for chemical agents occurring naturally, which might be the cause of clinical schizophrenia in man."

Pope Is Gaining, Hiccups Are Stopped

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 9 (AP) — Medical experts announced tonight Pope Pius XII is gaining strength, his hiccups have ceased and his general condition has improved preceptibly.

The 78-year-old pontiff underwent a two-hour examination—his second in a week of grave illness that brought fears for his life—by three specialists and his personal physician, Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi.

Ex-Solicitor Is Booked

Deposed Russell County, Ala., circuit solicitor Arch Ferrell, center, is shown in the sheriff's office in Phenix City, as he was arrested on Grand Jury indictment charging him with murder in the pistol slaying June 18 of Alabama Attorney General nominee A. Investment In Surplus Farm Products Rises

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP) — Uncle Sam's investment in surplus farm products stored under price support programs has climbed to a record high of nearly seven billion dollars.

The Agriculture Department reported today that the investment totaled $6,634,107,000 on Oct. 31. Additional commitments since that day, officials said, have pushed the amount close to the seven billion dollar level.

A year ago, the amount was $4,544,897,000.

Included in the investment as of Oct. 31 were $2,525,834,000 in loans advanced to farmers on grains, cotton, tobacco, and other products stored under price support programs and $4,108,273,000 in commodities owned outright by the department's Commodity Credit Corporation.

Commodities belonging to the department have been acquired through purchases under price support commitments and through surrender of commodities by growers in lieu of payment of price support loans.

The department also reported that it lost $189,924,142 in carrying out price support programs during the July-October period of this year.

This amount compares with $419,477,074 lost during the fiscal year ending last June 30.

Losses are incurred when the department sells commodities for less than it paid for them. This year's losses resulted from sale of surplus dairy products for less than cost.

Major items in the Oct. 31 inventory included: wheat $2,698,700,000, cotton $1,231,942,000 corn $1,167,471,000, butter $326,436,000, tobacco $260,046,000, and cheese $184,164,000.

Mailman's Curiosity Was Just Too Much

BAYONNE, France, Dec. 9 (AP) —A court sentenced Paul Fayet, 52, a postman, to eight months in prison today after finding that:

For 10 years he had taken five letters a day from his bag of mail. He picked them at random. The ones he found interesting he kept. The others he tore up in little pieces.

Motive? Not blackmail, not money, said the judge. Just plain curiosity.

Military Service Time Is Reduced

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Dec. 9 (AP)—Denmark, one of the NATO nations, announced today it is reducing the period of compulsory military service from 18 to 16 months. The reduction, effective at once, was described as part of an economy drive.

Earlier this year Belgium and the Netherlands reduced such service from 24 to 18 months. The United States requires two years of most draftees.

Ike To Visit Retreat

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP) — President Eisenhower will drive to his Catoctin Mountain retreat in Maryland tomorrow for an overnight stay.

Bank Bandits Use Walkie Talkie To Aid Their Lookout

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9 (AP)—Using a walkie-talkie to keep in touch with a lookout man, four bold robbers took an estimated $16,000 from a branch bank today.

The ingenious holdup men had opened a manhole at the rear of the Bank of America branch and had cut all cables, including telephone and burglar alarms.

Three of them entered the bank, two carrying walkie-talkies.

"Freeze!" one robber commanded as he pointed a gun at bank officials and customers. Then he ordered tellers to put cash on their counters. They failed to get many more thousands in a bank vault.

Police said the lookout remained in a parked car with another walkie-talkie and Asst. Mgr. Al Gentenaro, of the bank, said the holdup men "talked constantly" with the instruments.

Employers Seek To Break Unions

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9 (AP)—The CIO's chief attorney said today an "unreconstructed" group of employers is pressing a drive to "cripple" labor unions by bringing them under the antitrust laws.

Arthur J. Goldberg, CIO general counsel, told a law conference held in connection with the CIO convention, that applying antitrust laws to labor unions was designed to "destroy or weaken" them and to break up national unions and industry-wide bargaining.

The conference was attended by both employer and union attorneys, law school professors and labor arbitrators.

Convention delegates approved a resolution asking Congress to investigate the "present and prospective impact of technological developments on our economy." It said that automatic machines and new production techniques are displacing workers at a rapid rate.

"The facts allow no room for the illusion that expansion of employment in the manufacture of the revolutionary machines will compensate to any substantial degree for contraction of employment in industries using them," this resolution said.

Bing Crosby Damage Suit Gets Under Way

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9 (AP)—Trial of a $1,051,400 auto accident damage suit against Bing Crosby began with selection of a jury today.

The crooner is accused by three plaintiffs of driving his $12,000 sports car negligently when it was involved in a collision Oct. 11, 1953. City fireman Frank F. Verdugo, 33, his wife Lucy, 29, and her brother, Eulalio Perea, 29, were injured in the crash.

Man Steals Bikes, Sentence Suspended

BALTIMORE, Dec. 9 (AP)—Magistrate Simon Schonfield imposed only a suspended sentence on Warren Fowler today, but the five Fowler tots probably won't get tricycles for Christmas.

Fowler pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing the three-wheelers from the furniture store where he worked.

Malik Denounces U. S. Complaint In UN Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 9 (AP)—Russia's Jacob A. Malik today denounced as "shameful" and "jerry-built" a complaint in the U.N. Assembly by the United States and its Korean War allies against Red China's jailing of 11 American aviators as spies.

The top Soviet delegate in the Assembly gave the Communist answer to attacks on the Peiping regime by the United States and some of its allies in a special meeting of the full Assembly. Malik spoke for one hour and 25 minutes.

He contended repeatedly that the airmen were spies and the U.N. has no business interfering in the processes of Peiping's justice.

The 16 U.N. Allies in Korea have put before the Assembly a resolution condemning the imprisonment of the men and asking Secretary General Hammarskjold to make efforts to obtain their release.

Malik rejected claims by Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., that the case of the 11 airmen was separate from that of two American civilians captured after the plane landed in Manchuria. Lodge said those two were not within the U.N. Command. The Soviet delegate replied all 13 were bent on espionage assignments given by the American Intelligence service.

Malik said the American case, supported by 15 U.N. members who fought beside the United States in Korea, was a mass of contradictions resting on a "jerry-built foundation."

"Individuals seized in China committing espionage can lay no claim to treatment as prisoners of war," Malik said. "These persons are subject to sanction according to legislation of the state where they are taken into custody . . . The United States has foisted upon the General Assembly this shameful question. The Soviet Union takes exception to and will vote against the resolution."

Greece, Belgium, New Zealand, Thailand, Turkey and Australia announced support of the resolution.

Rainmakers Successful, It Won't Stop Raining

BRISBANE, Australia, Dec. 9 (AP) —A rainmaking team moved into Conclurry, in northwest Queensland, a week ago and it hasn't stopped raining since.

Within hours after the experiment's start, rain began to fall. By last weekend up to 4 inches had soaked a wide stretch of cattle country and by yesterday falls totaled 5½ inches.

It is the world's first "wide range" rainmaking experiment. Instead of giving chemical treatment to individual clouds, silver iodide is being dropped from heights of up to 15,000 feet over areas 200 miles across.

Bears Like Steam Heat

JASPER, Alta., Dec. 9 (AP)—Some black bears in Jasper National Park have started a new fad in the bear world: hibernation with steam heat.

Eight of them have settled under a platform adjoining Canadian National Railways' stores building here. They tore the insulating cover from a steam pipe entering the building under the platform.

Tomcat Hitches Ride On Wheels Of Air Liner

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 9 (AP)—A tomcat which hitched a ride underneath an airplane, probably from South Dakota, was doing well here today.

He made the trip in a wheel well—the opening into which the wheel folds when retracted.

Ray Keogh, pilot, said the plane stopped at Las Vegas, N.M., but he was sure the cat got aboard at Sioux Falls, S.D., where it was drizzling.

The tabby streaked from his wheel's-eye view compartment when the plane landed Nov. 1 and it took three days to coax him from under an airfield building.

Now he is a field pet and takes rides first class—snoozing on cushions in the pilots' compartments of chartered planes.

Soviet Warns West Against Armed Germany

MOSCOW, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Soviet Union warned the Western powers tonight that Russia and its East European Communist allies would increase their armed forces if West Germany is rearmed.

In notes specifically aimed to prevent Western ratification of the Paris agreement to rearm West Germany, Russia told the United States, Britain and France the stepping up of Red armaments was "to counteroppose the growing armed forces of the aggressive states threatening the maintenance of peace."

Discussion of the German question, Russia said, will depend upon Western rejection of proposals to rearm Bonn.

Together with its notes to the Western powers the Soviet government delivered the text of a declaration adopted at last week's Moscow security conference of eight East European Communist states pledging an increase in armaments under a unified command — presumably Russia — to counter the prospective rearmament of West Germany.

The Soviet notes said rearming West Germany would make impossible the unification of the East and West zones of Germany. They added that ratification of the London-Paris agreements "will bring about an intensification of the arms drive and will create new obstacles to achieving an agreement on the reduction of armaments.

"Such a policy leads to the transformation of Western Germany into a militarist state, with all the dangerous consequences thereof, not to mention the fact that the remilitarization of Western Germany will make impossible her reunification with the peace-loving (Eastern) German Democratic Republic into one state," the notes added.

Moscow said its stand on the German question is backed by the seven nations which signed the joint declaration after the Moscow conference. They are Poland, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Albania.

How Do You Make Prison Better Place?

FOLSOM, Calif., Dec. 9 (AP)—Editors of the Folsom Prison Observer conducted a survey on how to make Folsom a better place to live.

Accused Man Denies Rift With Marilyn

Osteopath Begins Defense In Murder Trial In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Dec. 9 (AP) — Dr. Samuel Sheppard took the witness stand today in defense of his life. He swore in a solemnly boyish voice that he and his slain wife had no serious disagreement, did not discuss divorce.

With calm, surgeon's detachment, Dr. Sheppard touched only lightly on the affair with the 24-year-old Miss Hayes. He was not pressed for details. But he did say Marilyn had no more than an academic interest in gifts he gave Susan.

Ahead of Dr. Sheppard at the end of the court day lay his supreme ordeal—his own word by word recital of Marilyn's violent death. In his telling of the story may lie his salvation. He says a prowler killed Marilyn.

Denies Abuse Of Son

In a level voice, intently and gravely, Dr. Sheppard denied he ever abused his 7-year-old son, Chip, in a fit of anger—an allegation the state raised in trying to show he had a temper that could flare into murderous rage.

And he testified he did not counsel a woman acquaintance on how to feign a head injury—the very manuever the state insinuates he adopted after his wife's death. He claims her slayer badly injured him.

"Now," Defense Atty. William J. Corrigan told Dr. Sheppard at one point, "there was some information given to the jury about talk of divorce between you and Marilyn . . . Will you tell the jury whether there was any talk of divorce between you and Marilyn?"

"No, sir, there wasn't," Dr. Sheppard replied firmly.

"Now," he was asked. "Was there any serious disagreement between you and your wife?"

"No, sir," the witness replied. "I wouldn't say there was any serious disagreement between Marilyn and myself at any time."

Dr. Sheppard, fighting to escape the electric chair, claims a bushy-haired stranger bludgeoned Marilyn to death, then twice knocked him unconscious when he sought to aid her.

Two witnesses earlier in the day — chance passersby during the hours of the murder—testified they saw a bushy-haired stranger that morning near the Sheppard home.

Testified To Affair

Miss Hayes testified a 15-month affair with Dr. Sheppard was climaxed in Los Angeles last March when they shared the same bedroom for a week. Marilyn was staying with friends at a ranch near Monterey, Cal., 300 miles to the north.

Dr. Sheppard testified he went to California for graduate hospital work.

"And it was on that trip at that time that you met Miss Susan Hayes, as she testified?" Corrigan asked.

"Yes, sir," Dr. Sheppard replied.

"All right," Corrigan went on, "well, when you got back home in March was there any difference in the life that you took up after March than there had been before?"

"My wife and I hoped that she was pregnant," Dr. Sheppard said. "And we were happy for that reason."

Washington Party-Go-Round Is Too Fast For Welcomers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP) — So many kings, potentates and premiers are beating a path to this world capital that welcoming officials hardly have time to get their striped pants pressed.

So the State Department delicately disclosed plans today to slow the pace in 1955. As press officer Henry Suydam put it:

"The whole matter of foreign visits for next year is being examined to see how it shapes up. Efforts are being made to arrange them at somewhat more widely spaced intervals."

Suydam didn't say so, but the red carpet has worn a bit thin, with the footsteps of foreign dignitaries following so closely upon each other there was hardly time to run the vacuum cleaner and whisk away the dust.

The crowded procession finally perturbed the State Department. Perhaps it perturbed President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles first. They have had to struggle to sandwich their other chores in between ceremonial functions.

This year Washington will have received 17 visitors requiring high level courtesies, police escorts, and the personal attention of Eisenhower and Dulles. This does not count a host of lesser VIPs.

The strain of callers began with President Celal Bayar of Turkey last January. It will end in a few days with the visit of the Shah of Iran. In between have come such personages as the Premiers of France, Japan, Pakistan, Ceylon and three Scandinavian countries, the Queen Mother of England, the Chancellors of West Germany and Austria, the Presidents of South Korea and Liberia.

Suydam stressed that all the visitors were invited here and were welcome. It's the rapid succession of visits that poses the problem.

Tiny Siamese Fighting Fish Aid To Schizophrenia Study

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Tiny Siamese fighting fish—cultured by Asiatics for centuries as a sport—may provide a new aid in the study of schizophrenia.

Two scientists reported today that a new drug-testing technique employing such aquatic scrappers opens possibilities of determining whether there is a body chemical cause for this major mental disease in humans.

Schizophrenia, or "split personality," is one of the worst forms of mental illness, and some researchers have long theorized that it may result from some subtle chemical abnormality within the body.

Drs. H. A. Abramson and L. T. Evans of Cold Spring Harbor, N. Y. reported production of "trance-like" and other slowed-down behavioral effects in the fighting fish by giving them minute doses of a drug called lysergic acid diethylamide — nicknamed "LSD 25." They made their report in the technical journal "Science."

This same drug, they said, already has been used by other researchers to produce temporarily a "schizophrenia-like state" in certain normal people — with the objective of learning more about the affliction.

But one impediment to the latter research, they indicated, is the difficulty of detecting the drug in urine and other bodily fluids after it is administered—detection which would provide a better gauge of the effects of the substance.

They said the new testing method with the fish opens up the possibility not only of detecting the drug in the urine of normal people given the drug experimentally "but also of studying the urines of clinically schizophrenic patients for chemical agents occurring naturally, which might be the cause of clinical schizophrenia in man."

Attorneys Assn. Told States Can Probe Commies

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Dec. 9 (AP)—The National Assn. of Attorneys General was told today the states have a definite right to investigate subversive activities—but should do so with discretion and a sense of fair play.

Atty. Gen. Louis C. Wyman of New Hampshire said state investigative bodies can turn up information denied even to the FBI if they go after the facts and not after publicity for the investigators.

Wyman told the state legal officials, holding their annual convention here, his own experience as a one-man "Un-American Activities Committee" of his state's Legislature shows that ex-Communists tend to testify freely if their names are kept secret.

But when closed-door hearings are aired by some publicity-hungry investigator, Wyman said, "That leads to the abuses with which we are all familiar."

Wyman did not elaborate on this point.

The attorneys general also went into the matter of lower federal courts releasing prisoners from state custody on habeas corpus writs.

These writs permit freeing of a prisoner on the ground that the proceedings against him were improper. Various speakers today said some federal courts have abused the process.

A special committee, headed by Atty. Gen. Edward D. E. Rollins of Maryland, recommended approval of a proposed bill under which Congress would fix the conditions under which a Federal judge could grant a habeas corpus writ to a state prisoner.

Coal Production Problems Discussed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Directors of the National Coal Association today conferred on the problems of what may be the worst production year since 1938.

A spokesman said the board would "not make any basic policy decisions" at the closed, two day session, but hoped to perfect its working organization to deal with programs for improving output, employment and earnings.

The industry has asked the government to restrict imports of residual fuel oil from Venezuela, which coal men charge is "dumped" on the East Coast with devastating effect on the market for coal.

FORT LEE, N.J., Dec. 9 (AP)—Lady Sylvia Ashley, divorced wife of actor Clark Gable, recited the marriage vows for the fifth time at a civil ceremony today with thrice-married Prince Dimitri Djordjadze.

They were wed in the office of the Board of Health by Magistrate I. William Aronsohn after their three-Cadillac entourage arrived from New York.

Lady Ashley signed the register as Sylvia Edith Louise Gable, 44, and gave her address as Brentwood, Calif. She was born in London.

Hatoyama Named Japan's Minister

TOKYO, Friday, Dec. 10 (AP)—Ichiro Hatoyama, a pro-U. S. conservative, yesterday was named prime minister but his Socialist supporters forced from him a pledge of new elections which they expect to win.

The Socialists, who oppose U. S. bases in Japan, rearmament, and Japan's pro-West foreign policy, obtained as a price of their support a promise that he would dissolve the Diet and call new elections by March 10.

Socialists then joined Hatoyama's Democrats in the lower house and gave him a 257 to 191 victory over Taketora Ogata, president of former Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal (conservative) party. The only Communist in the house abstained.

Yoshida, who steered Japan through seven trying postwar years by aligning it closely with the United States, resigned Thursday before the Socialist-Democrat coalition could pass a no-confidence motion.

The switch in prime ministers promised little immediate change in Japanese foreign policy. Hatoyama says Japan must maintain her place among free nations but he favors increased trade with Red China and Russia, as do the Socialists.

Adenauer Sends Doll To Girl, 8

ESSEX, Md., Dec. 9 (AP)—Eight-year-old Roberta Sue Owens has an early Christmas present—a doll given to her by a newly acquired pen pal—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany.

Roberta saw a recent newspaper picture of the souvenir doll Adenauer presented to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. She liked the German doll, so she wrote a letter to Adenauer asking how and where she could buy one.

The doll and a covering letter, signed by an aide of Adenauer's, arrived shortly thereafter.

"It is meant as a Christmas present from Chancellor Adenauer," said the note.

Columbus Sailed Ocean Westward To Seek Second Coming Of Christ, Pastor Believes

By HERMAN R. ALLEN
(For George Cornell)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Why did Columbus sail into the West?

To prove the world is round?

To seek gold, or open a westward passage to the Indies?

No, says Dr. LeRoy Edwin Froom. Columbus believed the Second Coming of Christ, the Day of Judgment, was at hand, and that it was his duty to discover as much of the world as possible and convert it to Christianity while time remained.

Dr. Froom, professor at the Seventh-Day Adventist Theological Seminary here, has just completed the fourth and last volume of "The Prophetic Faith of our Fathers," a 4,000-page work that took his full time and the collaboration of scores of other scholars and linguists over a 20-year period.

The Adventists believe that men, living and dead, are on probation and that Christ will return, in person and visibly, to judge them. They believe that this time is nearing, although they do not profess to know just how soon it will come.

Dr. Froom's work, however, is not intended simply to promote his church's beliefs. Reviews by theologians and editors of religious papers representing many faiths have found it simply a history of what men have said and written about biblical prophecy over the centuries.

"I was thrilled when I learned that Columbus was motivated by the impulse of prophecy," Dr. Froom told me in his neat, book-lined seminary office. "I have a photostatic copy of a letter which he wrote to King Ferdinand on his fourth voyage, discussing prophecy, and I have seen the copy of a prophetic work which Columbus carried with him, with marginal notes in his own hand."

The period covered by Dr. Froom's work is roughly from the third century B. C. to 1850, with special attention, as far as the Bible goes, to the Book of Daniel in the Old Testament and Apocalypse in the new.

"I discovered that some of the key men of history—statesmen, historians, physicians, scientists like Sir Isaac Newton—have studied and written on prophecy," he said.

"Nine presidents of Harvard, beginning with Cotton Mather, have written on it. King James I wrote on it. He was criticized but upheld on the grounds that the prophets had said there would be many kings and that if he was one of them he was entitled to write on the subject."

Messages From Outer Space Are Being Studied

PALO ALTO, Calif., Dec 9 (AP)—Messages from outer space, called "as weird, strange and unbelievable as flying saucers," are being studied at Stanford University, it was disclosed today.

The research is centered on "whistlers," phenomena described as musical sounds from outer space. Scientists are testing a theory they are related to lightning.

Dr. Robert Helliwell, associate professor of electrical engineering told the Palc Alto Times that Stanford, with the cooperation of U.S. government engineers, has set up a listening station aboard the Navy ice-breaker Atka, now en route to the antarctic seas.

In addition, new equipment is being set up at Stanford's Radio Propagation Laboratory to catch and study the signals which have intrigued scientists ever since a German field communications operator recorded the first one during World War I.

Helliwell said the research may make outer space regions, far beyond the limits of the known ionosphere, accessible to study by radio for the first time.

It is expected to test the theory of L.R.O. Storey of Cambridge University, England, that the whistlers, dispatched into the ionosphere from one of the earth's hemispheres, are deflected back to the other one by masses in outer space. Helliwell said there is some astronomical evidence to support existence of the outer space masses.

Dr. Helliwell discounted the possibility of the whistlers origin on another planet.

The scientist defined a whistler as "a message from outer space—actually a signal with a musical quality, picked up on receiving sets, and, from all known characteristics, produced by lightning discharges."

New Thread Fights Cancer

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9 (AP) — A method of killing cancer by weaving radioactive thread into the flesh of the diseased area was described here to the nation's X-ray specialists.

The thread is a hollow nylon tube about the diameter of a big darning needle. It holds tiny bits of radioactive substances such as radium, gold, cobalt or iridium, which give off X-rays that kill cancer cells faster than normal cells.

Many threads may be run through the cancer area, like darning thread through a sock. They are left in place a week or so, then pulled out.

This is a new and improved way of treating malignancy by implanting radioactive materials in the affected site. The common method is to use a hollow needle with bits of the materials inside it.

The nylon tube, which is flattened into the shape of a ribbon, is more easily handled, more comfortable for the patient, easily flexed to fit the diseased area and less dangerous to the physicians, said Dr. Ulrich K. Henschke of Ohio State University Medical School. He reported to the Radiological Society of North America.

San Marino, the enclave entirely surrounded by Italy, is a mere 23 square miles, but is Europe's oldest state, having been founded in the fourth century by St. Marinus as a haven from religious prosecution.

Soviet Expected To Offer Negotiations For Free Elections Throughout Germany

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The Soviet press leaves little doubt that Moscow's next move in its war against the Western European Union will be an offer to negotiate means of conducting free all-German elections.

A similar move can be expected on the Asian front, with a bid to negotiate means of unifying North and South Korea.

Both moves, which will have a surface look of reasonableness, will in reality have the aim of upsetting the Western timetable. Negotiations, no matter how reasonable the original offer might look, can be drawn out for as long as the Russians can persuade their opponents to keep talking.

The move with regard to Germany can be expected to be as dramatic as the Communists can make it, complete with fanfare and beating of drums. Hints in the Soviet press indicate the move will be made in this way:

The Moscow-controlled East German regime again will offer to talk with West German representatives on the future of all Germany. At the same time, propaganda will be started for yet another four-power meeting looking toward "peaceful solution of the German problem by means of preparation and conduct of all-German democratic elections," to use the Communists' words.

Parenthetically, the word "democratic" when employed by the Communists has little in common with the Western definition of the word.

The East German regime then will be told to suggest that of course, in all reasonableness, it would not expect the West Germans to consent to an election under strictly East German procedures. On the other hand, the Communists will probably say, it is no more than fair that the West Germans not expect the East regime to consent to an election strictly under Western procedures.

Thus, first of all, the question of how the elections are to be conducted must be negotiated. This in itself can be an endless affair. But meanwhile, erosion will be working against Western plans to integrate the West Germans into the defense system.

This spurt of apparent Communist reasonableness probably will will have to follow quickly upon the belligerent threats issued by the East in the Moscow "collective security conference" of the Communist states. The threats were blunt: If the Paris agreements on formation of the Western defense bloc were ratified by France and Germany, there would, first, be no more chance of reunifying the Germans, and, second, there would be a division of Europe into two camps armed to the teeth and likely to clash in a bloody war.

On the Far Eastern front, the Russians seem to be cooking up another kettle of propaganda broth involving the so-called neutral states of Asia. The West again would be asked to negotiate some formula under which neutral states could preside over plans to reunify Korea. Once again, the negotiations could be endless, but Moscow can score a propaganda victory in the role of prime mover for peace.

The Moscow-controlled East German regime again will offer to talk with West German representatives on the future of all Germany. At the same time, propaganda will be started for yet another four-power meeting looking toward "peaceful solution of the German problem by means of preparation and conduct of all-German democratic elections," to use the Communists' words.

Parenthetically, the word "democratic" when employed by the Communists has little in common with the Western definition of the word.

The East German regime then will be told to suggest that of course, in all reasonableness, it would not expect the West Germans to consent to an election under strictly East German procedures. On the other hand, the Communists will probably say, it is no more than fair that the West Germans not expect the East regime to consent to an election strictly under Western procedures.

Thus, first of all, the question of how the elections are to be conducted must be negotiated. This in itself can be an endless affair. But meanwhile, erosion will be working against Western plans to integrate the West Germans into the defense system.

This spurt of apparent Communist reasonableness probably will will have to follow quickly upon the belligerent threats issued by the East in the Moscow "collective security conference" of the Communist states. The threats were blunt: If the Paris agreements on formation of the Western defense bloc were ratified by France and Germany, there would, first, be no more chance of reunifying the Germans, and, second, there would be a division of Europe into two camps armed to the teeth and likely to clash in a bloody war.

On the Far Eastern front, the Russians seem to be cooking up another kettle of propaganda broth involving the so-called neutral states of Asia. The West again would be asked to negotiate some formula under which neutral states could preside over plans to reunify Korea. Once again, the negotiations could be endless, but Moscow can score a propaganda victory in the role of prime mover for peace.

Henderson To Become Chief Circuit Judge

George Henderson, an associate judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit comprising Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties since 1946, will be the new chief judge of the circuit as a result of the death Wednesday night of Chief Judge Joseph D. Mish in Hagerstown.

Judge Henderson takes over the chief judgeship on the basis of seniority. The only other judges in the circuit are Associate Judges Morgan C. Harris, who was elected in 1950, and Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley of Garrett County, who was appointed this week by the Governor to the new judgeship in that county under a constitutional amendment approved in the last general election.

Judge Henderson is a native of Cumberland and a son of the late Robert R. Henderson, who was also a judge of the Circuit Court here, and Mrs. Louisa Patterson Henderson. His mother was fatally injured in a car crash several years ago near Hagerstown and the judge was badly injured.

Judge Henderson is a graduate of the old Allegany County Academy, which occupied the present Cumberland Free Public Library building across from the Court House. He is also a graduate of Princeton University.

During World War I he served with the Army on the Mexican border and for several years during World War II was commandant at Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Blacksburg with the rank of colonel.

In 1932 he was elected mayor of the City of Cumberland and served two years. After completing his World War II service he returned here and was elected an associate judge of the Circuit Court in 1946. Judge Henderson is married to the former Joan Packard of Philadelphia. He has two sisters, Mrs. Sidney Green of Bowling Green, and Mrs. Thomas L. Pierce, of Providence, R. I.

Judge Henderson's family was among the pioneer settlers of Allegany County and his mother was a descendant of Col. Thomas Cresap, Revolutionary War hero and one of the first white men to settle in Western Maryland.

Judge Henderson and Judge Morgan C. Harris will attend funeral services for Judge Mish at Hagerstown tomorrow at 11 a. m. at the Episcopal Church on Prospect Square.

Mishap Victims Are Improving

The husband and five-year-old son of a former local woman who was killed November 28 in an auto crash near Lexington, Va., were reported improving yesterday.

Robert Andrew Patterson, 26, Alco, Tenn., husband of the late Edna Mary Patterson whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Herath, 609 Columbia Avenue, is a patient in Stonewall Jackson Hospital, Lexington.

His son, Robert, was admitted to Crippled Children's Hospital, Roanoke, Va., following the accident which also claimed the lives of two other children of the Pattersons.

Mrs. Herath said Patterson was able to talk with relatives Monday, and that the boy took nourishment by mouth. She stated that the father expects to be transferred to Crippled Children's Hospital later this week.

When the tragedy occurred, the Pattersons were en route to their home after spending the Thanksgiving holiday in Cumberland.

Services for the three victims were held here December 2.

Henderson To Become Chief Circuit Judge

George Henderson, an associate judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit comprising Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties since 1946, will be the new chief judge of the circuit as a result of the death Wednesday night of Chief Judge Joseph D. Mish in Hagerstown.

Judge Henderson takes over the chief judgeship on the basis of seniority. The only other judges in the circuit are Associate Judges Morgan C. Harris, who was elected in 1950, and Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley of Garrett County, who was appointed this week by the Governor to the new judgeship in that county under a constitutional amendment approved in the last general election.

Judge Henderson is a native of Cumberland and a son of the late Robert R. Henderson, who was also a judge of the Circuit Court here, and Mrs. Louisa Patterson Henderson. His mother was fatally injured in a car crash several years ago near Hagerstown and the judge was badly injured.

Judge Henderson is a graduate of the old Allegany County Academy, which occupied the present Cumberland Free Public Library building across from the Court House. He is also a graduate of Princeton University.

During World War I he served with the Army on the Mexican border and for several years during World War II was commandant at Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Blacksburg with the rank of colonel.

In 1932 he was elected mayor of the City of Cumberland and served two years. After completing his World War II service he returned here and was elected an associate judge of the Circuit Court in 1946. Judge Henderson is married to the former Joan Packard of Philadelphia. Where Will GOP Senate Leader Knowland Be During Next Two Years As Republican Party Apparently Faces A Severe Split?

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—One day last week, in the fury of the McCarthy censure debate, a big, brawny man in a too-tight suit shouldered his way into the Senate chamber, plopped down in a front row center seat and cast a gloomy, apprehensive eye at the clock over the vice president's head.

He fidgeted a bit. He paid no apparent attention to the acid flow of speechmaking. Another senator whispered in his ear. The big man's frown deepened. A page scurried over with a note. The big man glanced at it, reared to his feet, hurried off the floor.

Looking down from the press gallery, a correspondent murmured:

"Young man in a hurry. But where's he going?"

Where, indeed, was and is big Bill Knowland going with that air of carrying the world on his husky shoulders?

One thing was sure: William Fife Knowland, Republican leader of the Senate, was not going straight down the line for the Eisenhower administration in the next session of Congress. Not, at least, in foreign policy, a subject bound to play a dominant role in the next two years.

Not just once but repeatedly in the past few months Knowland has differed with the administration on policy toward the Communists, blasting the "peaceful coexistence" theory, calling for a blockade of Red China, urging a break in relations with the Soviet Union.

Then last week came another test of party unity. Twenty-two predominantly pro-Eisenhower Senate Republicans voted for an official rebuke to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Bill Knowland registered a loud, reverberating "No!" and 21 other Republicans, mostly followers of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, voted no with him.

Was it a GOP split? To some extent, undoubtedly. Just how much was widely debated. Did it mean a parting of ways between Knowland and the administration? Were his days numbered as GOP leader in the upcoming Democratic-controlled Senate? Not if Bill Knowland had anything to say about it — and he had a lot to say.

This man who said no to Eisenhower is a formidably energetic Californian who stands a hair under 6 feet 1 and weighs just short of 200 pounds. He is 46 years old but, despite networks of worry lines in his ruddy face, he looks younger. People are always surprised to learn he is a grandfather.

Knowland seems never to rest. He breezes into a room, does what he has to do, glancing frequently at the clock, and scurries out again. He always seems on the verge of being late for an appointment.

If he is blunt — and he sometimes is — he also has a courtliness about him. If he is serious — and his manner usually ranges between deep concern and high anxiety — he has a humorous streak.

His absorption in public affairs and his own career leaves him no time for hobbies. A Methodist, he does not smoke and takes only an occasional drink. He and Mrs. Knowland, who writes mystery stories on the side, attend the official functions where they're expected, but avoid any gay social life.

Knowland was born to politics. His father Joseph R. Knowland, publisher of the Oakland Tribune, served in the House of Representatives and has long been influential in Republican affairs. The family has personal and political ties with Earl Warren, former governor of California and now chief justice of the United States.

At 16 young Bill Knowland headed the local finance committee for Coolidge and Dawes in his native Alameda.

He married at 18, while a sophomore at the University of California, and was a father at 20. His attractive, brown-haired wife, former Helen D. Herrick, says laughingly she had to grab him young or he'd have got away.

Knowland kept right on establishing "youngest man" records.

At 25 he was the youngest ever elected to the California State Assembly, at 27 he achieved the same distinction in the State Senate.

By then assistant publisher of the family newspaper, a post he still holds, he became a member of the Republican National Committee in 1938 and soon was chairman of its Executive Committee. Here too, at 33, he was the youngest man to hold the post.

In World War II he enlisted as an Army private, rose to major in the historical section. In Europe one day in 1945 he read a Stars and Stripes item that couldn't have come as too much of a surprise: Warren had appointed him to the U.S. Senate to succeed the late Hiram W. Johnson. He was then 37 — the youngest U.S. senator.

He won election to the remainder of Johnson's term the following year. Then, six years later, he piled up the biggest vote of any candidate for anything in California history — 3,982,448 to 569,992 for re-election.

Already he'd been talked about as a future presidential possibility. It was taken for granted at the Republican National Convention in 1952 he could have had the vice-presidential nomination if he'd shown any interest.

He didn't, though, perhaps on the theory that the vice presidency often proved a dead end. So his fellow Californian Richard M. Nixon got the nomination — and there are no signs that it is a dead

Solons Shy Away From McCarthy After His Attack On President

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Almost simultaneously with Sen. McCarthy's attack on President Eisenhower you could see his Senate associates pulling their robes tightly about them and moving away from him.

Men like Sen. Knowland, who only a few days ago were trying to protect McCarthy from the censure charges brought by a Senate committee, refused to go along with him in his latest outburst.

He had made an open break with the administration, and Chairman Hall's comment that he had made a serious mistake extended that break to the Republican National Committee. McCarthy was breasting a tide which he had created himself, and which few of even the most extreme right-wingers of the party cared to face.

As for the Democrats, they were merely acting as coat-holders, obviously pleased with their position of "Let's you and him fight."

You could search McCarthy's record without finding any sure clue to just what he expected to gain, if anything. Political observers looked for a long-range motive but achieved only speculation.

There were some suggestions that he had launched an active campaign to seize the leadership of the Old Guard and through it the 1956 presidential nomination. There was even talk that he was trying to launch a new Bull Moose movement.

The history of such movements carries too much weight against such aspirations.

McCarthy himself retired from the battlefield after the one shot and was not available for amplification, beyond the statement that he was not "interested at the present time" in a third party movement. The inference was immediately drawn that he would consider that if those with whom he disagrees tried to push him too far below the surface.

Considering all the circumstances, many observers were inclined to believe that the Senator, rankling under the Senate's censure, couldn't stand still when the President praised Sen. Watkins' conduct of the prosecution. It was a type of counterattack which the senator has often used, and may not necessarily have been inspired by anything except that he felt himself abused.

At any rate, a situation which has been boiling under the surface of the Republican party is now clear cut.

The President still declines to wrestle personally with McCarthy. But word of his antipathy for the senator has been spread throughout Washington by his closest associates.

McCarthy, who previously has criticized the administration but not the President, has now laid his feelings hotly on the line. He has succeeded, in one way, in establishing himself as a figure who openly challenges the President of the United States. You could find a lot of people this week to argue that in his battle with Eisenhower he would turn out a David without a sling.

Store Manager Cites Progress Of Glass Plant

Maiden Addresses Optimist Club

Frank Maiden, manager of the local Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company branch store, gave some interesting facts at a Optimist Club dinner meeting recently concerning the firm and also the new multi-million dollar plant which will be built here starting next spring.

Maiden said Pittsburgh Plate Glass became large and important when it purchased five other plate glass companies in the United States following the depression in 1895. It has since expanded into related industries such as paint, window glass, linseed oil, brushes, coloring, varnish, and chemicals.

Modern Plant

No bottle or tube glass products are made by the company.

Touching on the new $34,000,000 plant to be built here (which will be the most modern and only one of its kind in the world) Maiden said Cumberland has the necessary facilities such as sand, water, gas, electricity, labor, transportation, lumber and nearby markets.

The new industry will greatly increase the income of Cumberland, he said, not only from plant payrolls but also from related businesses. Within a few years after the plant is placed in operation employment should reach "several thousand", Maiden said.

Continuous Operation

The new factory will be a continuous operation with three eight-hour shifts, he pointed out. The glass flows from the furnace in a river of glass and the temperature necessary to melt the sand is 3,600 degrees Fahrenheit and then the molten mass is cooled by chemicals to 2,800 degrees. Gas will be used to heat the glass ingredients.

The glass ingredients will be placed in an oven 150 feet long and the heat is regulated hotter and hotter as the materials progress through the oven.

Maiden said most of the labor in the new plant will be men due to the weight and size of the plate glass to be handled. The Cumberland area will provide all employes except for key personnel and skilled glass engineers.

January Jury Panel To Be Drawn Tuesday

The grand jury term opens January 3 with the charge to the grand jury. So far there are few major cases listed for the criminal court.

Schools Plan Turkey Menu For Yule

It will be turkey for Christmas dinners in Allegany County public school cafeterias.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, said nearly three tons of the fowl have been purchased for the annual Yule treat.

He said the Swift and Company will supply the school lunch system with 5,500 pounds of turkey after submitting the lowest of bids received from a number of firms.

Mrs. Gladys M. Eaton, supervisor of cafeterias for the Board of Education, said in preparation for the big meal school cafeteria managers and some head cooks will meet Saturday at 10 a. m. at the board office on Washington Street.

The side dishes along with the roast turkey will be mashed potatoes, gravy, sauerkraut at some schools, molded cranberry salad and other trimmings, she said.

Some schools will have their Yule meals on Tuesday, December 21, and some on Wednesday, December 22, the day schools are recessed for the Christmas holidays.

There will be no extra charge for the meal.

War Memorial Expense Cited

The cost of installing new memorial honor rolls of Allegany County war dead in the Post office building totaled $750, according to Thomas F. Conlon, chairman.

Conlon said area residents have been sent letters asking for contributions to defray expenses.

Four plaques containing the names of 574 fallen heroes of World Wars I and II and the Korean conflict were dedicated at a Veterans' Day ceremony November 11.

Conlon stated the plaques were purchased for $45 each while name cards were installed for 65 cents apiece.

Pointing out that a constant correction of errors or omissions is being conducted by the war memorial committee, he urged that relatives of men killed in service contact him so the task can be completed.

Established in 1944, the honor roll was moved from City Hall last month to make way for improvements.

Maiden Addresses Optimist Club

Frank Maiden, manager of the local Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company branch store, gave some interesting facts at a Optimist Club dinner meeting recently concerning the firm and also the new multi-million dollar plant which will be built here starting next spring.

Maiden said Pittsburgh Plate Glass became large and important when it purchased five other plate glass companies in the United States following the depression in 1895. It has since expanded into related industries such as paint, window glass, linseed oil, brushes, coloring, varnish, and chemicals.

Modern Plant

No bottle or tube glass products are made by the company.

Touching on the new $34,000,000 plant to be built here (which will be the most modern and only one of its kind in the world) Maiden said Cumberland has the necessary facilities such as sand, water, gas, electricity, labor, transportation, lumber and nearby markets.

The new industry will greatly increase the income of Cumberland, he said, not only from plant payrolls but also from related businesses. Within a few years after the plant is placed in operation employment should reach "several thousand", Maiden said.

Continuous Operation

The new factory will be a continuous operation with three eight-hour shifts, he pointed out. The glass flows from the furnace in a river of glass and the temperature necessary to melt the sand is 3,600 degrees Fahrenheit and then the molten mass is cooled by chemicals to 2,800 degrees. Gas will be used to heat the glass ingredients.

The glass ingredients will be placed in an oven 150 feet long and the heat is regulated hotter and hotter as the materials progress through the oven.

Maiden said most of the labor in the new plant will be men due to the weight and size of the plate glass to be handled. The Cumberland area will provide all employes except for key personnel and skilled glass engineers.

January Jury Panel To Be Drawn Tuesday

The grand and petit juries for the January term of Circuit Court will be drawn Tuesday at 9:15 a. m. at the Court House here with Judge George Henderson presiding.

The grand jury term opens January 3 with the charge to the grand jury. So far there are few major cases listed for the criminal court.

Schools Plan Turkey Menu For Yule

It will be turkey for Christmas dinners in Allegany County public school cafeterias.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, said nearly three tons of the fowl have been purchased for the annual Yule treat.

He said the Swift and Company will supply the school lunch system with 5,500 pounds of turkey after submitting the lowest of bids received from a number of firms.

Mrs. Gladys M. Eaton, supervisor of cafeterias for the Board of Education, said in preparation for the big meal school cafeteria managers and some head cooks will meet Saturday at 10 a. m. at the board office on Washington Street.

The side dishes along with the roast turkey will be mashed potatoes, gravy, sauerkraut at some schools, molded cranberry salad and other trimmings, she said.

Some schools will have their Yule meals on Tuesday, December 21, and some on Wednesday, December 22, the day schools are recessed for the Christmas holidays.

There will be no extra charge for the meal.

War Memorial Expense Cited

The cost of installing new memorial honor rolls of Allegany County war dead in the Post office building totaled $750, according to Thomas F. Conlon, chairman.

Conlon said area residents have been sent letters asking for contributions to defray expenses.

Four plaques containing the names of 574 fallen heroes of World Wars I and II and the Korean conflict were dedicated at a Veterans' Day ceremony November 11.

Conlon stated the plaques were purchased for $45 each while name cards were installed for 65 cents apiece.

Pointing out that a constant correction of errors or omissions is being conducted by the war memorial committee, he urged that relatives of men killed in service contact him so the task can be completed.

Established in 1944, the honor roll was moved from City Hall last month to make way for improvements.

Social Security:

New Law Provides Top Monthly Payments Up To $200 For Family Of Worker Who Is Dead

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—The new social security law will provide a top monthly payment up to $162.80 for a retired worker and his wife, and up to $200 monthly for the family of a deceased worker.

That's a pretty far cry from the maximum of $62.40 for a worker and his wife, and $85 for a family, set up when payments under the system started almost 15 years ago.

There were no changes in the formula for benefits for the first 10 years after monthly benefits began in 1940, but there have been three increases over the past five years.

Although parts of the 1954 law already have gone into effect, it will be July 1956 before anybody will get the new maximum payments. That's because you must work under the new benefit formula, which takes effect Jan. 1, for at least 11 months to get the top payment.

To understand the new benefits, you must first understand that all social security payments are based upon average monthly earnings of the worker covered by the system. For those becoming eligible for benefits in the future, the starting date for computing this average is set by law at Jan. 1, 1951, or when they reached age 22 — whichever is later. So you figure your average monthly earnings after that date.

The new law increases future benefits in three ways:

First, after you have more than 18 months coverage under the system after June 1953, you may drop out some of your lowest income months in figuring your monthly average. But you have to keep 18 months to figure your average. If you have up to 5½ years coverage, you may drop out up to four years. If you have 6½ years coverage or more, you may drop out five years —the maximum "drop out." By eliminating some low-income periods, you increase your monthly average and thus boost your benefits.

Second, the new law raises the annual earnings base, on which benefits are figured and taxes are paid, from $3,600 to $4,200. Thus in figuring your average earnings after next Jan. 1 you can count up to $350 a month, instead of only $300 as under the old law.

(At the 2 per cent tax rate for employes, this also means you pay up to $12 a year more than you would have paid under the old law. Self-employed persons who make $4,200 or more will pay $18 a year more. Their tax rate is 3 per cent.)

Third, the new law creates a new benefit formula to be applied to average monthly earnings figured under the first two steps.

For a single retired worker, monthly benefits will be 55 per cent of the first $110 of average monthly earnings plus 20 per cent of the remainder, up to the maximum base of $350.

The old law paid out 55 per cent of the first $100, plus 15 per cent of the remainder up to the old maximum base of $300.

The formula is weighted to give the biggest return to lower income groups.

The formula determines only the payment to a single retired worker, called the "primary insurance amount." A wife or dependent husband 65 or over gets an additional one half of the primary amount due the worker.

A dependent child under 18 also gets one half the primary amount.

If a worker dies before becoming eligible for retirement benefits, an aged widow or widower gets three fourths the primary insurance amount. A widow under 65 gets this amount so long as she has dependent children under 18.

If there is one dependent child, the child also gets three fourths the primary amount. If more than one child is eligible, each child gets one half the primary amount; and in addition, one fourth the primary amount is divided into equal shares for each child.

The maximum for any one family, however, is set at $200 under the new law. It used to be $168.80 but family benefits may not exceed 80 per cent of the average monthly earnings on which they are based. Applying this provision, however, cannot reduce family benefits below $50, or 1½ times the primary insurance amount, whichever is larger.

The minimum monthly benefit for any one beneficiary is raised from $25 to $30.

Upon death of an insured worker, survivors also get a lump-sum payment of three times the primary insurance amount, up to a maximum of $255.

Persons who already were on benefit rolls get the same increases as if the new formula were applied to their old earnings records. But they can't benefit from the new "drop-out" provision or the increase in the earnings base. These current increases took effect in October checks.

New Law Provides Top Monthly Payments Up To $200 For Family Of Worker Who Is Dead

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—The new social security law will provide a top monthly payment up to $162.80 for a retired worker and his wife, and up to $200 monthly for the family of a deceased worker.

That's a pretty far cry from the maximum of $62.40 for a worker and his wife, and $85 for a family, set up when payments under the system started almost 15 years ago.

There were no changes in the formula for benefits for the first 10 years after monthly benefits began in 1940, but there have been three increases over the past five years.

Although parts of the 1954 law already have gone into effect, it will be July 1956 before anybody will get the new maximum payments. That's because you must work under the new benefit formula, which takes effect Jan. 1, for at least 11 months to get the top payment.

To understand the new benefits, you must first understand that all social security payments are based upon average monthly earnings of the worker covered by the system. For those becoming eligible for benefits in the future, the starting date for computing this average is set by law at Jan. 1, 1951, or when they reached age 22 — whichever is later. So you figure your average monthly earnings after that date.

The new law increases future benefits in three ways:

First, after you have more than 18 months coverage under the system after June 1953, you may drop out some of your lowest income months in figuring your monthly average. But you have to keep 18 months to figure your average. If you have up to 5½ years coverage, you may drop out up to four years. If you have 6½ years coverage or more, you may drop out five years —the maximum "drop out." By eliminating some low-income periods, you increase your monthly average and thus boost your benefits.

Second, the new law raises the annual earnings base, on which benefits are figured and taxes are paid, from $3,600 to $4,200. Thus in figuring your average earnings after next Jan. 1 you can count up to $350 a month, instead of only $300 as under the old law.

(At the 2 per cent tax rate for employes, this also means you pay up to $12 a year more than you would have paid under the old law. Self-employed persons who make $4,200 or more will pay $18 a year more. Their tax rate is 3 per cent.)

Third, the new law creates a new benefit formula to be applied to average monthly earnings figured under the first two steps.

For a single retired worker, monthly benefits will be 55 per cent of the first $110 of average monthly earnings plus 20 per cent of the remainder, up to the maximum base of $350.

The old law paid out 55 per cent of the first $100, plus 15 per cent of the remainder up to the old maximum base of $300.

The formula is weighted to give the biggest return to lower income groups.

The formula determines only the payment to a single retired worker, called the "primary insurance amount." A wife or dependent husband 65 or over gets an additional one half of the primary amount due the worker.

A dependent child under 18 also gets one half the primary amount.

If a worker dies before becoming eligible for retirement benefits, an aged widow or widower gets three fourths the primary insurance amount. A widow under 65 gets this amount so long as she has dependent children under 18.

If there is one dependent child, the child also gets three fourths the primary amount. If more than one child is eligible, each child gets one half the primary amount; and in addition, one fourth the primary amount is divided into equal shares for each child.

The maximum for any one family, however, is set at $200 under the new law. It used to be $168.80 but family benefits may not exceed 80 per cent of the average monthly earnings on which they are based. Applying this provision, however, cannot reduce family benefits below $50, or 1½ times the primary insurance amount, whichever is larger.

The minimum monthly benefit for any one beneficiary is raised from $25 to $30.

Upon death of an insured worker, survivors also get a lump-sum payment of three times the primary insurance amount, up to a maximum of $255.

Persons who already were on benefit rolls get the same increases as if the new formula were applied to their old earnings records. But they can't benefit from the new "drop-out" provision or the increase in the earnings base. These current increases took effect in October checks.

Ground Observer Corps Will Attend Yule Party

All members of Cumberland's Ground Observer Corps have been issued invitations to a Christmas party at Trinity Lutheran Church, corner of Centre and Smith streets, Saturday, December 18 at 8 p. m.

Announcement of the event is contained in the latest edition of "Allegany Sky-Scope," official publication of the county GOC.

A new flag has been donated to the Frostburg outpost by County Commissioners William H. Lemmert and James Orr.

Appointment of Rev. Carl Johnson Jr., as daily supervisor at Cumberland has been announced. He replaced Norman Pliner who was transferred by Celanese Corporation of America to Charlotte, N. C.

Another daily supervisor appointment is David M. Taylor for the Bedford Road outpost replacing Mrs. Eula Mortzfeldt who will continue her job as post statistician.

The 800 observers trained in the county since 1949 recently received letters of thanks from President Eisenhower.

Welfare Board Has Waiting List For Aid

The Allegany County Welfare Board has had a waiting list of persons seeking assistance since last July, according to Mrs. Elinor M. Westerfeld, director.

Mrs. Westerfeld made the observation while commenting on the report that Gov. McKeldin will ask the General Assembly for a $250,000 deficit appropriation to take care of an "ominous increase" in the number of persons on relief. The governor said if the attorney general agrees it's legal he will make the request of the Legislature.

Each month there have been 25 to 30 persons on the waiting list due to the lack of funds to grant them assistance, Mrs. Westerfeld said.

The relief category affected the most of aid to dependent children, she pointed out. As an example she said there are children whose parents are divorced who received part of their care from funds paid by the father under court order. When the father loses his job, or his unemployment compensation runs out then he is unable to make payments for the children's support. The Welfare Board does not have sufficient funds to increase the usual payments for children affected by such a situation.

Gov. McKeldin told the State Department of Public Welfare he is "in sympathy" with the need for more public assistance funds. Thomas J. S. Waxter, head of the department, said $450,000 was spent by the department during November on relief to the aged, needy, blind, disabled and unemployed. This has cut the balance of remaining funds to a point where only $427,000 could be spent monthly from January through June.

If further cuts are necessary, he said, the waiting list might grow.

Clinics Set Today

Tickets can be secured from H. P. Aldridge and J. W. Kreidler, Celanese; W. L. Schack and Duff, Kelly-Springfield; P. R. Morgan, Allegany Ballistics, and C. S. Vandegrfit and G. P. Bohn.

RACETRACK LOSES MONEY

PENANG, Malaya (AP) — For Malaya this is really news — when a racetrack loses money.

President Ong Huck Lim of the Penang Turf Club reported a loss of 43,633 Malayan dollars for 1954. "This deficit," says Lim "is due to the general trade recession which, unfortunately, is still with us."

RACETRACK LOSES MONEY

PENANG, Malaya (AP) — For Malaya this is really news — when a racetrack loses money.

President Ong Huck Lim of the Penang Turf Club reported a loss of 43,633 Malayan dollars for 1954. "This deficit," says Lim "is due to the general trade recession which, unfortunately, is still with us."

end for him. No discussion of GOP presidential possibilities today leaves out Knowland and Nixon.

With the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket elected, Knowland made no secret of his ambition to succeed Taft as Republican leader in the Senate. When Taft's health failed, the Ohioan turned over the reins "temporarily" to Knowland. On Taft's death, Knowland pressed for an early showdown and won the leadership in his own right with little or no difficulty.

In domestic affairs Knowland has followed the administration about 90 per cent of the time, though he didn't hesitate to challenge the White House on occasion —when, for instance, the President proposed channeling defense contracts to high unemployment areas.

In foreign policy, it has been a different story. Knowland's keenest interest has been the Far East —he still shrugs off the nickname, "the senator from Formosa" — but gradually it has become clear he differs with the administration on the whole approach to dealing with the Communists.

Knowland himself says this conflict isn't as wide as some like to make it appear. He said in a recent interview the Republican party is big enough to tolerate differing views.

Eisenhower has sought to keep the gap from widening. The President told a news conference last week the difference is in method, not in principle.

The Mine Hunters Have A Problem

In the history of naval warfare possibly no single weapon has caused more trouble or worry than the submerged mine. Other "absolute" weapons—submarines, homing torpedoes, and the like—have had their teeth drawn to a large extent by scientific counter-measures or by revolutionary changes in tactics. Still the mine fails to be entirely defanged.

The Navy is moving in on the "pressure" mine with a new type of ship—a mine hunter. It takes this extreme design and construction effort, apparently, because this weapon continues to be one of the most diabolically clever in the entire arsenal.

Pressure mines, which are detonated by changes in water pressure on a sensitive diaphragm, were an invention of the Germans, and the device was one of the war prizes which the Russians were to grab. It can be taught to count—that is, a timing device will explode it after, say, seven ships have passed overhead. It can be fixed to lie quietly in a channel for days or weeks, and then come alive and deadly on a certain day.

Meanwhile, a seaport, for example, might have been set up to handle vast amounts of traffic. The sudden appearance of mines would close it down at once.

Pressure mines are virtually unsweepable, which sets them apart from the general family of moored mines. Thus counter strategy must be set up to fool the mine. If a current could be created which simulated the passage of a ship the mine would react in the way it was built to do.

Whether the Navy has succeeded in designing and building equipment which will "fool" pressure mines is a secret. But new ships are being crammed with electronic devices, and it may be that they have the answer. The shallow waters of European coastlines are ideally adapted to the use of pressure mines. The reason for the zeal and seriousness of the Navy's search for new types of ships and counter-weapons is obvious.

Twilight Of The Republicans

The McCarthy censure being over, it is possible to see some of the effects of it in perspective. The Republican party is again split between the traditionalists and the compromisers. The latter prefer to call themselves middle-of-the-roaders. The traditionalists are Republicans who believe that a two-party system is beneficial to the country and that each party must have a clear-cut and distinctive program, so that by debates in Congress, the people can be kept informed on public issues. With variations, this struggle has been continuous since the split between Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft which culminated in Taft's defeat in 1912.

In the McCarthy censure, the traditionalists showed a strength of 22 votes, excluding McCarthy who did not vote; the compromisers had 22 votes excluding Senator Wiley who went to Rio for the occasion. On appearances, this vote had to do with Joe McCarthy; basically, it was a question of the control of the Republican party and on that issue, the party split right down the middle, evenly balanced. An identical split exists in the Republican National Committee. It exists in many states.

For instance, in New York State, the Dewey element is seeking to recover from its defeat at the last election. In terms of party organization, it is not possible to say that the Dewey control is already vitiated but new leadership is forming and it is traditionalist leadership.

On a local level, the great White House statesmen, Paul Hoffman and John J. McCloy, mean nothing. What does count is that an election has been lost and that appointments and jobs go to the Democrats. The White House cannot help in any of these situations, unless it stepped in to rebuild state organizations, poured patronage on heavily, and built a new organization which would be resisted by most Republicans. This has been tried by the various Eisenhower clubs, which consist mostly of former New Dealers who now prefer Eisenhower to the Democrats.

During the first half of the Eisenhower administration, professional Republicans who were dissatisfied blamed the White House staff, particularly Sherman Adams who acts as a chief-of-staff, as though the White House were an army general staff. They blamed C. D. Jackson who was an administrative assistant dealing with psychological warfare. Then they blamed Max Rabb, an administrative assistant who has risen rapidly to a newly-created position, secretary to the cabinet. The nthey blamed numerous "old friends" of the President, Paul Hoffman, John J. McCloy, General Lucius Clay, and even Dr. Milton Eisenhower.

Blame whomsoever they may, the issue could not be dodged that important Republicans have grown increasingly irked by their relations with the President. Never before in our history have the leaders of a political party found their accesses to a President—a member of their own party—so blocked that it practically always lacks privacy. This one factor is the most discussed by Republicans. They cannot reach the President's mind. To it, they attribute their defeat in the 1954 campaign.

The present split will not heal readily. It is too fundamental. It involves too many strong personalities. Whether any of those Republican leaders will join in a new party will depend upon whether President Eisenhower will be a candidate in 1956. The new party movement is spreading but has not jelled. At present, it lacks leadership. Its amateurish character was displayed at the Madison Square Garden rally for Senator McCarthy, the arrangements for which were inadequate for the occasion. It is not likely that a new party can find political professionals to join it before 1956.

As long as the traditionalists believe that in state and local politics they can hold their own, they will remain in the Republican party but they will oppose President Eisenhower as though he were of the opposite party. While this condition exists, the Senate, in particular, will be in turmoil. The traditionalists have as their leader, Senator William Knowland. The compromisers have no leadership in the Senate of equal stature. Senator Leverett Saltonstall, who is often mentioned as Senate leader, will not be able to effect a union between the two groups. The only man who might have been able to do that is dead.

Justice Department Plans To Proceed In Prosecution Of Kansas City Star

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — When the Kansas City Star and its publisher, Roy Roberts, were indicted criminally during the closing days of the Truman administration, almost everyone in politics figured this was one indictment which wouldn't last long when the Eisenhower administration took over.

For it was big, burly Roy Roberts who was among the first to urge Ike for president, and who advised with him during the pre-convention draft-Ike campaign. Furthermore, Roberts, though under indictment, has been a frequent caller at the White House, has been frequently invited to the intimate stag dinners the President gives to a chosen few.

However, two years have now passed and not only has the indictment against the publisher of the Kansas City Star not been dropped, but the Justice Department plans to begin prosecution early next year.

Thereby hangs a significant story.

The man now in charge of the Justice Department's Anti-Trust Division, Stanley Barnes, a California Republican of the Chief Justice Earl Warren school of political thinking, has turned out to be one of the most forthright members of the Eisenhower administration. He has also turned out to be just as tough on big business and on monopoly as any member of the Roosevelt-Truman administration, even perhaps including famed trust-buster Thurman Arnold.

It's significant that Judge Barnes, a former California state judge, is not playing any political favorites. A close study of the case has convinced him that it was by no means a political indictment brought as a result of rivalry between Harry Truman and Roy Roberts; but rather a bona fide case involving freedom of the press and the right of people in Kansas City to advertise where they please, not where Roy Roberts wanted them to advertise.

So he's proceeding with the prosecution.

Revising The Numbers Game

White House advisers aren't publishing it, but they have been busy on a new security program which will head off the Democratic probe of the so-called "numbers game."

This is the game in which Vice President Nixon, Attorney General Brownell, and other GOP campaign speakers have claimed Republicans cleaned out Democratic security risks which menaced the government.

The Democrats deny this. And to prove their case, Sen. Olin Johnston of South Carolina, chairman-to-be of the Civil Service Committee, plans a sweeping probe of Republican firings. He believes he can prove that one-half the security risks were hired by Republicans.

To head off this probe, Eisenhower has referred the whole problem to the National Security Council which has already prepared top secret report No. 5437/1 which will not be made public for some time. However, it can be revealed that the report recommends giving a far better break to security risks, plus a standardized procedure for all government agencies, instead of the hit-and-miss divergent systems of firing personnel.

White House advisers are even considering a plan to help the accused pay the cost of defending himself, or else making the cost of defense cheaper. In the past, men like Val Lorwin, one of the State Department officials charged by McCarthy with being a Communist, had to raise money from friends to carry on his fight. Though indicated, the Justice Department finally went into court after four long years and asked that the indictment be dismissed on the ground that it had no case.

Similarly, Abraham Chasanow, the Navy clerk suspended for one year as a security risk with no charge placed against him, finally was given an official apology by the assistant secretary of the navy and restored to his job. Chasanow had no funds, but his attorney, Joe Fanelli, defended him as a public service.

White House advisers also propose separating bona fide security risks from heavy drinkers, loose talkers, and misfits, hitherto all linked with loyalty cases as security risks.

"Democratic Security Risk"

Here is an illustration of a security risk fired by the Republicans and lumped in the imposing total of alleged "Democratic risks" cleaned out of government. He is John H. MacVey, hired by the Federal Communications Commission on February 19, 1954, one year and one month after Ike entered office, and one month and eight days after MacVey was released from Gallinger Hospital where he was committed December 27, 1953, by the D. C. commissioner of mental health for what was later called a "psychotic episode."

The records of the District of Columbia show that he previously cause of alcohol. In each case he had two brushes with the law beforfeited bond.

He had Republican friends in high places, however, among them his father, a Republican leader in St. Lawrence County, New York, who intervened with the state and county GOP committees. Accordingly, MacVey's appointment was recommended by the Republican National Committee in Washington and he was hired by Rosel Hyde, a Republican, and chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.

Hyde, together with two strong McCarthy friends, Robert E. Lee and John Doerfer of Wisconsin, now dominate the FCC.

Despite his record, MacVey was placed in one of the most strategic spots in the entire FCC, in the review section, where he passed upon TV and radio licenses.

Eight months after MacVey was hired, he was "terminated," October 20, and was lumped among the so-called Democratic "security risks" which Republican campaigners claim they have purged from government.

Doubts May Arise As To Justice Of McCarthy Case

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Long after the tumult of these years has died away and those who are impassioned now in their dislike of one senator have passed from the scene, there will be doubts expressed whether the so-called "censure" case against Senator McCarthy was handled by the United States Senate in a judicial manner, and whether indeed the basic principles of justice in the American system were not violated.

The Supreme Court of the United States 30 days ago handed down a decision which was not reported in the newspapers generally because it concerned a matter hardly of national news importance at the time. But the viewpoint then expressed by Justice Frankfurter in behalf of the majority of the Supreme Court applies by analogy to the attempt to impose last week what amounts to a legal censure in the Senate—a punishment which was abandoned finally in favor of an expression of opinion by the Senate known as "condemnation."

The Senate proceedings, however, were conducted throughout on the basis of a "censure" charge. There had been much talk about the "judicial manner" in which the problem was handled by members of the Senate known as the Watkins Committee. Also President Eisenhower thought so much of the work of that committee that last week he singled out its chairman for special praise, and extended it publicly.

Unrelated To Sensibilities

The Supreme Court dealt with the principle when it reversed last month a case against a lawyer who had been charged by the judge with contempt because of harsh language he used in the court in a colloquy with the judge. This writer interpolates here in parentheses the references to the Senate. This is how the opinion by Justice Frankfurter then reads:

"The pith of this extraordinary power to punish without the formalities required by the Bill of Rights for the prosecution of federal crimes generally, is that the necessities of the administration of justice require such summary dealings with obstructions to it. It is a mode of vindicating the majesty of law, in its active manifestations, against obstruction and outrage.

"The power thus entrusted to a judge (the Senate) is wholly unrelated to his sensibilities be they tender or rugged.

"But judges (senators) are also human, and may, in a human way, quite unwittingly identify offense to self with obstruction to law. Accordingly the Supreme Court has deemed it important that district judges (individual members of the Senate) guard against this easy confusion by not sitting in judgment upon misconduct of counsel (a member of the Senate) where the contempt charge is entangled with the judge's (senator's) personal feeling against the lawyer (another senator)."

The Supreme Court of the United States is here expounding an important principle of justice which applies wherever there are tribunals which seek to satisfy what the court in this case described as the necessity at least for the "appearance of justice."

Was the Senate sitting as a judicial or semi-judicial body? The record as expounded by those who participated in the proceedings is contradictory. Senator Watkins in presiding over the select committee at the outset said the regulations adopted for the conduct of the hearings were "for the purpose of insuring a judicial hearing and a judicial atmosphere."

Lehman's View Opposite

Yet when the impartiality of the members of the committee was challenged because of previous public statements of alleged prejudice, the Utah senator upheld their right to sit on the committee just the same.

But Senator Lehman of New York, Democrat, took the opposite view. In the debate in the Senate on the "censure" proceedings, he declared:

"The illusion has developed — I think it is an illusion—that this is a court of law, and that we are jurors, bound by rules of evidence and of procedure applicable in a court of law. The effect of this illusion is to make each of us fearful lest we violate rules and procedures to which many of us are strangers, in our desire to do justice and to assure fair play."

It is clear from the statements made by other senators, too, that the debate was largely political. In fact the roll call showed the Democratic party voting as a unit. The Republican party was divided and some members, including the defendant, showed personal feelings due to provocation. Several senators said privately and some publicly that they were voting for censure because of personal resentment.

There is no tribunal to which a senator who is "censured" can appeal for a reversal of judgment if the evidence he wishes to supply is ignored or his counsel is refused a full opportunity to argue the case before a Senate committee. These would constitute grounds for reversal in a court—but not in the Senate which does as it pleases.

Because no legal action can be taken if the Senate is guilty of injustice, and because prejudiced jurors—indeed the complaints and prosecutors may themselves sit in judgment and vote — a censure proceeding is in a figurative sense a "lynching bee." For a senator can be punished without a fair trial. He can even be expelled apparently without being assured of an unprejudiced jury of senators. That's the precedent written by the special session of the Senate last week when, to use the Supreme Court language, those who sit as judges became "entangled with personal feelings."

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Senator McClellan capered us on the educational sprowl to the dictionary. He said he saw no reason for homonomy in future investigations.

The senator shoots from the Democratic side of the riffle range. We suspected it was a post-mortem dig at the Republican ordeals by television.

In Webster's cook book it says homonomy means relation in essence or substance. The senator got it off neatly and acted like he was used to it.

We diagnosed it as meaning the next Congress will not bring politics into politics.

If you think so five will get you ten. And ten will get you investigated by the income tax squad.

The only difference in the next set of congressional investigations is whose ox is being oxidized.

They will proceed along stringent party lines as inflexible as your grandmother's whalebone corsets.

There has been more covering up in impartial investigations than by a burlesque company in a patrol wagon.

We guarantee that clean-up week will arrive early in 1955. And by the time old home week arrives the Republicans will be in a strategic spot to enjoy it. During apple week they'll get the core.

Ike Under Attack

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

It is now clear that President Eisenhower is going to be subjected to an experience he has never had before—sustained personal attack.

The attack will come, of course, from two directions. Sen. McCarthy and those who still choose to ape him will attack with the usual McCarthy meat axe. The Democrats—initially, at least—will use the needle.

There is not much mystery about McCarthy's motives in attacking the President. Partly, of course, McCarthy was playing by ear after his usual custom. His first post-censure hearings were going badly —they were dull, and would garner no headlines. So McCarthy seized the occasion to call in the press and blast Eisenhower. The result was, of course, the blazing headlines which have become as necessary to McCarthy as drink to a drunkard.

But although the timing may well have been a matter of sudden impulse, the act of making a direct, personal attack on the President had undoubtedly been long contemplated. For, as long as Dwight Eisenhower is President of the United States, McCarthy has no where to go in the Republican party.

Third Party Framework

McCarthy has now reached the stage where he can only retain any real power in the party by the blackmail threat, open or implicit, to lead his followers out of the party. In recent weeks, McCarthy's journalistic supporters have been hitting the third party theme more and more frequently. The "Mobilization of Ten Million" was clearly designed as a possible framework for a third party movement.

This implied threat by McCarthy is enough to terrify a lot of Republican regulars. The enthusiasm for Eisenhower of many regulars is squarely based on his vote-getting abilities, and the third party threat could easily cool this enthusiasm.

Under the circumstances, especially if he had been subjected to continuing personal attack, Eisenhower might decide that he had had enough. McCarthy has undoubtedly heard reports that the President is by no means enthusiastic about another term, and that Mrs. Eisenhower is very much less than enthusiastic. If Eisenhower were out of the way, McCarthy would again be a power to reckon with in the Republican party.

He cannot now conceivably get the Republican presidential nomination himself. But he can hope to be king-maker still. For, in the donnybrook Republican convention which will certainly result if Eisenhower withdraws, McCarthy would control a sizeable block of delegate-votes. These votes would be worth a price—so high a price that McCarthy might well hope to exercise a veto power over the nominee.

And even if McCarthy cannot be king-maker, he can still hope to be king-destroyer, by adopting the role of Samson in the Republican temple. The fallacy is, of course, that a McCarthy third party would probably actually strengthen an Eisenhower Republican party. But McCarthy and his followers obviously believe that a third party movement will wreck the Republican party—and that they stand to inherit the wreckage.

Digest Sets Tone

Such is the logic of McCarthy's sudden slashing attack on the President. The logic of the far more muted Democratic attack, which is also just now beginning, is far more simple. Adlai Stevenson himself is reported to have told friends that Eisenhower would beat any Democrat running against him, as of today—including Adlai Stevenson.

This being the case, the Democrats must find ways and means of pulling down the President's great personal popularity, in the next two years, if they want to win back the White House. Some Democrats, including Stevenson and the shrewd Senate leader, Lyndon Johnson, believe in letting nature take its course, relying on events and McCarthy to reduce the President's popularity to the point where he can be beaten.

Others, including Paul Butler, the new Democratic national chairman, believe in giving nature a helpful shove. The general tone of the Democratic attack on the President was probably set — at least for the present—by the current issue of the cleverly edited "Democratic Digest." The Digest has indulged in anti-Eisenhower needle-pricks before. But in this issue, the needle is inserted far more deeply than ever before. Initially, at least, the idea will be to portray the President as "a nice chap, but not too bright." In time, as November 1956 draws nearer, the Democratic attack is likely to get much tougher.

Sustained, politically motivated personal attack will be, of course an almost wholly novel experience to the President. It will be interesting to see how he reacts to this experience. If his forthright, good-humored, and sensible press conference response to the McCarthy meat axe treatment proves typical, the experience may do him, politically and in other ways, more good than harm.

Accomplishments Of Earlier Civilizations Is Amazing

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Rauwolfia serpentina, an ancient East Indian remedy, is in the medical limelight at present. It was popular among the Hindus as a cure for various ailments. In this country, the drug is used principally to treat high blood pressure but its tranquilizing and sedative effect is proving useful in other conditions.

India, at one time, was the seat of a far advanced civilization. The excavations of Sir John Marshall uncovered houses, drainage systems, bathrooms, and wells built centuries before Christ. These facts are mentioned in Dr. Ralph H. Major's new book, "A History of Medicine."

Atreya, the father of Indian medicine, lived many centuries before Christ. He wrote at length about diseases that could be cured by magic and those that could not. A great early surgeon was Susruta, who lived in the Sixth Century and taught at Benares, one of the two great Hindu universities. His knowledge of medicine was far in advance of his day.

He wrote on a variety of medical subjects and mentions, for example, that the body is composed of 107 vital parts, 700 blood vessels, 300 bones, 900 ligaments, and 500 muscles. He tells about numerous operations for which he had 101 surgical instruments but believed "the hand is the most important."

He used forceps, tongs, tubular instruments, probes, and the magnet and suture material made of cotton, hemp, leather, horsehair, and animal sinews and sewed with straight or curved needles.

Susruta may well be looked upon as the father of plastic surgery. In olden times, common offenses often were punishable by cutting off the nose or ears and local surgeons were much in demand when it came to repairing the damage. They relied heavily upon skin grafts.

According to Susruta, leprosy is contagious and scurvy was described as a condition in which the gums bleed. He also noted that the perspiration and expectoration of the diabetic "acquire a sweet taste and smell like that of honey."

The chest pain of heart disease is referred to as "drawn and crushed, pierced and cracked, pricked and split." This description is typical of angina pectoris. Ancient Hindus had a large inventory of drugs. Susruta writes about 760 medicinal plants including some that are well known today.

We take pride in our own civilization but I am always amazed at the accomplishments of those who preceded us.

ANKLE SPRAIN

W. N. writes: Should a person with a sprained ankle stay off his feet?

REPLY

Yes, for the first few days, but walking is permitted thereafter, provided the ankle is supported with tape, elastic bandage, or a cast.

JITTERY GAS

Mrs. L. writes: Is there such a thing as nervous gas in the stomach?

REPLY

I've heard of laughing gas but nervous gas is new to me.

ANEMIA AND CIRCULATION

T. B. writes: Is anemia the same as poor circulation?

REPLY

No. Anemia results from a reduction in the number of red corpuscles and/or hemoglobin (coloring matter). Poor circulation stems from narrowing of the arteries which interferes with the blood supply to the involved parts.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

When he was a Harvard undergraduate, the late Robert Benchley resorted to this strategem to get out of a jam. A course in international law had always been a headache for him, and he was stumped completely when this question appeared on a mid-term exam: "Discuss the arbitration of the international fisheries problem in respect to the points of view of (1) the United States and (2) Great Britain."

After due thought, Benchley wrangled a passing grade from an indulgent professor by admitting, "I am a trifle hazy about the points of view of the U.S.A. and Great Britain. I propose, therefore, to discuss the question from the point of view of the fish."

There was a mighty indignant citizen applying for unemployment insurance in New Hampshire one day. The girl filling out his form asked, "Owe any back house rent?" "I'll have you know, young lady," he roared, "we've had inside plumbing on our place for nigh on 15 years!"

The Mine Hunters Have A Problem

In the history of naval warfare possibly no single weapon has caused more trouble or worry than the submerged mine. Other "absolute" weapons—submarines, homing torpedoes, and the like—have had their teeth drawn to a large extent by scientific counter-measures or by revolutionary changes in tactics. Still the mine fails to be entirely defanged.

The Navy is moving in on the "pressure" mine with a new type of ship—a mine hunter. It takes this extreme design and construction effort, apparently, because this weapon continues to be one of the most diabolically clever in the entire arsenal.

Pressure mines, which are detonated by changes in water pressure on a sensitive diaphragm, were an invention of the Germans, and the device was one of the war prizes which the Russians were to grab. It can be taught to count—that is, a timing device will explode it after, say, seven ships have passed overhead. It can be fixed to lie quietly in a channel for days or weeks, and then come alive and deadly on a certain day.

Meanwhile, a seaport, for example, might have been set up to handle vast amounts of traffic. The sudden appearance of mines would close it down at once.

Pressure mines are virtually unsweepable, which sets them apart from the general family of moored mines. Thus counter strategy must be set up to fool the mine. If a current could be created which simulated the passage of a ship the mine would react in the way it was built to do.

Whether the Navy has succeeded in designing and building equipment which will "fool" pressure mines is a secret. But new ships are being crammed with electronic devices, and it may be that they have the answer. The shallow waters of European coastlines are ideally adapted to the use of pressure mines. It is rather overwhelming to think that control of the seas might rest in a device not much bigger than a garden wheelbarrow. The reason for the zeal and seriousness of the Navy's search for new types of ships and counter-weapons is obvious.

Though indicated, the Justice Department finally went into court after four long years and asked that the indictment be dismissed on the ground that it had no case.

Similarly, Abraham Chasanow, the Navy clerk suspended for one year as a security risk with no charge placed against him, finally was given an official apology by the assistant secretary of the navy and restored to his job. Chasanow had no funds, but his attorney, Joe Fanelli, defended him as a public service.

White House advisers also propose separating bona fide security risks from heavy drinkers, loose talkers, and misfits, hitherto all linked with loyalty cases as security risks.

"Democratic Security Risk"

Here is an illustration of a security risk fired by the Republicans and lumped in the imposing total of alleged "Democratic risks" cleaned out of government. He is John H. MacVey, hired by the Federal Communications Commission on February 19, 1954, one year and one month after Ike entered office, and one month and eight days after MacVey was released from Gallinger Hospital where he was committed December 27, 1953, by the D. C. commissioner of mental health for what was later called a "psychotic episode."

The records of the District of Columbia show that he previously cause of alcohol. In each case he had two brushes with the law beforfeited bond.

He had Republican friends in high places, however, among them his father, a Republican leader in St. Lawrence County, New York, who intervened with the state and county GOP committees. Accordingly, MacVey's appointment was recommended by the Republican National Committee in Washington and he was hired by Rosel Hyde, a Republican, and chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.

Hyde, together with two strong McCarthy friends, Robert E. Lee and John Doerfer of Wisconsin, now dominate the FCC.

Despite his record, MacVey was placed in one of the most strategic spots in the entire FCC, in the review section, where he passed upon TV and radio licenses.

Eight months after MacVey was hired, he was "terminated," October 20, and was lumped among the so-called Democratic "security risks" which Republican campaigners claim they have purged from government.

Doubts May Arise As To Justice Of McCarthy Case

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Long after the tumult of these years has died away and those who are impassioned now in their dislike of one senator have passed from the scene, there will be doubts expressed whether the so-called "censure" case against Senator McCarthy was handled by the United States Senate in a judicial manner, and whether indeed the basic principles of justice in the American system were not violated.

The Supreme Court of the United States 30 days ago handed down a decision which was not reported in the newspapers generally because it concerned a matter hardly of national news importance at the time. But the viewpoint then expressed by Justice Frankfurter in behalf of the majority of the Supreme Court applies by analogy to the attempt to impose last week what amounts to a legal censure in the Senate—a punishment which was abandoned finally in favor of an expression of opinion by the Senate known as "condemnation."

The Senate proceedings, however, were conducted throughout on the basis of a "censure" charge. There had been much talk about the "judicial manner" in which the problem was handled by members of the Senate known as the Watkins Committee. Also President Eisenhower thought so much of the work of that committee that last week he singled out its chairman for special praise, and extended it publicly.

Unrelated To Sensibilities

The Supreme Court dealt with the principle when it reversed last month a case against a lawyer who had been charged by the judge with contempt because of harsh language he used in the court in a colloquy with the judge. This writer interpolates here in parentheses the references to the Senate. This is how the opinion by Justice Frankfurter then reads:

"The pith of this extraordinary power to punish without the formalities required by the Bill of Rights for the prosecution of federal crimes generally, is that the necessities of the administration of justice require such summary dealings with obstructions to it. It is a mode of vindicating the majesty of law, in its active manifestations, against obstruction and outrage.

"The power thus entrusted to a judge (the Senate) is wholly unrelated to his sensibilities be they tender or rugged.

"But judges (senators) are also human, and may, in a human way, quite unwittingly identify offense to self with obstruction to law. Accordingly the Supreme Court has deemed it important that district judges (individual members of the Senate) guard against this easy confusion by not sitting in judgment upon misconduct of counsel (a member of the Senate) where the contempt charge is entangled with the judge's (senator's) personal feeling against the lawyer (another senator)."

The Supreme Court of the United States is here expounding an important principle of justice which applies wherever there are tribunals which seek to satisfy what the court in this case described as the necessity at least for the "appearance of justice."

Was the Senate sitting as a judicial or semi-judicial body? The record as expounded by those who participated in the proceedings is contradictory. Senator Watkins in presiding over the select committee at the outset said the regulations adopted for the conduct of the hearings were "for the purpose of insuring a judicial hearing and a judicial atmosphere."

Lehman's View Opposite

Yet when the impartiality of the members of the committee was challenged because of previous public statements of alleged prejudice, the Utah senator upheld their right to sit on the committee just the same.

But Senator Lehman of New York, Democrat, took the opposite view. In the debate in the Senate on the "censure" proceedings, he declared:

"The illusion has developed — I think it is an illusion—that this is a court of law, and that we are jurors, bound by rules of evidence and of procedure applicable in a court of law. The effect of this illusion is to make each of us fearful lest we violate rules and procedures to which many of us are strangers, in our desire to do justice and to assure fair play."

It is clear from the statements made by other senators, too, that the debate was largely political. In fact the roll call showed the Democratic party voting as a unit. The Republican party was divided and some members, including the defendant, showed personal feelings due to provocation. Several senators said privately and some publicly that they were voting for censure because of personal resentment.

There is no tribunal to which a senator who is "censured" can appeal for a reversal of judgment if the evidence he wishes to supply is ignored or his counsel is refused a full opportunity to argue the case before a Senate committee. These would constitute grounds for reversal in a court—but not in the Senate which does as it pleases.

Because no legal action can be taken if the Senate is guilty of injustice, and because prejudiced jurors—indeed the complaints and prosecutors may themselves sit in judgment and vote — a censure proceeding is in a figurative sense a "lynching bee." For a senator can be punished without a fair trial. He can even be expelled apparently without being assured of an unprejudiced jury of senators. That's the precedent written by the special session of the Senate last week when, to use the Supreme Court language, those who sit as judges became "entangled with personal feelings."

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Senator McClellan capered us on the educational sprowl to the dictionary. He said he saw no reason for homonomy in future investigations.

The senator shoots from the Democratic side of the riffle range. We suspected it was a post-mortem dig at the Republican ordeals by television.

In Webster's cook book it says homonomy means relation in essence or substance. The senator got it off neatly and acted like he was used to it.

We diagnosed it as meaning the next Congress will not bring politics into politics.

If you think so five will get you ten. And ten will get you investigated by the income tax squad.

The only difference in the next set of congressional investigations is whose ox is being oxidized.

They will proceed along stringent party lines as inflexible as your grandmother's whalebone corsets.

There has been more covering up in impartial investigations than by a burlesque company in a patrol wagon.

We guarantee that clean-up week will arrive early in 1955. And by the time old home week arrives the Republicans will be in a strategic spot to enjoy it. During apple week they'll get the core.

Ike Under Attack

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

It is now clear that President Eisenhower is going to be subjected to an experience he has never had before—sustained personal attack.

The attack will come, of course, from two directions. Sen. McCarthy and those who still choose to ape him will attack with the usual McCarthy meat axe. The Democrats—initially, at least—will use the needle.

There is not much mystery about McCarthy's motives in attacking the President. Partly, of course, McCarthy was playing by ear after his usual custom. His first post-censure hearings were going badly —they were dull, and would garner no headlines. So McCarthy seized the occasion to call in the press and blast Eisenhower. The result was, of course, the blazing headlines which have become as necessary to McCarthy as drink to a drunkard.

But although the timing may well have been a matter of sudden impulse, the act of making a direct, personal attack on the President had undoubtedly been long contemplated. For, as long as Dwight Eisenhower is President of the United States, McCarthy has no where to go in the Republican party.

Third Party Framework

McCarthy has now reached the stage where he can only retain any real power in the party by the blackmail threat, open or implicit, to lead his followers out of the party. In recent weeks, McCarthy's journalistic supporters have been hitting the third party theme more and more frequently. The "Mobilization of Ten Million" was clearly designed as a possible framework for a third party movement.

This implied threat by McCarthy is enough to terrify a lot of Republican regulars. The enthusiasm for Eisenhower of many regulars is squarely based on his vote-getting abilities, and the third party threat could easily cool this enthusiasm.

Under the circumstances, especially if he had been subjected to continuing personal attack, Eisenhower might decide that he had had enough. McCarthy has undoubtedly heard reports that the President is by no means enthusiastic about another term, and that Mrs. Eisenhower is very much less than enthusiastic. If Eisenhower were out of the way, McCarthy would again be a power to reckon with in the Republican party.

He cannot now conceivably get the Republican presidential nomination himself. But he can hope to be king-maker still. For, in the donnybrook Republican convention which will certainly result if Eisenhower withdraws, McCarthy would control a sizeable block of delegate-votes. These votes would be worth a price—so high a price that McCarthy might well hope to exercise a veto power over the nominee.

And even if McCarthy cannot be king-maker, he can still hope to be king-destroyer, by adopting the role of Samson in the Republican temple. The fallacy is, of course, that a McCarthy third party would probably actually strengthen an Eisenhower Republican party. But McCarthy and his followers obviously believe that a third party movement will wreck the Republican party—and that they stand to inherit the wreckage.

Digest Sets Tone

Such is the logic of McCarthy's sudden slashing attack on the President. The logic of the far more muted Democratic attack, which is also just now beginning, is far more simple. Adlai Stevenson himself is reported to have told friends that Eisenhower would beat any Democrat running against him, as of today—including Adlai Stevenson.

This being the case, the Democrats must find ways and means of pulling down the President's great personal popularity, in the next two years, if they want to win back the White House. Some Democrats, including Stevenson and the shrewd Senate leader, Lyndon Johnson, believe in letting nature take its course, relying on events and McCarthy to reduce the President's popularity to the point where he can be beaten.

Others, including Paul Butler, the new Democratic national chairman, believe in giving nature a helpful shove. The general tone of the Democratic attack on the President was probably set — at least for the present—by the current issue of the cleverly edited "Democratic Digest." The Digest has indulged in anti-Eisenhower needle-pricks before. But in this issue, the needle is inserted far more deeply than ever before. Initially, at least, the idea will be to portray the President as "a nice chap, but not too bright." In time, as November 1956 draws nearer, the Democratic attack is likely to get much tougher.

Sustained, politically motivated personal attack will be, of course an almost wholly novel experience to the President. It will be interesting to see how he reacts to this experience. If his forthright, good-humored, and sensible press conference response to the McCarthy meat axe treatment proves typical, the experience may do him, politically and in other ways, more good than harm.

Accomplishments Of Earlier Civilizations Is Amazing

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Rauwolfia serpentina, an ancient East Indian remedy, is in the medical limelight at present. It was popular among the Hindus as a cure for various ailments. In this country, the drug is used principally to treat high blood pressure but its tranquilizing and sedative effect is proving useful in other conditions.

India, at one time, was the seat of a far advanced civilization. The excavations of Sir John Marshall uncovered houses, drainage systems, bathrooms, and wells built centuries before Christ. These facts are mentioned in Dr. Ralph H. Major's new book, "A History of Medicine."

Atreya, the father of Indian medicine, lived many centuries before Christ. He wrote at length about diseases that could be cured by magic and those that could not. A great early surgeon was Susruta, who lived in the Sixth Century and taught at Benares, one of the two great Hindu universities. His knowledge of medicine was far in advance of his day.

He wrote on a variety of medical subjects and mentions, for example, that the body is composed of 107 vital parts, 700 blood vessels, 300 bones, 900 ligaments, and 500 muscles. He tells about numerous operations for which he had 101 surgical instruments but believed "the hand is the most important."

He used forceps, tongs, tubular instruments, probes, and the magnet and suture material made of cotton, hemp, leather, horsehair, and animal sinews and sewed with straight or curved needles.

Susruta may well be looked upon as the father of plastic surgery. In olden times, common offenses often were punishable by cutting off the nose or ears and local surgeons were much in demand when it came to repairing the damage. They relied heavily upon skin grafts.

According to Susruta, leprosy is contagious and scurvy was described as a condition in which the gums bleed. He also noted that the perspiration and expectoration of the diabetic "acquire a sweet taste and smell like that of honey."

The chest pain of heart disease is referred to as "drawn and crushed, pierced and cracked, pricked and split." This description is typical of angina pectoris. Ancient Hindus had a large inventory of drugs. Susruta writes about 760 medicinal plants including some that are well known today.

We take pride in our own civilization but I am always amazed at the accomplishments of those who preceded us.

ANKLE SPRAIN

W. N. writes: Should a person with a sprained ankle stay off his feet?

REPLY

Yes, for the first few days, but walking is permitted thereafter, provided the ankle is supported with tape, elastic bandage, or a cast.

JITTERY GAS

Mrs. L. writes: Is there such a thing as nervous gas in the stomach?

REPLY

I've heard of laughing gas but nervous gas is new to me.

ANEMIA AND CIRCULATION

T. B. writes: Is anemia the same as poor circulation?

REPLY

No. Anemia results from a reduction in the number of red corpuscles and/or hemoglobin (coloring matter). Poor circulation stems from narrowing of the arteries which interferes with the blood supply to the involved parts.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

When he was a Harvard undergraduate, the late Robert Benchley resorted to this strategem to get out of a jam. A course in international law had always been a headache for him, and he was stumped completely when this question appeared on a mid-term exam: "Discuss the arbitration of the international fisheries problem in respect to the points of view of (1) the United States and (2) Great Britain."

After due thought, Benchley wrangled a passing grade from an indulgent professor by admitting, "I am a trifle hazy about the points of view of the U.S.A. and Great Britain. I propose, therefore, to discuss the question from the point of view of the fish."

There was a mighty indignant citizen applying for unemployment insurance in New Hampshire one day. The girl filling out his form asked, "Owe any back house rent?" "I'll have you know, young lady," he roared, "we've had inside plumbing on our place for nigh on 15 years!"

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

After using up all his rifle ammunition in a vain attempt to shoot a wild cat, a Utah man knocked out the ferocious critter with a rock. The old ways are sometimes the best ways—as any cave man could have told him.

Thirty head of cattle stampeded through the main railroad passenger depot at Guildford, England. Milt, the sterling printer, wonders if maybe the critters weren't frightened by sight of a cow-catcher.

Successful Businessman Plays Santa Claus

By GEOFFREY GOULD

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP) — Joe Confalone was raised in an orphanage.

When he grew up he decided he would play Santa Claus each year to children who were in the same situation—"because I know what it means for a kid to see Santa Claus."

He has been doing this for 11 years, in 11 different cities in 11 states. This year he came to New York.

As he does each year, he got a job as a department store Santa Claus, this time at Macy's. He has been here since Thanksgiving.

In the evenings and on his days off, Confalone goes to hospitals to visit children and shut-ins. He takes candy and toys and spreads them around liberally.

Confalone, 41, is a successful man. He is his own boss. He is a salesman of plastic products and has a motel in Florida.

He lives with his wife and two boys at Riviera Beach, Fla.

'Instead of taking a vacation in summer, I take it in the winter," he said. "I love children and like to bring them some happiness."

He estimates he spends from $1,200 to $1,500 each on his Santa Claus project. He brings his family along with him.

Sunday night Confalone appeared on a television quiz program (ABC-TC's 'Break the Bank"). He got all the answers right and won $1,400.

He already has spent most of it on toys, candy and other things children dream of at Christmas time.

The television program set up a news conference today. Macy's agreed to give him the day off. He told reporters his story.

Later he told his boss at Macy's "I'd rather have been doing my job here with the children."

Christmas Day Confalone plans to spend at St. Agnes Home for Dependent Children at Sparkill, N.Y.

That is where the Dominican sisters raised him when he was a boy.

New Type X-Ray Technique Can Save Operation

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9 (AP)—An X-ray technique which can show the difference between cancers and cysts in the kidneys and thus prevent unnecessary operations was described here to the Radiological Society of North America.

In 100 cases at New York Hospital the procedure weeded out 42 patients who had more or less harmless cysts. Only 11 had cancer. No cutting had to be done to make these findings. Heretofore, doctors have had to operate to determine whether an unidentified abnormal mass in the kidney was malignant.

The technique is called tomography. It means photographing a section of the body at a given depth—about 2½ to 3 inches in kidney cases. The method was developed by Dr. A. Evans and Dr. James C. Monteith of Cornell Medical School. Dr. Monteith did the reporting.

In these cases the X-ray instrument, in front of the patient, swings in an arc. The unexposed film, at the patient's back, also swings, in the opposite direction, so that both machine and film are traveling in a circle like spokes in a wheel. The result is a sharp picture of the hub at the kidney level.

Chemicals are injected into the veins to make the kidney opaque to X-rays. When the chemically laden blood reaches the kidney area the pictures are taken. Cancers, being solid flesh and having veins and arteries like other tissues, become opaque in the pictures. But cysts, which usually are watery, show up as translucent forms.

Attempted Prison Escape Is Foiled

BALTIMORE, Dec. 9 (AP) — A wooden gun was found under a prisoner's mattress at the Maryland Penitentiary and Warden Vernon Peppersack said today an escape plot apparently had been thwarted.

Peppersack said the gun was a realistic replica of an automatic pistol. He said it was found during an inspection yesterday.

An investigation was started to determine how widespread the suspected plot may have been.

The warden said it was believed a prisoner in one cell slipped the wooden gun into the cell of another prisoner after learning the cell inspection was coming.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 9 (INS) — Out at Universal - International they're doing a little bragging. The executives claim they have the top male stars — that is, the young ones.

Tony Curtis has stayed very close to No. 1 in all the polls, although Rock Hudson did take the Modern Screen poll away from him this year. Jeff Chandler is another who scored in the magazine poll.

Tony goes back to work in January on a western called "Rawhide," by Norman Fox, with Stanley Rubin as producer. This will be the very first time that U-I's pride and joy has ever made a western, although he's played many swashbucklers, biographies and even a gangster.

If Gary Cooper would like to play the romantic and colorful role of General Billy Mitchell in "The Court Martial of Mitchell," it's all his. He and Milton Sperling had a meeting before Gary left town a few days ago.

Milton told me he couldn't see anyone but Gary or Clark Gable as the air-minded Mitchell, who foresaw the danger to our country and the necessity for a strong air force.

Sperling is also concentrating on "King's Row," in which Elizabeth Taylor will star after her baby is born. Remember I told you that Liz, Montgomery Clift and Frank Sinatra were set for this Henry Bellamann novel.

Adorable, blue-eyed Debbie Busch, daughter of Maggie Whiting and Lou Busch, really is a live wire, and, moreover, she can sing.

While I was having Brunch last Sunday at the Beverly Brown Derby, Debbie came over to our table and sang for us. She was with Maggie's aunt, who told us that Maggie had said, "here's one member of the family who won't be an actress or a singer."

Apparently, Maggie has had a change of heart, because little Debbie will be with her mother and her aunt, Barbara Whiting, in "Fresh From London." It's a sequel to their "Fresh From Paris." I'd like to warn the sisters that they'd better look out or Debbie will steal the whole show!

Clark Gable writes from Kowloon, Hong Kong, (my heaven, that's certainly the other end of the world) to say that at times it's difficult for him to keep his mind on his work because of the lovely Chinese girls who walk by with their skirts split up to here!

He also writes that he went to a little town called Aberdeen, where rows and rows of "streets" are made up of sampans and junks, providing floating shops, churches, entertainment, etc. "Many of these people, called Tanka," says Clark, "are born on the ships and never leave them until they are carried ashore to be buried."

The "King" seems to be having himself some fun in addition to working hard.

If you are yearning to get to Broadway and see a musical but just can't make it, you can stop a'yearning.

Irving Berlin's "There's No Business Like Show Business" is everything that the very best Broadway show can be. Plus more.

Yes, it's a movie — but what a super one. It has a pleasant little plot that doesn't get in the way of the song and dance numbers at all — and it has a cast that Broadway at its palmiest never could afford: Ethel Merman, Dan Dailey, Marilyn Monroe, Donald O'Connor and Mitzi Gaynor being out of this world.

All this plus bounce, glitter, color and costumes and a half dozen of Irving's best oldies and another half dozen of new tunes that should become hits.

Ann Sheridan is off for Mexico. What's the attraction? Well you know — Rudy Acosta.

Mary Castle has marriage in her eye, and to the same rich man in Mexico.

Commissioner Arthur X. Elrod of Chicago, recently re-elected, is at the Beverly Wilshire on business and to see some of his pals.

Sammy Davis, Jr., is a busy boy. His next job is being best man Saturday at the wedding of his press agent, Jeff Rand, to Bonnie Byrnes, UCLA co-ed.

The Ziegfeld Club is having its annual tea dance this coming Sunday at the Plaza Hotel in New York. The former beauties, selected by the one and only Florenz Ziegfeld, are the hostesses.

If it's a girl, Rosemary Clooney and Jose Ferrer will call her Maria after Jose's mother, and if it's a boy, he'll be named Miguel, for no one in particular.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Millionaires Can Do Their Yule Shopping In Gay Paree

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS, Dec. 9 (AP)—Paris is just the place for Santa Claus to load up those Christmas stockings this year—if he happens to be a millionaire.

Just think how pleased the little woman would be on Christmas morning to pull out a diamond-lace jabot, set with hundreds of small round sparklers.

For the uninitiated, the dictionary says a jabot is an ornamental frill on a woman's bodice.

It took Cartier's craftsmen 18 months to whip up this piece de resistance for their newly opened Christmas gifts exhibition. It's eight inches long, and it undulates. It's priced at about $18,000.

The girl friend doesn't even have to be a dog lover to appreciate two other little Yuletide notions. A diamond-pelted poodle with ruby tongue and sapphire eyes costing $2,500 wags his tail when you shake his paw. A cocker spaniel lapel pin has three shades of diamonds set into its floppy ears.

Bird-watchers and others no doubt would be touched by the gift of a modest little Paris sparrow, transformed by the jeweler's wand into chiselled gold and ablaze with diamonds.

For the rich but eccentric, they've dreamed up mismatched drop earrings—one diamond and one ruby—and mismatched cufflinks—one diamond and one sapphire.

Van Cleef and Arpel are emphasizing fluid design this year. One of their clips is being made up in the form of a splattering drop of water — substitute diamonds — as seen by the electronic camera. The price of these baubles hasn't been decided yet.

Bean-Sauer Kraut Soup

A pot bubbling on the stove and the savory smells of good things cooking are a friendly welcome to come home to these nippy days when dusk falls early. Appetites are hearty and stick-to-the-ribs dishes are the order of the day. Here are some unusual, new recipes, inexpensive and easy to prepare that will have your family calling for seconds.

- 1½ cups dry navy beans
- 1½ lbs spareribs, cut in med. sized pieces
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 1 small sour apple (cored and peeled)
- 1 cup sauer kraut
- 2 T shortening or drippings
- 2 T flour
- Salt and pepper to taste

Soak navy beans overnight. Drain and reserve liquid, adding enough additional water, if necessary, to make 3 quarts. Put all but sauer kraut in soup kettle and bring to a boil, then simmer till beans are nearly done. Put in sauer kraut. In frying pan melt 2 tablespoons shortening or meat drippings. Add 2 tablespoons flour, stirring constantly over hot fire till rich, reddish brown, being careful not to burn mixture. Add some of the bean liquid slowly, stirring till smooth and pour back over beans, adding more water if liquid is low. Salt and pepper and simmer for 15 minutes. Skim off excess fat and serve.

FRIDAY STEW

- 1 lb. dry navy beans
- 1 cup diced potatoes
- 1 cup diced carrots
- 1 cup chopped onions
- ½ cup chopped parsley
- 2 cups tomatoes
- ½ cup oil
- 2 cloves garlic, chopped fine
- Salt and pepper to taste

Soak beans overnight. After cooking beans 1 hour, add all other ingredients and cook 1 hour more. Serve hot as a main dish in stew bowls.

FARMHOUSE FAVORITE

Boil 4 pig's feet or pig's knuckles till the meat is fairly tender. Add 1 pound kidney beans and cook for about 1½ hours, or until beans are nearly done. Add 2 handfuls dried apples and cook till apples are tender.

Thread Tip

Slip rubber bands over spools of thread in your sewing basket to keep the thread from unwinding.

MEAT COOKERY Quiz

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Beef rolled rump.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It is a boneless roll from the rump.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By braising or, for high quality meat, by roasting. For braising, the meat is browned thoroughly in lard or drippings. A small amount of liquid is added, the meat covered closely and allowed to simmer until tender—about 3 hours. For roasting, the meat is placed, fat side up, on a rack in an open shallow roasting pan. A roast meat thermometer is inserted in the center so that it doesn't rest in fat. No water is added and the pan is not covered. It is roasted in a slow oven (300°F.) to the desired degree of doneness.

Bean-Sauer Kraut Soup

A pot bubbling on the stove and the savory smells of good things cooking are a friendly welcome to come home to these nippy days when dusk falls early. Appetites are hearty and stick-to-the-ribs dishes are the order of the day. Here are some unusual, new recipes, inexpensive and easy to prepare that will have your family calling for seconds.

- 1½ cups dry navy beans
- 1½ lbs spareribs, cut in med. sized pieces
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 1 small sour apple (cored and peeled)
- 1 cup sauer kraut
- 2 T shortening or drippings
- 2 T flour
- Salt and pepper to taste

Soak navy beans overnight. Drain and reserve liquid, adding enough additional water, if necessary, to make 3 quarts. Put all but sauer kraut in soup kettle and bring to a boil, then simmer till beans are nearly done. Put in sauer kraut. In frying pan melt 2 tablespoons shortening or meat drippings. Add 2 tablespoons flour, stirring constantly over hot fire till rich, reddish brown, being careful not to burn mixture. Add some of the bean liquid slowly, stirring till smooth and pour back over beans, adding more water if liquid is low. Salt and pepper and simmer for 15 minutes. Skim off excess fat and serve.

FRIDAY STEW

- 1 lb. dry navy beans
- 1 cup diced potatoes
- 1 cup diced carrots
- 1 cup chopped onions
- ½ cup chopped parsley
- 2 cups tomatoes
- ½ cup oil
- 2 cloves garlic, chopped fine
- Salt and pepper to taste

FARMHOUSE FAVORITE

Boil 4 pig's feet or pig's knuckles till the meat is fairly tender. Add 1 pound kidney beans and cook for about 1½ hours, or until beans are nearly done. Add 2 handfuls dried apples and cook till apples are tender.

Thread Tip

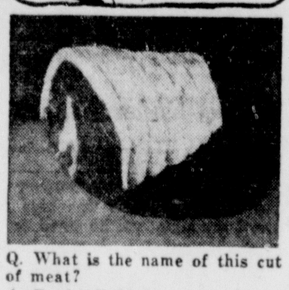
MEAT COOKERY Quiz



Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Beef rolled rump.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It is a boneless roll from the rump.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By braising or, for high quality meat, by roasting. For braising, the meat is browned thoroughly in lard or drippings. A small amount of liquid is added, the meat covered closely and allowed to simmer until tender—about 3 hours. For roasting, the meat is placed, fat side up, on a rack in an open shallow roasting pan. A roast meat thermometer is inserted in the center so that it doesn't rest in fat. No water is added and the pan is not covered. It is roasted in a slow oven (300°F.) to the desired degree of doneness.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Roast Goose With Fruit-Bread Stuffing

3 quarts soft bread crumbs
3 cups diced, peeled apples
1½ cups seedless raisins, washed
1½ cups orange juice
¾ cup sugar
¾ cup melted bacon drippings
9 pound ready-to-cook goose

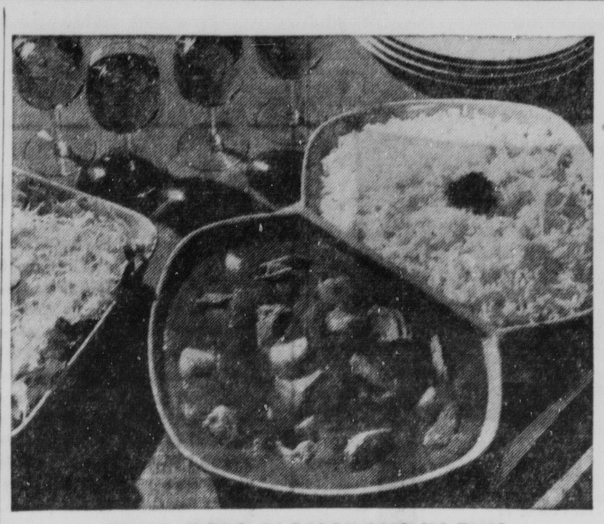
Combine soft bread crumbs, apples, raisins, orange juice, sugar and bacon drippings. Rinse goose in cold water and pat dry. Spoon stuffing into neck cavity, using enough to fill the skin so goose will look plump when served. Fold neck skin over and skewer it to back. Put the remaining stuffing into the body. When body is filled, close the cavity to hold the stuffing in (either sew the skin together with heavy string or skewer it together and lace with heavy string). Skewer wings to body until they rest flat against the neck skin. Cross legs, tie securely with heavy string and fasten to tail. Place goose on rack in shallow pan. Insert a meat thermometer through the membrane between the first and second ribs, so that end reaches into center of stuffing. Roast uncovered in a slow oven (325° F.) until thermometer reaches 165° F. and meat is tender.

Yield: 9 cups stuffing and 9 pound Roast Goose.

Fabric Comfort

A new process permits fusing foam rubber with fabric. This is done without the fabric cushion wrinking or separating. The material is being used in slipcovers, carpets, shoes, seat cushion toppers, luggage, dog collars, ironing board pads and coasters.

Holiday callers will like spicy tea served with your Christmas cookie assortment. One good spicy mixture to add to the tea is made this way. Combine water, a cinnamon stick, several cloves and slices of lemon in a small saucepan. Cook about 15 minutes. A delicious aroma announces the tastiness of this spicy hot beverage.



TUNA GOES GLAMOROUS IN THIS NEW RECIPE FROM CALIFORNIA

Canned tuna from California offers today's meal planner the chance to go epicurean without putting a dent in the family food budget. For example, Tuna and Scallops, California Style, served on fluffy rice will make your dinner sparkle. This festive-looking dish doesn't require any extensive preparation, and yet it creates the impression that it does. Add a further gay touch to the meal by serving California Chablis.

No time is more appropriate for serving tuna than during National Tuna Week, November 4-13, which is a ten-day week, especially prolonged to enable homemakers to take advantage of two week ends of food bargains.

Tuna and Scallops, California Style
(Makes 4-6 servings)

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup all-purpose flour
2 cups milk
¾ cup chili sauce
1 teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons California Chablis wine
½ pound scallops, cooked
1 7-ounce can solid-pack tuna, drained
3 cups cooked rice

Melt butter or margarine over low heat. Add flour and blend. Gradually add milk and chili sauce and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add curry powder, salt, pepper, wine and scallops. Break tuna into large pieces with a fork and add. Heat to serving temperature. Serve with rice.

Daily Bridge Lesson — by Barclay

YOU KNOW IT WILL FAIL

LEADING of the queen in the suit bid by his partner tells you, as declarer, that the latter has the king. You may then sometimes figure out the location of all other pertinent honors. Suppose the opening leader also made the original bid. And suppose the otherwise unlocated honors are barely enough in total strength to justify his call. You may feel sure then that a particular finesse will fail if its success depends on finding the missing honor in his partner's hand.

Play on this deal began the same at the two tables of a team match. The heart Q was won by the A, the spade A and K scored. Then came the difference. One declarer took in the club A and finessed the J. When it lost to the Q he was licked by one trick in each suit.

The other South began thinking as soon as he saw the heart Q led. That placed the K with East. Counting up then the other missing honors, he noted that West's opening bid could be sound only if he had all four queens and the one missing ace. This marked the club J finesse as a loser.

This player therefore built a playing plan based on West having all of the queens. After scoring the heart A, spade A and spade K, he led the spade 3 to the Q, watched East take the heart 6 lead with the K, then captured the club 5 with the K so he could leave the A in dummy as an entry card for a later squeeze. He led the diamond 5, which the A took, and was in again with the diamond Q to the K. On the heart J he discarded the club 6, ruffed the diamond 8 with the spade 7, then led the spade 8, which squeezed West.

The defender saw the diamond 10 and club A-8 in dummy. To save the diamond J as protection against the 10, he had to toss a club from the Q-10, whereupon the diamond was thrown from dummy. The club 9 to the A then felled the Q, enabling the club 8 to the J to get the final trick that fulfilled the contract.

On The Line
by Bob Considine

CLEVELAND, Dec. 9—(INS)—The Sheppard trial is a labyrinth of dead ends, jungle trails that peter out in the thicket, and hung participles. It is an event wherein, to paraphrase, seldom is head a definitive word and the witnesses are all cloudy and gray.

Nails are driven, but only half in. Palms are pounded with rolled fists, but gloves intercede. Fingers are pointed, but the judge orders the jab stricken from the record. How do you strike a jab?

There was testimony the other day, from the rich full lips of Dr. Steve Sheppard, the strong man of the family, that he used to go with Marilyn Sheppard before Sam Sheppard, accused murderer, did. The way Steve put it, in the collegiate manner of the brothers Sheppard, he "dated" her.

So, as the testimony meandered on toward its inevitable roadblock, came the day of the murder of the poor girl. Steve, arriving on the scene, first assured himself that Sam wasn't dead, then without any road directions went to the murder room upstairs, came back down in a minute, and began questioning Sam about his condition.

During the next ten minutes, give or take a minute, he got Sam on his feet, half-dragged him to a car, sped him to the family hospital and ordered him bedded down and given a shot of demerol. Then he made out a chart of his condition, came back to the room, gave him an extensive check-up involving reflexes and other things, and, with restraint that would have put C. Aubrey Smith to shame, finally asked what has happened to his beloved brother and to a girl he had once liked or loved.

But the prosecution, with restraint that brought a flush of envy from Dr. Steve, had no questions to pose.

Dr. Steve took a gun to his brother's house when called and informed that Marilyn might be dead and Sam injured, but no medicine kit.

No questions.

Dr. Richard Sheppard testified Dr. Sam carried a gun for a time after the murder, and so did Dr. Steve.

No questions.

Dr. Richard swore that only last month his wife found a key to Dr. Sam's door hidden under the garbage pail in Dr. Sam's kitchen.

No questions.

Mrs. Steve Sheppard, a fine-looking woman with confidence to spare, testified that when she and another sister-in-law went to the murder home to pick up some clothes for little Chip Sheppard, and to empty the ice box of picnic food within minutes after the murdered sister-in-law was carried out in a bag, she noticed an empty billfold that belonged to Marilyn. It looked as if it had been rifled, she said, supporting the defense's claim that burglary was the motive of the slaughter.

No questions.

Dr. Dozier, a red-faced young osteopath with a green necktie that looked like a pressed toad, said that when he went to the poor dead woman's room to take her pulse "to be sure she was daid," the ceiling lights were on. Dr. Sam had told of massive battles in and on the outskirts of the pitch back room.

No questions.

John Mahon, the prosecutor, queried Dr. Richard at length one day about his younger brother's athletic abilities. It was brought out—and of the blue—that Sam played football, basketball, tennis, punched the bag, was good at track and field, etc. etc. etc. There was a pause and the courtroom waited for Mahon to climax it with, "Well, how do you figure that this modern counterpart of Jim Thorpe was flattened twice without landing a punch on the so-called intruder?"

But Mahon let the whole thing drop.

Crazy, mixed-up case. Both sides must be saving everything for Sam. Or the summations. Or a prom named junior.

Try your hand at making time-honored turkey stuffings even better than mother used to make. For instances, in place of water, use chicken consomme. Mash 1 clove garlic and add to your stuffing for an irrestible tang. One cup chopped tart apples added to your favorite stuffing gives it a sprightly flavor, sure to please.

Friskies Dog Food Guards Against HIDDEN HUNGER*

*Caused by a lack of certain food elements essential to normal growth and health.

UNLIKE PEOPLE, your dog can't tell you when his vitality is running low. Unknown to you, the food you are giving him may lack essential food elements he needs for normal growth and health.

IN DOG FOOD, as in everything else, you get what you pay for... no more. Cut-rate brands are no bargain. You may think you are saving a few pennies a day, but these foods cannot possibly give your dog Friskies' protection against "Hidden Hunger."

FRISKIES provides your dog with every known food element he needs. Friskies gives him rich, red horse meat, from choice steaks, chops and roasts. Every ingredient is certified by U. S. Government meat and food inspectors. The Government seal on the can guarantees this.

CONSIDER FOR A MOMENT, isn't your dog's love and affection worth the extra protection you give him when you feed Friskies? It's the "table-quality" dog food that's backed by over 50 years' experience in animal nutrition.

Roast Goose With Fruit-Bread Stuffing

3 quarts soft bread crumbs
3 cups diced, peeled apples
1½ cups seedless raisins, washed
1½ cups orange juice
¾ cup sugar
¾ cup melted bacon drippings
9 pound ready-to-cook goose

Combine soft bread crumbs, apples, raisins, orange juice, sugar and bacon drippings. Rinse goose in cold water and pat dry. Spoon stuffing into neck cavity, using enough to fill the skin so goose will look plump when served. Fold neck skin over and skewer it to back. Put the remaining stuffing into the body. When body is filled, close the cavity to hold the stuffing in (either sew the skin together with heavy string or skewer it together and lace with heavy string). Skewer wings to body until they rest flat against the neck skin. Cross legs, tie securely with heavy string and fasten to tail. Place goose on rack in shallow pan. Insert a meat thermometer through the membrane between the first and second ribs, so that end reaches into center of stuffing. Roast uncovered in a slow oven (325° F.) until thermometer reaches 165° F. and meat is tender.

Yield: 9 cups stuffing and 9 pound Roast Goose.

Fabric Comfort

A new process permits fusing foam rubber with fabric. This is done without the fabric cushion wrinking or separating. The material is being used in slipcovers, carpets, shoes, seat cushion toppers, luggage, dog collars, ironing board pads and coasters.

Holiday callers will like spicy tea served with your Christmas cookie assortment. One good spicy mixture to add to the tea is made this way. Combine water, a cinnamon stick, several cloves and slices of lemon in a small saucepan. Cook about 15 minutes. A delicious aroma announces the tastiness of this spicy hot beverage.

TUNA GOES GLAMOROUS IN THIS NEW RECIPE FROM CALIFORNIA

Canned tuna from California offers today's meal planner the chance to go epicurean without putting a dent in the family food budget. For example, Tuna and Scallops, California Style, served on fluffy rice will make your dinner sparkle. This festive-looking dish doesn't require any extensive preparation, and yet it creates the impression that it does. Add a further gay touch to the meal by serving California Chablis.

No time is more appropriate for serving tuna than during National Tuna Week, November 4-13, which is a ten-day week, especially prolonged to enable homemakers to take advantage of two week ends of food bargains.

Tuna and Scallops, California Style
(Makes 4-6 servings)

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup all-purpose flour
2 cups milk
¾ cup chili sauce
1 teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons California Chablis wine
½ pound scallops, cooked
1 7-ounce can solid-pack tuna, drained
3 cups cooked rice

Melt butter or margarine over low heat. Add flour and blend. Gradually add milk and chili sauce and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add curry powder, salt, pepper, wine and scallops. Break tuna into large pieces with a fork and add. Heat to serving temperature. Serve with rice.

Daily Bridge Lesson — by Barclay

YOU KNOW IT WILL FAIL

LEADING of the queen in the suit bid by his partner tells you, as declarer, that the latter has the king. You may then sometimes figure out the location of all other pertinent honors. Suppose the opening leader also made the original bid. And suppose the otherwise unlocated honors are barely enough in total strength to justify his call. You may feel sure then that a particular finesse will fail if its success depends on finding the missing honor in his partner's hand.

	♠ A 6 5 ♥ A J 2 ♦ K 10 8 2 ♣ A 8 7
♠ Q 9 4 ♥ Q 6 5 ♦ A Q J 7 ♣ Q 10 4	N W E S	♠ J 10 ♥ K 8 7 4 3 ♦ 9 6 3 ♣ 5 3 2
	♠ K 8 7 3 2 ♥ 10 9 ♦ 5 4 ♣ K J 9 6

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	1 ♦	Dbl.
1 ♥	1 ♠	Pass	1 NT
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	4 ♠

Play on this deal began the same at the two tables of a team match. The heart Q was won by the A, the spade A and K scored. Then came the difference. One declarer took in the club A and finessed the J. When it lost to the Q he was licked by one trick in each suit.

The other South began thinking as soon as he saw the heart Q led. That placed the K with East. Counting up then the other missing honors, he noted that West's opening bid could be sound only if he had all four queens and the one missing ace. This marked the club J finesse as a loser.

This player therefore built a playing plan based on West having all of the queens. After scoring the heart A, spade A and spade K, he led the spade 3 to the Q, watched East take the heart 6 lead with the K, then captured the club 5 with the K so he could leave the A in dummy as an entry card for a later squeeze. He led the diamond 5, which the A took, and was in again with the diamond Q to the K. On the heart J he discarded the club 6, ruffed the diamond 8 with the spade 7, then led the spade 8, which squeezed West.

The defender saw the diamond 10 and club A-8 in dummy. To save the diamond J as protection against the 10, he had to toss a club from the Q-10, whereupon the diamond was thrown from dummy. The club 9 to the A then felled the Q, enabling the club 8 to the J to get the final trick that fulfilled the contract.

Tomorrow's Problem

What is the sound defense against North's 6-Diamonds, after more or less normal bidding?

On The Line
by Bob Considine

CLEVELAND, Dec. 9—(INS)—The Sheppard trial is a labyrinth of dead ends, jungle trails that peter out in the thicket, and hung participles. It is an event wherein, to paraphrase, seldom is head a definitive word and the witnesses are all cloudy and gray.

Nails are driven, but only half in. Palms are pounded with rolled fists, but gloves intercede. Fingers are pointed, but the judge orders the jab stricken from the record. How do you strike a jab?

There was testimony the other day, from the rich full lips of Dr. Steve Sheppard, the strong man of the family, that he used to go with Marilyn Sheppard before Sam Sheppard, accused murderer, did. The way Steve put it, in the collegiate manner of the brothers Sheppard, he "dated" her.

So, as the testimony meandered on toward its inevitable roadblock, came the day of the murder of the poor girl. Steve, arriving on the scene, first assured himself that Sam wasn't dead, then without any road directions went to the murder room upstairs, came back down in a minute, and began questioning Sam about his condition.

During the next ten minutes, give or take a minute, he got Sam on his feet, half-dragged him to a car, sped him to the family hospital and ordered him bedded down and given a shot of demerol. Then he made out a chart of his condition, came back to the room, gave him an extensive check-up involving reflexes and other things, and, with restraint that would have put C. Aubrey Smith to shame, finally asked what has happened to his beloved brother and to a girl he had once liked or loved.

But the prosecution, with restraint that brought a flush of envy from Dr. Steve, had no questions to pose.

Dr. Steve took a gun to his brother's house when called and informed that Marilyn might be dead and Sam injured, but no medicine kit.

No questions.

Dr. Richard Sheppard testified Dr. Sam carried a gun for a time after the murder, and so did Dr. Steve.

No questions.

Dr. Richard swore that only last month his wife found a key to Dr. Sam's door hidden under the garbage pail in Dr. Sam's kitchen.

No questions.

Mrs. Steve Sheppard, a fine-looking woman with confidence to spare, testified that when she and another sister-in-law went to the murder home to pick up some clothes for little Chip Sheppard, and to empty the ice box of picnic food within minutes after the murdered sister-in-law was carried out in a bag, she noticed an empty billfold that belonged to Marilyn. It looked as if it had been rifled, she said, supporting the defense's claim that burglary was the motive of the slaughter.

No questions.

Dr. Dozier, a red-faced young osteopath with a green necktie that looked like a pressed toad, said that when he went to the poor dead woman's room to take her pulse "to be sure she was daid," the ceiling lights were on. Dr. Sam had told of massive battles in and on the outskirts of the pitch back room.

No questions.

John Mahon, the prosecutor, queried Dr. Richard at length one day about his younger brother's athletic abilities. It was brought out—and of the blue—that Sam played football, basketball, tennis, punched the bag, was good at track and field, etc. etc. etc. There was a pause and the courtroom waited for Mahon to climax it with, "Well, how do you figure that this modern counterpart of Jim Thorpe was flattened twice without landing a punch on the so-called intruder?"

But Mahon let the whole thing drop.

Crazy, mixed-up case. Both sides must be saving everything for Sam. Or the summations. Or a prom named junior.

Try your hand at making time-honored turkey stuffings even better than mother used to make. For instances, in place of water, use chicken consomme. Mash 1 clove garlic and add to your stuffing for an irrestible tang. One cup chopped tart apples added to your favorite stuffing gives it a sprightly flavor, sure to please.

WHITE HOUSE APPLE SAUCE

MFD. BY NATIONAL FRUIT PRODUCT CO. INC., WINCHESTER, VA.

Escalloped Turkey And Stuffing

1 (No.1) can condensed mushroom soup; ¾ cup milk; 2 cups chopped, cooked turkey; 3 cups leftover bread stuffing; 1 teaspoon grated Parmesan cheese.

Combine soup and milk and heat; add turkey. Alternate layers of stuffing and turkey mixture in a greased 1½ quart casserole with turkey mixture as top layer. Sprinkle cheese over top of casserole. Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) for thirty minutes.

Yield: 8 servings.

Baby Rib

A new bib made of plastic is large enough to extend over a large feeding table or high chair in a position to catch everything that drops from baby's spoon or spills from his dish. Baby's arms are inserted in the wrist-length sleeves and the bib ties snugly around his neck.

"... And hereafter, if I say: 'When I think of the men I could have married,' maybe you won't get technical and ask me to name one"

Roast Duck With Orange-Bread Stuffing

2 (4 pound) ready-to-cook ducks
2½ quarts soft bread crumbs
1 cup or 1 (11 ounce) can mandarin orange sections
⅓ cup orange juice
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon celery salt
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Rinse ducks in cold water and pat dry. Combine soft bread crumbs, orange sections and juice, salt, celery salt and melted butter. Fill neck and cavity of ducks lightly with stuffing. Truss the ducks. Prick the skin with a sharp fork to permit fat to run out during roasting. Roast according to your favorite method.

Yield: 8 servings.

Sweet-Sour Pickled Figs

24 California dried figs
2 cups sugar
1 cup cider vinegar
several sticks of cinnamon, broken into inch lengths
2 teaspoons whole cloves

Combine all ingredients, stirring together thoroughly. Place over medium heat and simmer, stirring often. Keep covered. When the figs are somewhat transparent and rich in appearance, they are done. Add a little water if necessary but the syrup should be rather thick. It thickens slightly when cool so don't overcook it (about 35 minutes should do the trick).

Barbecued Turkey And Stuffing

5-pound ready-to-cook broiler-fryer turkey
2½ cups barbecue sauce
⅓ cup shortening
⅓ cup chopped onion
2 quarts soft bread cubes, ½ inch
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ground sage
½ teaspoon ground thyme
½ teaspoon rosemary leaves
1 egg, beaten

Have butcher saw turkey in half, lengthwise. Place halves of turkey, skin side up, on a sheet of aluminum foil placed over a rack in a large shallow baking pan. Pour about a cup of barbecue sauce over turkey. Roast, uncovered, in a slow oven (325° F.) for about one hour. Turn pieces and baste with more sauce. Roast for another hour. Melt shortening in a skillet. Add onion and saute until tender. Pour over soft bread cubes, adding salt, sage, thyme, rosemary and beaten egg. Remove turkey from oven and turn the halves up on their sides. Divide stuffing in half and form it into two mounds on the foil. Replace turkey halves over the stuffing and continue roasting until done (allow twenty-five to thirty minutes per pound). Baste occasionally with barbecue sauce during baking period.

Yield: 10 servings.

Toasted Pecan Dressing Balls With Turkey

Toasted pecans give these dressing balls an unforgettable flavor — sort of toasty, and just right with slices of turkey. These nutty-rich dressing balls are rather "company special", but very easy to make!

TOASTED PECAN DRESSING BALLS with Turkey Slices
Hot Turkey Gravy
Cranberry Sauce
Stuffed Olives Carrot Sticks
Casserole of Mixed Vegetables
Molded Fruit Salad
Grapes and Nuts

INGREDIENTS:

2 cups water
1 cup uncooked white rice
1 teaspoon salt
¾ cup coarsely chopped pecans
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 cup diced celery
1 tablespoon chopped onion
2 eggs
1¼ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup milk

METHOD: Put the water, rice and salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and leave over this low heat for 14 minutes. Remove from heat, but leave lid on 10 minutes.

While the rice is cooking, toast the pecans by placing them on a greased pan in a 350°F. oven for 15 minutes or until browned.

Melt the butter or margarine in a saucepan. Add the celery and onion. Cook until the celery is tender. Add the rice, pecans, eggs, salt, pepper and milk to the celery and onions.

Form into dressing balls. Place the dressing balls on a greased pan and bake in a 350°F. oven until heated through. It is a good idea to cover the dressing balls with aluminum foil for most of the cooking period so they will not become too dry.

To serve, place the dressing balls on a platter and top with slices of turkey. Pour gravy over the slices of the turkey and garnish with slices of cranberry sauce which have been cut in half.

This recipe makes about 6 cups of stuffing — enough for 10 to 12 dressing balls depending upon the size desired.

Roast Half Turkey

3 tablespoons shortening
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped celery
1½ quarts toasted bread cubes, ½ inch
¾ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ cup chicken broth
½ turkey (approx. 8 pounds)
1 tablespoon melted fat

Melt shortening in a skillet. Add onion and celery and saute until tender. Pour over toasted bread cubes, adding salt, poultry seasoning, pepper and chicken broth. Rub cut side of half turkey with salt. Skewer skin to breast meat. Place half turkey, cut side down, on a rack in a shallow pan. Brush turkey with melted fat and cover loosely with a sheet of aluminum foil. Roast in a preheated oven (325° F.) for two hours. Do not add water nor cover the pan. Remove from oven, uncover turkey and turn it up on its side. Place a sheet of aluminum foil on rack. Mound stuffing on aluminum foil. Replace half turkey over the stuffing and continue roasting until done (allow twenty-five to thirty minutes per pound). Remove foil during last hour of baking so that turkey browns. Make gravy with drippings in pan. Garnish platter with small bunches of seedless grapes set on orange slices.

Yield: 1½ quarts stuffing and 1 Roast Half-Turkey.

Most men enjoy donning an apron and helping out in the kitchen now and then. Children love to "play house" by baking and cooking right along with mother. Why not take advantage of these willing helpers? Cookie-making can become a holiday family project. Make the dough ahead of time. Then, let the man in the family do the rolling and cutting. Children can be busy chopping nuts and decorating the cookies while you supervise the baking. The whole family will enjoy this opportunity to contribute to gala preparations.

If you will have many children visiting during the Christmas holidays, keep them fascinated by a cookie tree while grown-ups visit. Cut cookies into Christmasy shapes and decorate with colorful icings and decorettes. Then hang the assorted cookies from strings on evergreen branches. Your cookie tree will be the center of attention among the young crowd.

Pineapple-Raisin Bread Stuffing

¼ cup shortening; ⅓ cup finely chopped onion; 2 quarts soft raisin bread crumbs; ½ teaspoon salt; 1 (No. 2) can crushed pineapple, drained.

Melt shortening in a skillet. Add onion and saute until tender. Pour over soft bread crumbs, salt, pepper and pineapple.

Yield: 1½ quarts stuffing.

To Make Stuffing Balls:

Form 1⅓ cups bread stuffing into 4 balls by using a No. 12 scoop or ⅓ cup measure for each one. Place them on browned pork chops or a greased baking pan and bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for twenty minutes. Larger or smaller balls can be formed and baked from twenty to thirty minutes, depending on their size. Serve "Stuffing Balls" on top of meat or separately.

To Make Stuffing Squares:

Place 1½ quarts bread stuffing into a greased 8 or 9-inch baking dish and spread it out evenly with a spatula. Cut into 9 squares. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for thirty minutes. Serve "Stuffing Squares" separately or on meat platter.

To Make Stuffing Muffins:

Press ½ cup bread stuffing into each greased muffin or custard cup. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for twenty minutes. Turn out "Stuffing Muffins" all at once and arrange them around poultry or meat on serving platter.

To Make Stuffing Sticks

Place 1½ quarts bread stuffing onto a greased baking sheet and press into a rectangular shape about 1-inch thick and 6-inches wide. Cool in refrigerator for at least one-hour. With a straight-edged sharp knife cut stuffing in half, lengthwise, and into 1-inch strips crosswise. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F) for thirty minutes. Arrange "Stuffing Sticks" around poultry or meat on serving platter .

Combine ready-prepared apple sauce, cranberry sauce and pecans; chill, and serve with baked pork chops and canned sauerkraut. Tasty

Roast Meal-Size Turkey Parsley-Bread Stuffing

5-6 pound ready-to-cook turkey; ¼ cup butter or margarine; ¼ cup chopped onion; ½ cup chopped celery; 1 cup chopped parsley; ½ teaspoon salt; ½ teaspoon thyme; ¼ teaspoon pepper; 1 egg, beaten.

Rinse turkey in cold water and pat dry. Melt butter in a skillet; add onion and celery and saute until tender. Pour over dry bread cubes, parsley, salt, thyme and pepper. Add beaten egg and mix well. Spoon stuffing into neck cavity, using enough to fill the skin so that turkey will look plump when served. Fold neck skin over and skewer it to back. Twist wing tips and fasten them "akimbo" style, bringing tips onto back. Put the remaining stuffing into body. Close body cavity by skewering skin together and lacing it closed with heavy cord. Tie drumsticks to tail. Brush skin thoroughly with melted butter or shortening. Place turkey, breast up, on a rack in a shallow open pan. Insert a meat thermometer through the membrane between the first and second ribs, so that end reaches into center of stuffing. Roast uncovered in a preheated slow oven (325°F.) for three houprs or longer, until stuffing temperature reaches 165°F. and turkey meat is done.* Do not sear and do not add water during roasting period.

Yield: 5½ cups Parsley Bread Stuffing and 5-6 pound Roast Turkey.

*Physical tests for turkey doneness are: a) Press fleshy part of drumstick between the fingers. If meat is very soft, it is done. b) Move the drumstick up and down. If it moves easily or twists out of joint, it is done.

Baked Stuffing With Egg

3 cups leftover bread stuffing
6 eggs

Grease custard cups, place ½ cup stuffing in each one. Make a depression in the center of stuffing in each cup. Drop an egg into depression. Place cups on a cookie sheet and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for fifteen minutes.

Yield: 6 servings.

To make Christmas cookies especially good-tasting and pretty, brush them with beaten egg or milk and sprinkle with chopped nuts and sugar just before baking. The tops of the cookies will be bubbly and crunchy.

Toasted Pecan Dressing Balls With Turkey

TOASTED PECAN DRESSING BALLS with Turkey Slices
Hot Turkey Gravy
Cranberry Sauce
Stuffed Olives Carrot Sticks
Molded Fruit Salad
Grapes and Nuts

INGREDIENTS:

2 cups water
1 cup uncooked white rice
1 teaspoon salt
¾ cup coarsely chopped pecans
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 cup diced celery
1 tablespoon chopped onion
2 eggs
1¼ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup milk

METHOD: Put the water, rice and salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and leave over this low heat for 14 minutes. Remove from heat, but leave lid on 10 minutes.

While the rice is cooking, toast the pecans by placing them on a greased pan in a 350°F. oven for 15 minutes or until browned.

Melt the butter or margarine in a saucepan. Add the celery and onion. Cook until the celery is tender. Add the rice, pecans, eggs, salt, pepper and milk to the celery and onions.

Form into dressing balls. Place the dressing balls on a greased pan and bake in a 350°F. oven until heated through. It is a good idea to cover the dressing balls with aluminum foil for most of the cooking period so they will not become too dry.

To serve, place the dressing balls on a platter and top with slices of turkey. Pour gravy over the slices of the turkey and garnish with slices of cranberry sauce which have been cut in half.

This recipe makes about 6 cups of stuffing — enough for 10 to 12 dressing balls depending upon the size desired.

Roast Half Turkey

3 tablespoons shortening
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped celery
1½ quarts toasted bread cubes, ½ inch
¾ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ cup chicken broth
½ turkey (approx. 8 pounds)
1 tablespoon melted fat

Melt shortening in a skillet. Add onion and celery and saute until tender. Pour over toasted bread cubes, adding salt, poultry seasoning, pepper and chicken broth. Rub cut side of half turkey with salt. Skewer skin to breast meat. Place half turkey, cut side down, on a rack in a shallow pan. Brush turkey with melted fat and cover loosely with a sheet of aluminum foil. Roast in a preheated oven (325° F.) for two hours. Do not add water nor cover the pan. Remove from oven, uncover turkey and turn it up on its side. Place a sheet of aluminum foil on rack. Mound stuffing on aluminum foil. Replace half turkey over the stuffing and continue roasting until done (allow twenty-five to thirty minutes per pound). Remove foil during last hour of baking so that turkey browns. Make gravy with drippings in pan. Garnish platter with small bunches of seedless grapes set on orange slices.

Yield: 1½ quarts stuffing and 1 Roast Half-Turkey.

Most men enjoy donning an apron and helping out in the kitchen now and then. Children love to "play house" by baking and cooking right along with mother. Why not take advantage of these willing helpers? Cookie-making can become a holiday family project. Make the dough ahead of time. Then, let the man in the family do the rolling and cutting. Children can be busy chopping nuts and decorating the cookies while you supervise the baking. The whole family will enjoy this opportunity to contribute to gala preparations.

If you will have many children visiting during the Christmas holidays, keep them fascinated by a cookie tree while grown-ups visit. Cut cookies into Christmasy shapes and decorate with colorful icings and decorettes. Then hang the assorted cookies from strings on evergreen branches. Your cookie tree will be the center of attention among the young crowd.

Pineapple-Raisin Bread Stuffing

¼ cup shortening; ⅛ cup finely chopped onion; 2 quarts soft raisin bread crumbs; ½ teaspoon salt; 1 (No. 2) can crushed pineapple, drained.

Melt shortening in a skillet. Add onion and saute until tender. Pour over soft bread crumbs, salt, pepper and pineapple.

Yield: 1½ quarts stuffing.

To Make Stuffing Balls:

Form 1⅓ cups bread stuffing into 4 balls by using a No. 12 scoop or ⅓ cup measure for each one. Place them on browned pork chops or a greased baking pan and bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for twenty minutes. Larger or smaller balls can be formed and baked from twenty to thirty minutes, depending on their size. Serve "Stuffing Balls" on top of meat or separately.

To Make Stuffing Squares:

Place 1½ quarts bread stuffing into a greased 8 or 9-inch baking dish and spread it out evenly with a spatula. Cut into 9 squares. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for thirty minutes. Serve "Stuffing Squares" separately or on meat platter.

To Make Stuffing Muffins:

Press ½ cup bread stuffing into each greased muffin or custard cup. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for twenty minutes. Turn out "Stuffing Muffins" all at once and arrange them around poultry or meat on serving platter.

To Make Stuffing Sticks

Place 1½ quarts bread stuffing onto a greased baking sheet and press into a rectangular shape about 1-inch thick and 6-inches wide. Cool in refrigerator for at least one-hour. With a straight-edged sharp knife cut stuffing in half, lengthwise, and into 1-inch strips crosswise. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F) for thirty minutes. Arrange "Stuffing Sticks" around poultry or meat on serving platter .

Combine ready-prepared apple sauce, cranberry sauce and pecans; chill, and serve with baked pork chops and canned sauerkraut. Tasty

Roast Meal-Size Turkey Parsley-Bread Stuffing

5-6 pound ready-to-cook turkey; ¼ cup butter or margarine; ¼ cup chopped onion; ½ cup chopped celery; 1 cup chopped parsley; ½ teaspoon salt; ½ teaspoon thyme; ¼ teaspoon pepper; 1 egg, beaten.

Rinse turkey in cold water and pat dry. Melt butter in a skillet; add onion and celery and saute' until tender. Pour over dry bread cubes, parsley, salt, thyme and pepper. Add beaten egg and mix well. Spoon stuffing into neck cavity, using enough to fill the skin so that turkey will look plump when served. Fold neck skin over and skewer it to back. Twist wing tips and fasten them "akimbo" style, bringing tips onto back. Put the remaining stuffing into body. Close body cavity by skewering skin together and lacing it closed with heavy cord. Tie drumsticks to tail. Brush skin thoroughly with melted butter or shortening. Place turkey, breast up, on a rack in a shallow open pan. Insert a meat thermometer through the membrane between the first and second ribs, so that end reaches into center of stuffing. Roast uncovered in a preheated slow oven (325°F.) for three houprs or longer, until stuffing temperature reaches 165°F. and turkey meat is done.* Do not sear and do not add water during roasting period.

Yield: 5½ cups Parsley Bread Stuffing and 5-6 pound Roast Turkey.

*Physical tests for turkey doneness are: a) Press fleshy part of drumstick between the fingers. If meat is very soft, it is done.

b) Move the drumstick up and down. If it moves easily or twists out of joint, it is done.

Baked Stuffing With Egg

3 cups leftover bread stuffing
6 eggs

Grease custard cups, place ½ cup stuffing in each one. Make a depression in the center of stuffing in each cup. Drop an egg into depression. Place cups on a cookie sheet and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for fifteen minutes.

Yield: 6 servings.

To make Christmas cookies especially good-tasting and pretty, brush them with beaten egg or milk and sprinkle with chopped nuts and sugar just before baking. The tops of the cookies will be bubbly and crunchy.

Stocks Decline Moderately For Second Straight Day

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—The stock market declined today for the second consecutive session, but it did so in a moderate way.

Losses were frequent, and they went on out to around 3 points. There was, however, considerable resistance to the fall throughout the day. In final stages of trading, many key issues made excellent recoveries from their lows. A few stocks had strong advances running as far as 3 points.

Railroads were perhaps the hardest hit of the major divisions. Steels were somewhat mixed as were the motors due to a few points of individual strength — Chrysler up 1¼ and Republic Steel up 2.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped back $1.10 at $149.50. Volume amounted to 3,300,000 shares, a considerable drop from the 4,150,000 shares traded yesterday, highest in four years.

Alleghany Corp., which controls New York Central, was at the top of the most active list off ⅛ at 7¾ on 82,900 shares, and it was followed by the railroad itself off ½ at 29 on 63,000 shares.

Among stocks losing ground were General Motors off ¾, United Aircraft 1⅞, Radio Corp. ⅜, American Telephone ½, Consolidated Natural Gas 1½, Western Union 1½, Union Carbide 1½, DuPont 1, Westinghouse Electric ⅞, Atlantic Coast Line 2½, Santa Fe 2, Baltimore & Ohio ⅝, Standard Oil (NJ) ⅜, Royal Dutch Petroleum ¾, Cities Service 1⅞, Pan American World Airways ½, Johns-Manville 1¾, Georgia Pacific Plywood 1¾, and Douglas Aircraft 1.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The holiday season means parties, and they mean new people. Next step—introductions. You're certain to be on the "many I present" end of a few.

Of course, it is good to know the etiquette of introductions, but more important is the spirit behind them. You want to put strangers at ease with each other, and start new friendships off pleasantly. The "how" is easy.

Make sure you have the attention of the two people you are about to introduce. If Barbara Jones doesn't remember Sam Harper's name two minutes later, she probably didn't hear it clearly.

Talking Point

You can help the names stick, too, by telling one person some interesting thing about the other. If Mrs. Jones once lived in Seattle, let her know that Sam Harper has visited there many times. They'll have a talking point to open their conversation, as well as a reason for remembering names.

A warm voice and a bright smile put others in a friendly mood, so use them when you repeat the formalities of introduction. You certainly know the general rules of who-is-introduced-to-whom: Present a man to a woman; or the younger person to the older—if both are men, or both are women. If the two people are of the same age and sex, there's no rule to bother about. (Only exception to the foregoing is that everyone else is introduced to a clergyman, royalty, or the President of the United States.

With Groups

You'll avoid any awkardness in group introductions by just getting everyone's attention and then naming names. It would take too long to tour the room with each person individually . . . and how complicated the situation would be if you tried to present every man separately to every woman present!

As go-between in making acquaintances of total strangers, there's just one more positive rule to remember: When you say a name, say it clearly, and say it right.

Roast Stuffed Chicken

5 pound roasting chicken (New York dressed weight)*
1 cup hot water
½ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon poultry seasoning
2 teaspoons dry mustard
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
3 quarts soft ½-inch bread cubes

Dress and clean chicken. Combine water, butter and onion and simmer over low heat for five minutes. Add poultry seasoning, mustard and parsley. Pour liquid mixture over soft bread cubes. Spoon the stuffing into neck cavity, using enough to fill the skin so that the chicken will look plump when served. Fold neck skin over and skewer it to back. Put the remaining stuffing into the body. When body is filled, close the cavity to hold the stuffing in (either sew the skin together with heavy string or skewer the skin together and lace with heavy string). Skewer wings to body until they rest flat against the neck skin. Cross legs, tie securely with heavy string and fasten to tail. Grease skin thoroughly with melted shortening. Bake according to your own favorite method.

Yield: 10 servings.

Stocks Decline Moderately For Second Straight Day

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—The stock market declined today for the second consecutive session, but it did so in a moderate way.

Losses were frequent, and they went on out to around 3 points. There was, however, considerable resistance to the fall throughout the day. In final stages of trading, many key issues made excellent recoveries from their lows. A few stocks had strong advances running as far as 3 points.

Railroads were perhaps the hardest hit of the major divisions. Steels were somewhat mixed as were the motors due to a few points of individual strength — Chrysler up 1¼ and Republic Steel up 2.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped back $1.10 at $149.50. Volume amounted to 3,300,000 shares, a considerable drop from the 4,150,000 shares traded yesterday, highest in four years.

Alleghany Corp., which controls New York Central, was at the top of the most active list off ⅛ at 7¾ on 82,900 shares, and it was followed by the railroad itself off ½ at 29 on 63,000 shares.

Chrysler came next up 1¼ at 68, and it was followed by International Telephone off ⅛ at 24¾, and Schenley Industries up 1¼ at 25¾.

Among stocks losing ground were General Motors off ¾, United Aircraft 1⅞, Radio Corp. ⅜, American Telephone ½, Consolidated Natural Gas 1½, Western Union 1½, Union Carbide 1½, DuPont 1, Westinghouse Electric ⅞, Atlantic Coast Line 2½, Santa Fe 2, Baltimore & Ohio ⅝, Standard Oil (NJ) ⅜, Royal Dutch Petroleum ¾, Cities Service 1⅞, Pan American World Airways ½, Johns-Manville 1¾, Georgia Pacific Plywood 1¾, and Douglas Aircraft 1.

Roast Stuffed Chicken

5 pound roasting chicken (New York dressed weight)*
1 cup hot water
½ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon poultry seasoning
2 teaspoons dry mustard
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
3 quarts soft ½-inch bread cubes

Dress and clean chicken. Combine water, butter and onion and simmer over low heat for five minutes. Add poultry seasoning, mustard and parsley. Pour liquid mixture over soft bread cubes. Spoon the stuffing into neck cavity, using enough to fill the skin so that the chicken will look plump when served. Fold neck skin over and skewer it to back. Put the remaining stuffing into the body. When body is filled, close the cavity to hold the stuffing in (either sew the skin together with heavy string or skewer the skin together and lace with heavy string). Skewer wings to body until they rest flat against the neck skin. Cross legs, tie securely with heavy string and fasten to tail. Grease skin thoroughly with melted shortening. Bake according to your own favorite method.

Yield: 10 servings.

*Head and feet on: picked, but not drawn.

40,770 County Residents May Cast Ballots

Deaths Outnumber New Registrants

Allegany County had 40,770 registered voters as of December 1, according to figures compiled in the office of the County Board of Election Supervisors.

The registered voters include 23,021 (56.4 per cent) Republicans, 17,478 (42.9 per cent) Democrats, 246 independents who declined to state political preference, 23 Socialists and two members of other parties. Of the total 40,317 are white and 453 colored.

In each classification there continues to be more men than women but the margin is narrower than it used to be. The Republicans include 11,818 men and 11,203 women, the Democrats 8,963 men and 8,515 women, the independents 183 men and 63 women, the Socialists 15 men and eight women and the other party members included one man and one woman.

Some 32 new registrants were added during November by Irvin J. Neat and C. William McDermott, the registrars. Sixteen of them were Republicans, nine men and seven women; 13 Democrats, 10 men and three women, and three other men declined to state political preference.

Seven of the new registrants had filled out their required papers some time ago but were just added to the books because they finally have satisfied the one-year residence requirement. Sixteen others were service personnel who registered indirectly by submitting their absentee ballots. The other nine registered in person in the board's office in the Court House basement.

The name of one white Republican man was eliminated from the books at his own request so that he could register elsewhere.

Republicans made a net gain as a result of six changes in political affiliation. Four Democrats, three men and a woman, switched over to the GOP side while one man and a woman, both Republicans, transferred to the Democratic slate.

Names of some 47 other persons were stricken from the books because they died during October. Thirty-one of them, 18 men and 13 women, were Republicans and the other 16, 11 men and five women, Democrats.

There also were 59 transfers from one district or precinct to another and two changes of name.

Fort Hill Choir Will Sing Sunday Night

The Fort Hill a cappella choir will give a program of Christmas music at the Living Stone Church of the Brethren Sunday evening.

Rev. Arthur Scrogum, pastor, said that the public is invited to the 7:30 o'clock program. Miss E. Annetta Yates directs the choir.

Three Countians Get 18 Months In Assault Case

FREDERICK, Md., Dec. 9 (AP)—Three young farm laborers from Allegany County today pleaded guilty to a charge of carnal knowledge involving a teen-age Cresaptown girl and were sentenced to 18 months each.

The girl was 15 at the time of the offense last April.

The defendants, all about 22, were Joshua P. Green, Milton L. Crowe and Forrest E. Miller. Green was sentenced to the House of Correction, the others to the Maryland Reformatory.

Associate Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer, in imposing sentence, noted that the three all had good previous records. The maximum sentence is two years.

The girl, now 16, told the court she was walking from her aunt's home to her grandmother's when the three came by in a car, forced her to get in and took her to a cemetery in Lonaconing.

She said there she was assaulted by force and one of the three hit her in the mouth. The defendants denied using force.

Before work could begin on the granite capitol in Austin, Tex., the legislature set aside three million acres of land in the Texas panhandle to finance it.

Charles Co. Grand Jury Ends Probe

LA PLATA, Dec. 9 (AP) — The Charles County grand jury apparently has completed its investigation of allegations that four Republican politicians passed out money to some voters at the Nov. 2 election.

The jury heard its 24th witness in the case yesterday and had scheduled three more for testimony today. When the panel resumed, however, it turned without explanation to another matter.

Mrs. Ruby is a native of Flintstone and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Willison. She graduated from Flintstone High School in 1941 and from Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in 1945. Vets' Benefits Endangered, Says Legion Officer

BALTIMORE, Dec. 9 (AP)—"The entire structure of veterans benefits is in danger of being destroyed by a subtle flank attack, innuendo and other divisive means," Nicholas Lynch Jr., American Legion national field service director, said today.

Lynch spoke in the final day of the American Legion Auxiliary Rehabilitation Conference here.

He charged a "subtle flank attack has been carried out through a reduction of budget allowances."

Lynch urged delegates from seven states to demand that their congressmen vote for adequate appropriations for veterans' benefits.

The Legion official said budget cuts have forced personnel lay offs and a reduction in available beds at Veterans Administration hospitals.

Mrs. Ruby Ward, Kingwood, W. Va., is chairman of the national rehabilitation committee of the auxiliary. Host to the visiting delegates is Mrs. Robert L. Nichols, president of the Maryland Department of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Ward is presiding at the conference.

Four Convicted Of Fraud Fined, Terms Suspended

BALTIMORE, Dec. 9 (AP)—Fines and suspended jail sentences were imposed today on four men who figured in charges of fraud and conspiracy in Baltimore's investigation of its off street parking situation.

Contractor Dominic Piracci, friend and relative by marriage of Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, was given two one-year suspended jail sentences and fined $4,000.

Albert Haar and Samuel Winik, owners of a parking garage firm, were each given one-year suspended terms. They were fined $2,000, each.

C. Edward Jones, former member of the Off Street Parking Commission, the municipal agency which advances funds on a loan basis for construction of parking garages, was given a $500 fine.

The Piracci Construction Co. and Baltimore Garages, Inc., owned by Haar and Winik, were fined $2,000 each.

Jones was convicted of violating the city code which provides that a Commission member may not represent parking interests. Jones is a lawyer.

Piracci was accused of working with Haar and Winik a "kickback" scheme whereby he inflated costs of building parking garages, then refunded to them the 15 per cent of the construction cost they were supposed to put up.

Gettysburg, Pa., was the "high water mark" of the Confederate advance into the north during the American Civil War.

Father Of Four Burned To Death In Home Mishap

BALTIMORE, Dec. 9 (AP)—Robert Ellis, 30-year-old father of four children, burned to death in his backyard today before his blazing clothing could be put out.

Firemen speculated he was trapped in a garage for a time after his clothing caught fire. He collapsed between the garage and his home.

Mrs. Hilda Fulton, a neighbor, said she saw Ellis lying in the yard but couldn't get close enough to extinguish the flames. Firemen smothered the blazing clothing when they arrived.

Ellis was in the plumbing and heating business. Firemen said he apparently was working in the garage when the fire started. Nearby, they said, was an overturned partly filled gasoline can with cap off.

Tri-Towns Plan For Christmas Aid Reviewed

Salvation Army Offers Assistance

WESTERNPORT—The Salvation Army will provide 15 Christmas baskets for the needy of the Tri-Towns, Wayne Ritchie, chairman of the United Organizations announced at the meeting of the group in the Westernport Library, recently.

Representatives of various organizations will tend to two kettles for the Salvation Army, one will be placed in Piedmont and the other one here. This was done last year for the Salvation Army.

Ritchie stated that the group had received a quantity of toys from the Luke Parent-Teacher Association to be distributed for Christmas.

Some of the problems of the United Organizations were discussed at the meeting. Ritchie told of some instances of persons trying to obtain all they could get, by giving their names in various ways.

There have been more requests this year for aid than ever before Ritchie stated. Those needing things worse will be handled first and then on down the line, he said.

There will be need for volunteer workers the week before Christmas as there is much work in screening the names so that none are duplicated and others missed.

Toys should be taken to the Union Hall in Westernport.

The merchants have been cooperating in the baskets, and have given many times the amount in foodstuffs for the money expended.

American Legion Auxiliary of Kelly-Mansfield Post No. 52, Piedmont, will tend the kettle for the Salvation Army one day, it was announced.

St. George's Episcopal Vestry Assigns Secretary To Rector

Mrs. Wilson Sweene Given Appointment

MT. SAVAGE — Mrs. Wilson Sweene has been named by the Vestry of St. George's Episocpal Church as secretary to the rector. This action came as a result of the findings of the recent survey made in the Diocese of Maryland. The recommendation of a secretary was returned by the Department of Research and Field Study and the Vestry acted favorably upon it at their January meeting. Mrs. Sweene will assume her duties after the New Year.

Also at the meeting the vestry accepted as a memorial a Book of Remembrance from Mr. and Mrs. Christian L. Pollock. The book which is given in memory of departed members of Mr. Pollock's family, will contain listings of all memorials with their donors, that have been accepted by the Parish since its organization in 1841 and will be dedicated at the Midnight Service on Christmas.

The group further authorized the building committee, headed by John L. Poland, to replace the main doors of the Parish Hall, to seal the outside of the Parish House against dampness, to install new lighting fixtures in the guild room and to install metal canopies over the entrances.

George Koontz, chairman of boys work, reported that he was seeking leadership to sponsor a basketball league in the community and that games would be played in the Parish Hall gymnasium on Saturdays and Sundays.

Colin C. Bowers, chairman of men's work, announced that two successive meetings would be held sometime in January—one for men and one for women—at which time a program of evangelism would be inaugurated as a follow-up of other of the survey recommendations.

Raymond Neder, reporting for the Cemetery Committee, stated that much brush had been removed from the grounds, several stumps had been uprooted and perpetual care markers had been installed throughout the burial plot. He also cited that two trees would be removed from the grounds for Church decorations and that two more trees would be planted after the first of the year according to the prevailing custom.

The latter will be a one-day feature attraction and the Sample Fair will continue for two or perhaps three days.

At the meeting Wednesday, John Minnich, Kiwanis representative in the strict observance of Safe-Driving Day on December 15, called on all members to use extra precautions on that day in driving their cars, either in the city or on the state and national highways.

Tri-Towns Plan For Christmas Aid Reviewed

Salvation Army Offers Assistance

WESTERNPORT—The Salvation Army will provide 15 Christmas baskets for the needy of the Tri-Towns, Wayne Ritchie, chairman of the United Organizations announced at the meeting of the group in the Westernport Library, recently.

Representatives of various organizations will tend to two kettles for the Salvation Army, one will be placed in Piedmont and the other one here. This was done last year for the Salvation Army.

Ritchie stated that the group had received a quantity of toys from the Luke Parent-Teacher Association to be distributed for Christmas.

Some of the problems of the United Organizations were discussed at the meeting. Ritchie told of some instances of persons trying to obtain all they could get, by giving their names in various ways.

There have been more requests this year for aid than ever before Ritchie stated. Those needing things worse will be handled first and then on down the line, he said.

There will be need for volunteer workers the week before Christmas as there is much work in screening the names so that none are duplicated and others missed.

Toys should be taken to the Union Hall in Westernport.

The merchants have been cooperating in the baskets, and have given many times the amount in foodstuffs for the money expended.

American Legion Auxiliary of Kelly-Mansfield Post No. 52, Piedmont, will tend the kettle for the Salvation Army one day, it was announced.

St. George's Episcopal Vestry Assigns Secretary To Rector

Mrs. Wilson Sweene Given Appointment

MT. SAVAGE — Mrs. Wilson Sweene has been named by the Vestry of St. George's Episcopal Church as secretary to the rector. This action came as a result of the findings of the recent survey made in the Diocese of Maryland. The recommendation of a secretary was returned by the Department of Research and Field Study and the Vestry acted favorably upon it at their January meeting. Mrs. Sweene will assume her duties after the New Year.

Also at the meeting the vestry accepted as a memorial a Book of Remembrance from Mr. and Mrs. Christian L. Pollock. The book which is given in memory of departed members of Mr. Pollock's family, will contain listings of all memorials with their donors, that have been accepted by the Parish since its organization in 1841 and will be dedicated at the Midnight Service on Christmas.

The group further authorized the building committee, headed by John L. Poland, to replace the main doors of the Parish Hall, to seal the outside of the Parish House against dampness, to install new lighting fixtures in the guild room and to install metal canopies over the entrances.

George Koontz, chairman of boys work, reported that he was seeking leadership to sponsor a basketball league in the community and that games would be played in the Parish Hall gymnasium on Saturdays and Sundays..

Colin C. Bowers, chairman of men's work, announced that two successive meetings would be held sometime in January—one for men and one for women—at which time a program of evangelism would be inaugurated as a follow-up of other of the survey recommendations.

Raymond Neder, reporting for the Cemetery Committee, stated that much brush had been removed from the grounds, several stumps had been uprooted and perpetual care markers had been installed throughout the burial plot. He also cited that two trees would be removed from the grounds for Church decorations and that two more trees would be planted after the first of the year according to the prevailing custom.

Dick Waddell, Mundeno Get 48 For Knights

John Meyers' Quint Posts Third Straight Triumph Of Season

LONACONING, Dec. 9—Richard "Dick" Waddell and Bobby Mundeno outscored the visiting team tonight as Coach John C. Meyers' Valley High Black Knights rolled to their third consecutive victory of the season at the expense of LaSalle High School's Explorers. The score was 66-43.

Waddell and Mundeno racked up 48 points, five more than the LaSalle team. The 6-foot-5 Waddell, who started like a house afire last season before an ankle injury put him out of action, dumped in 25 points on nine field goals and seven conversions in eight tries at the foul line. Mundeno contributed 23 tallies on nine baskets and 5-9 at the free throw mark. Robert "Cokey" Robertson came through with 11 points.

Valley's undefeated quint took a 13-10 lead at the quarter, increased its margin to eight points at the half, 25-17, and held a 16-point advantage, 47-31, at the close of the third period.

In the second period Robertson's goal broke a 17-17 tie and the Knights never relinquished the lead thereafter.

Phil Geatz and "Rickey" Harris were the chief point getters for LaSalle with 11 and 10 markers. Dove, Geatz and Harris had four field goals each. Gerry Hart was the only player to leave the game on personal fouls.

Valley outscored LaSalle 24 to 17 from the field and sank 18 of 27 foul shots against the Explorers 9 for 19. Seventeen personal fouls were called on LaSalle and 12 on the winners.

Valley High's Jayvees also registered their third win of the season, beating LaSalle in the preliminary game, 44-29. Lineups:

Bill McGowan Dies Suddenly

Umpired In Major League 30 Years

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Bill McGowan, the most durable umpire in major league history, died today after suffering his second heart attack in less than a week. He was 58.

Will Harridge, president of the American League, saluted McGowan as "one of the all-time greats of his profession."

Clark Griffith, 85-year-old owner of the Washington Senators, went a step further. He called McGowan "the greatest baseball umpire I've ever seen."

The peppery little McGowan retired earlier this year after illness cut short his career. He had been an American League umpire for 30 years and had set a record that will be difficult for anyone to equal.

From the time he joined the American League in 1925, McGowan didn't miss an inning for 16½ years. He umpired 2,541 consecutive games, nearly 400 games more than the playing record achieved by the late Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees.

Gehrig participated in 2,164 straight games, a record no one else ever came close to.

A native of Wilmington, Del., McGowan earlier this week was voted a double pension. Ordinarily he would have been entitled to $3,000 a year for life.

McGowan is survived by his widow and two sons, William Jr., and William A. McGowan.

Berra Named Most Valuable Player In AL

Yankee Captures Award 2nd Time

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Larry (Yogi) Berra, the New York Yankees' squat, slugging catcher, today became the sixth two-time winner of the American League's most valuable player award.

In a close vote of a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Assn. Berra edged a pair of Cleveland Indians, outfielder Larry Doby and second baseman Bobby Avila.

The Yankee catcher also was named most valuable in his league in 1951. He is the first repeater since Boston's Ted Williams took the award in 1946 and 1949. Berra placed second to Al Rosen of Cleveland in last year's voting.

Two Won It Thrice

Since the baseball writers took over the most valuable selection in 1931, two players have been given the honor three times and three others before Berra have won it twice. The three-time winners were Jimmy Foxx in 1932, '33 and '38 and Joe DiMaggio in 1939, '41 and '47. The other repeaters were Hank Greenberg, 1935 and '40, Hal Newhouser, 1944-45 and Williams.

Berra was placed first on seven of the 24 ballots and polled a total of 230 points. None of the 24 writers—three from each American League city, placed him lower than sixth on the list. Each voter lists ten choices in order and points are scored 14 for each first place vote, nine for second and on down on an 8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis.

Doby, who led the league in home runs, took second place with 210 points and Avila third with 203. Orestes (Minnie) Minoso of the Chicago White Sox was fourth with 186 and Cleveland's Bob Lemon, top pitcher in the voting, fifth with 179.

Yogi Batted .319

Although the Yanks failed to win the pennant, Berra turned in a solid performance at bat and behind the plate. The 29-year-old catcher hit over .300 for the third full season since he joined the Yankees in 1946. He had an unofficial average of .319 with 179 hits in 584 times at bat, hit 22 home runs and batted in 126 runs, only one less than Doby. Avila was the unofficial batting champion with a .341 average.

Deer Kills Drop To Nine On 4th Day Of Season

Allegany County Total Is Now 203

Rain and sleet gave Allegany county's deer population a respite yesterday as hunters were limited to nine bucks on the fourth day of Maryland's six-day season.

The kill, however, bettered the mark of the fourth day of the 1953 season when inclement weather reduced the bag to only seven white-tails.

The four-day total for Allegany county is 203 compared to 233 kills a year ago. This means that nimrods must average 38 a day today and Saturday to equal 1953's record-breaking total of 279 for the season. Last year 19 were slain on Friday and 20 on the final day.

State Police barracks, LaVale, reported five bucks checked and three were killed in Allegany county. Melvin Lewis, of Lewis' Store, Oldtown, checked three. Three were inspected by Graydon Dunlap at Shipway's, two being from Garrett and one from Allegany. One of the six taken to Westernport Police Station fell in Allegany county while the Bridge Diner, Hancock, checked one Allegany and three Washington county bucks. Both of the kills reported by Clear Spring's station were credited to hunters in Washington county.

Here's Allegany's Thursday summary:

Southern, coached by Leonard Ritchie, has beaten the Alumni, 60-37, and Terra Alta, 61-22, in its first two outings. Allegany's last engagement with Southern came in the District No. 1 tourney last year when the Campers eliminated the Garrett quint, 73-47. Coach Walter L. Bowers, beginning his 29th year as head cage mentor at Allegany, lost his first string five through graduation and must rebuild for another campaign. Allegany won 24 and lost 1 last season, and wound up with a winning streak of 16 games.

The Campers' starting lineup will comprise Rodney Breedlove and Jim Thomas, forwards; Hugh Steele, center, and Jim Sisk and Allen Haines, guards. There are 15 players on the AHS squad.

Victorious over Elk Garden in the lid-lifter Wednesday night, Bruce High's Bulldogs will be striving to make it two straight when they play at Fort Ashby tonight.

Ridgeley At Romney

The Ridgeley at Romney game tops tonight's slate of four tilts in the Potomac Valley Conference. Piedmont will try to sweep the series with the Elks at Elk Garden, Capon Bridge opens its season at home with Mathias and Wardensville's Warriors invade Moorefield where the Yellow Jackets will be shooting for their second conference triumph.

Other games on Friday night's slate, the biggest of the season to date, include:

Bayard at Petersburg, Thomas at Circleville, Davis at Beverly, Paw Paw at Mt. Savage, Meyersdale at Northern, Carver at Berlin, Pa., and Hyndman at Verona, Pa., where the Hornets will be angling for their fourth straight victory of the campaign. Bedford High's Bisons are slated to open at home with Beaverdale.

Bill McGowan Dies Suddenly

Umpired In Major League 30 Years

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Bill McGowan, the most durable umpire in major league history, died today after suffering his second heart attack in less than a week. He was 58.

Will Harridge, president of the American League, saluted McGowan as "one of the all-time greats of his profession."

Clark Griffith, 85-year-old owner of the Washington Senators, went a step further. He called McGowan "the greatest baseball umpire I've ever seen."

The peppery little McGowan retired earlier this year after illness cut short his career. He had been an American League umpire for 30 years and had set a record that will be difficult for anyone to equal.

From the time he joined the American League in 1925, McGowan didn't miss an inning for 16½ years. He umpired 2,541 consecutive games, nearly 400 games more than the playing record achieved by the late Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees.

Gehrig participated in 2,164 straight games, a record no one else ever came close to.

A native of Wilmington, Del., McGowan earlier this week was voted a double pension. Ordinarily he would have been entitled to $3,000 a year for life.

McGowan is survived by his widow and two sons, William Jr., and William A. McGowan.

Berra Named Most Valuable Player In AL

Yankee Captures Award 2nd Time

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Larry (Yogi) Berra, the New York Yankees' squat, slugging catcher, today became the sixth two-time winner of the American League's most valuable player award.

In a close vote of a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Assn. Berra edged a pair of Cleveland Indians, outfielder Larry Doby and second baseman Bobby Avila.

The Yankee catcher also was named most valuable in his league in 1951. He is the first repeater since Boston's Ted Williams took the award in 1946 and 1949. Berra placed second to Al Rosen of Cleveland in last year's voting.

Two Won It Thrice

Since the baseball writers took over the most valuable selection in 1931, two players have been given the honor three times and three others before Berra have won it twice. The three-time winners were Jimmy Foxx in 1932, '33 and '38 and Joe DiMaggio in 1939, '41 and '47. The other repeaters were Hank Greenberg, 1935 and '40, Hal Newhouser, 1944-45 and Williams.

Berra was placed first on seven of the 24 ballots and polled a total of 230 points. None of the 24 writers—three from each American League city, placed him lower than sixth on the list. Each voter lists ten choices in order and points are scored 14 for each first place vote, nine for second and on down on an 8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis.

Doby, who led the league in home runs, took second place with 210 points and Avila third with 203. Orestes (Minnie) Minoso of the Chicago White Sox was fourth with 186 and Cleveland's Bob Lemon, top pitcher in the voting, fifth with 179.

Yogi Batted .319

Although the Yanks failed to win the pennant, Berra turned in a solid performance at bat and behind the plate. The 29-year-old catcher hit over .300 for the third full season since he joined the Yankees in 1946. He had an unofficial average of .319 with 179 hits in 584 times at bat, hit 22 home runs and batted in 126 runs, only one less than Doby. Avila was the unofficial batting champion with a .341 average.

Deer Kills Drop To Nine On 4th Day Of Season

Allegany County Total Is Now 203

Rain and sleet gave Allegany county's deer population a respite yesterday as hunters were limited to nine bucks on the fourth day of Maryland's six-day season.

The kill, however, bettered the mark of the fourth day of the 1953 season when inclement weather reduced the bag to only seven white-tails.

The four-day total for Allegany county is 203 compared to 233 kills a year ago. This means that nimrods must average 38 a day today and Saturday to equal 1953's record-breaking total of 279 for the season. Last year 19 were slain on Friday and 20 on the final day.

State Police barracks, LaVale, reported five bucks checked and three were killed in Allegany county. Melvin Lewis, of Lewis' Store, Oldtown, checked three. Three were inspected by Graydon Dunlap at Shipway's, two being from Garrett and one from Allegany. One of the six taken to Westernport Police Station fell in Allegany county while the Bridge Diner, Hancock, checked one Allegany and three Washington county bucks. Both of the kills reported by Clear Spring's station were credited to hunters in Washington county.

Here's Allegany's Thursday summary:

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Merrill Kessler says he has perfected a manicuring machine on which he began working in 1920.

He says the device, operated by a tiny motor, will cut the time for a manicure more than half. But it still will need a manicurist to operate it.

HENRY — By CARL ANDERSON

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Merrill Kessler says he has perfected a manicuring machine on which he began working in 1920.

He says the device, operated by a tiny motor, will cut the time for a manicure more than half. But it still will need a manicurist to operate it.

Card of Thanks

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to all who aided and comforted us in our recent sad bereavement, the death of our beloved wife and sister, Mrs. Agnes Radigan. Especially do we thank the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes, those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral, the Rev. Michael Symthe and the choir of St. Patrick Church, Mt. Savage, Md.

Husband and Sisters.

We wish to take this means of thanking our friends and neighbors who were so kind and sympathetic to us following the death of our beloved husband, father and brother, James Myers, Lonaconing. We especially wish to thank Rev. C. H. Gosborn, the Presbyterian choir, persons who sent floral tributes and those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral. To all others who in any way rendered assistance, we are indeed grateful.

Wife, Children, Brothers and Sisters.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear Mother, Mary Dell Irons, who departed eight years ago today, December 10, 1946.
You left a beautiful memory and a Sorrow too great to be told.
But to us who loved and lost you
Your memory will never grow old.
Sadly missed
Her Children.

Card of Thanks

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to all who aided and comforted us in our recent sad bereavement, the death of our beloved wife and sister, Mrs. Agnes Radigan. Especially do we thank the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes, those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral, the Rev. Michael Symthe and the choir of St. Patrick Church, Mt. Savage, Md.

Husband and Sisters.

We wish to take this means of thanking our friends and neighbors who were so kind and sympathetic to us following the death of our beloved husband, father and brother, James Myers, Lonaconing. We especially wish to thank Rev. C. H. Goshorn, the Presbyterian choir, persons who sent floral tributes and those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral. To all others who in any way rendered assistance, we are indeed grateful.

Wife, Children, Brothers and Sisters.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear Mother, Mary Dell Irons, who departed eight years ago today, December 10, 1946.

You left a beautiful memory and a
Sorrow too great to be told.
But to us who loved and lost you
Your memory will never grow old.
Sadly missed
Her Children.

Three Lawyers Gain Mention For Judgeship

Speculation Concerns Hagerstown Attorneys

Three well-known Hagerstown lawyers have been mentioned prominently around Court House circles here as most likely to be appointed judge in the Fourth Judicial Circuit to succeed the late Chief Judge Joseph D. Mish who died in Hagerstown Wednesday night.

They are Charles F. Wagaman, Washington County, State Senator David Kenneth McLaughlin and Leo H. Miller. All three are Republicans like Governor Theodore R. McKeldin, who will make the appointment.

Appointment of Wagaman would return a familiar name to the bench in Washington County. An uncle, the late Frank A. Wagaman, resigned from the judgeship in 1940 thereby enabling former Governor Herbert R. O'Conor to appoint Judge Mish as his successor.

Senator McLaughlin was just elected last month for his third four-year term in the upper chamber at Annapolis. A 49-year-old native of Chambersburg, Pa., Senator McLaughlin is a graduate of the Dickinson Law School. He is a former chairman of the Republican State Central Committee for Washington County. Judge Mish was serving in the State Senate at the time of his judicial appointment.

Miller was Judge Mish's opponent in 1942 when the latter was successful in winning election for a 15-year term. Before entering the legal profession he was a high school principal in Martinsburg, W. Va.

Whoever gains appointment will serve until the November 1956 general election when he must stand for election. That would be for another 15-year term. Appointment of a Republican in Washington County would give the GOP a clean sweep of the four judicial seats in the Fourth Judicial Circuit. Others are Judges George Henderson and Morgan C. Harris, this county, and Neil H. Fraley, the new Garrett County judge.

City Collects 78 Per Cent Of Current Budget

More than three-fourths of the 1954-55 levy of the City of Cumberland was collected on November 30 as the city ended the fifth month of the current fiscal year, according to a report on the condition of the levy issued yesterday by Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

The tax levy was within 13.4 per cent of its goal and spending by city departments was at the 40.1 mark, slightly below the 41.67 par for the end of November.

Collections totaled $1,173,245.10, or 78 per cent of the $1,505,270 levy, leaving $333,392.64 to come in. One account, the city's share of state income tax, is already $1,367.74 ahead of estimated revenues of $47,000.

Send More Bills

Tax collections on that date totaled $875,867.58, or 86.6 per cent of the $1,011,240 levy. This leaves $135,372.42 still to come in.

Some of these uncollected taxes include corporations, which are billed as certifications are received from the State Tax Commissioner. Statements for some $30,000 of corporation taxes were mailed out this week.

The state has forwarded $24,581.92 of the city's share of state racing income, and $25,418.08 more is expected before the end of the fiscal year.

Spending Lags

Other big shares of state income still expected are some $32,000 from state auto license fees and almost $34,000 from state gas and oil taxes.

The various departments of the city had spent $505,569.41 of $1,262,848.47 set aside for operating expenses, and this sum was just a shade under par.

Expenditures of major departments indicated they were living within their budgets.

Sen. Butler To Let Tydings Give Lone Speech In 'Debate'

BALTIMORE, Dec. 9 (AP) — U. S. Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md) said today he will not go to Salisbury Sunday in response to a debate challenge issued by former Sen. Millard E. Tydings.

The veteran Democrat, defeated by Butler when he ran for re-election in 1950, has hired a Salisbury theater for the debate Sunday afternoon.

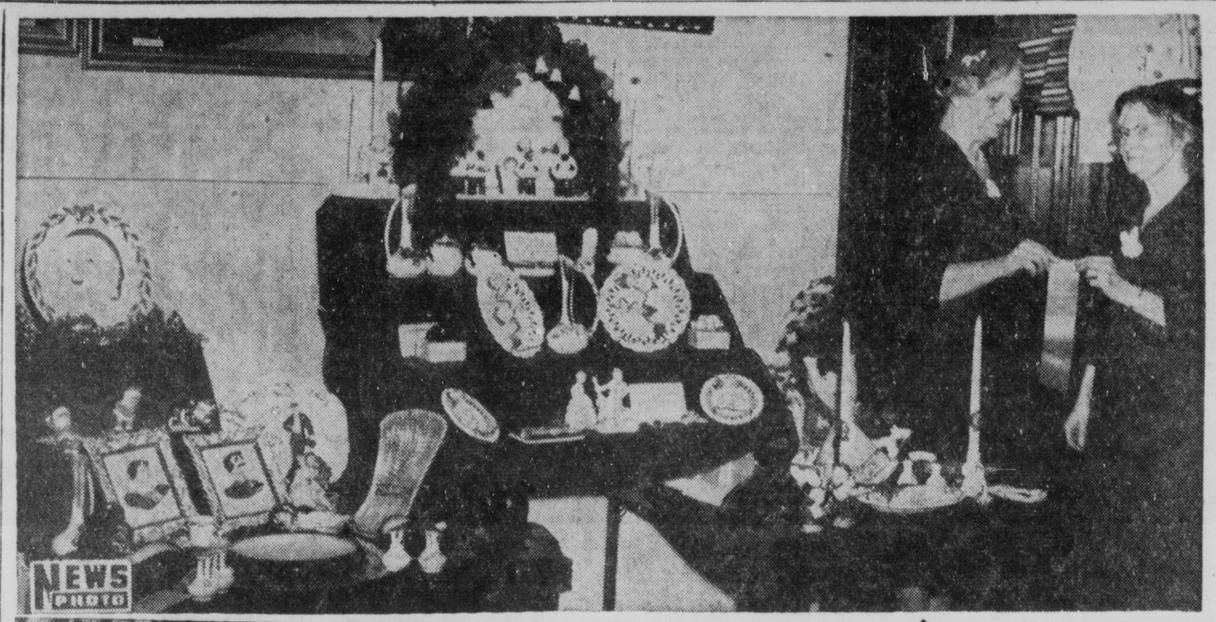
Tydings had challenged Butler to a debate on charges Tydings in 1950 "whitewashed" claims by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) that communists had infiltrated the State Department.

Tydings has blamed the whitewash charge for beating him in 1950. He recently issued a statement saying many of those listed by McCarthy as Reds working in the State Department still are on the job there.

The former senator is expected to make a speech at the Salisbury theater Sunday even if Butler does not show up for a debate.



Winning Hobby Show Exhibits

These exhibits won top prizes last night in the Business and Professional Women's Club's annual hobby show at the Cumberland Free Public Library. At top, Mrs. Karl K. Perry, chairman of the show, presents a ribbon to Mrs. Daphne Brann, mother of Miss Naomi Brann, whose entry of ceramics took first prize in the creative arts division. In the lower picture Miss Garardine Pritchard, president of the BPW, displays the winning collection of Miss Maude A. Bean, which took top place in the collections division.

Winners Are Selected In Annual BPW Hobby Show

Miss Naomi Brann and Miss Maude A. Bean, last night was declared winners of the annual hobby show sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club at the Cumberland Free Public Library.

MRS. CORLISTA M. CROWE

The show continues today from 2 until 5 p. m. and from 7 until 9 p. m.

Miss Brann's ceramics display won first prize in the creative arts division, in which there were 28 other entries. Second prize was won by Fred Keyser, with a display of invisible china mending, and a painting by Mrs. May Minghini won third prize.

Miss Bean's collection of antique items was first in the collections division. Eight-year-old Billy Mutchner and his 10-year-old sister Christine won second place with a collection of ceramic dolls, horses and other figures, and Miss Olive B. Simpson was third with a china collection.

The younger set is well represented in this year's show. One highlight is a complete puppet show based on "The Frog Prince," which was constructed by David Zais, 15-year-old Allegany High School student.

Other exhibitors included Phyllis McGaughey, Mrs. Cora Perry, Mrs. H. Leonard, Mrs. Jean Bibby, Mrs. Charles Callis, Mrs. R. D. Benjamin, Mrs. Edna Seifert, Mrs. Lester Kolb, Mrs. Irene Critzman, Mrs. Roy Smith, Miss Irene Lapp, Miss Gertrude Wolfe, Louis Young, Mrs. George Krnaya, Mrs. William Pitzer, Mrs. Etta Evans, Mrs. Roy W. New Teacher Is Assigned To Va. Ave.

Mrs. Corlista Murphy Crowe of RFD 2, Frostburg (Finzel) has assumed duties as fifth grade teacher at Virginia Avenue School.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster said that Mrs. Crowe was appointed to fill the vacancy caused when Earl L. Duffy, 425 North Centre Street, resigned because of ill health.

Mrs. Crowe has had five years of teaching experience. A 1942 graduate of Grantsville High School, she completed her studies at Frostburg State Teachers College in three years, finishing in 1945. Thereafter she taught one year at Sherwood School in Sandy Spring, Montgomery County, and four years at the Midland School, ending in 1950.

Fort Hill Athlete Is Hospitalized After Car Crash

Dale Hillegas, 17, member of Fort Hill High School's football and track team, was hospitalized yesterday, with injuries sustained in an auto accident on Valley Road, which occurred while he was enroute to morning classes.

Attaches said his condition last night was "satisfactory." And he was reported to have sustained a chest injury and a cut over his left eye. X-rays were taken.

Dale and his younger brother, Dalton, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hillegas, Valley Road, had passed another motorist on the way to school and as they hit an icy spot on the highway the car began to skid.

To avoid going over a steep slope on the right side of the highway, Hillegas steered his car into the embankment on the left of the road. The front of the car was damaged.

Another Fort Hill student, Joseph Boyd, about 18, was driving toward Cumberland, came upon the wreck, and took young Hillegas to the hospital where he was admitted about 9:50 a. m. The accident, according to Dalton Hillegas, occurred about 7:45 a. m. inside the city limits.

Water Line Job At ABL Awarded To Baltimore Co.

A Baltimore firm has been awarded a $10,957 construction contract at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, Pinto, by the Fifth Naval District Public Works Officer.

The Ruth Engineering Company, Inc., is scheduled to begin work next week on an eight-inch underground water line at the laboratory. The line, 1,300 feet in length, is scheduled for completion in March 1955. Connections to existing lines will also be provided.

City May Award Sewage Project Contract Monday

State Health Board Action Set Dec. 17

Mayor Roy W. Eves announced yesterday that the contract for the construction of the Cumberland sewage treatment plant may be awarded at Monday's council meeting.

He said the contract will be discussed by the Mayor and Council and possibly awarded unless some unforeseen circumstance arises. The city has 60 days from Monday to award the contract.

Moyer Brothers, Altoona, Pa., submitted the low bid of $1,531,006 for the plant which is to be built on a 22-acre city-owned tract between Offutt Street and the Potomac River.

Yesterday, the Mayor and Council completed a resolution to the State Board of Health, asking authority to float a bond issue for the plant.

Expect Green Light

The resolution is to be acted on by the board at a meeting December 17. Affirmative action will provide the official "green light" to the city to sell revenue bonds for the project which the State Health Department has been urging the city to build for a number of years.

Officials pointed out that the bond issue will have to be at least $1,862,000, since it is estimated that financing during construction, engineering and legal costs and rights of way will cost about $331,000.

The law under which the bonds will be authorized would allow a bond issue of up to $2,202,000.

Is Two Year Job

The plant, designed by Robert T. Regester, Baltimore consulting engineer, is designed to meet the needs of a city of 65,000 population, which is believed adequate to meet the needs of Cumberland for years to come and supply facilities for treating sewage from the suburban area.

Construction of the plant is one of the stipulations involved in the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's decision to build a plant at North Branch, since the company will need unpolluted water for manufacturing purposes.

The successful contractor is required to complete the big construction job within 750 calendar days after the city gives the proceed order.

The Weather

Early risers yesterday had the unpleasant sight of rain and sleet on the streets and sidewalks of Cumberland, but the temperature rose during the day, the sun shown at intervals and December's highest temperature to date, 46, was recorded at the Constitution Park weather station. Low yesterday was 28. At 8 o'clock last night the official reading was 36. Humidity at 6 p. m. was 64 per cent. Total precipitation during the day was .17 inches. Rec Director Will Check Skating Rink

Rehabilitation Cost Will Be Studied

The City Recreation Board last night asked Robert E. Pence, recreation director, to investigate the cost of rehabilitating the ice skating rink at Gephart Playground.

Pence said the playground association is anxious to make use of the skating area, but that joints in the concrete structure need caulking.

Pence said the playground association has an offer of about $400 from a Chicago firm for making the repairs. He was asked by Albert S. Paye to get estimates on the job from local contractors.

The board, headed by Lewyn C. Davis, discussed a number of department activities, including the Civic Theatre, Art Center, Women's Basketball program and badminton classes.

Approved was a report showing expenditures of $1,729.13 for the month of November, and authorized the spending of $1,475.62 for December activities.

Activities planned this month, Pence said, include the continuation of the Women's Recreation Association, Badminton Club, Civic Theatre Group, payment toward the expenses of art classes, preliminary work toward the formation of a Senior Citizens Group, and opening of the basketball season for the Men's and High School Recreation teams.

Davis reported the board expects to devote its January meeting to a study of the city's recreation facilities which is being prepared by the National Recreation Association.

The board wants to study the report before making any recommendations on the use of funds from a $150,000 recreation bond issue.

Local Resident Dies While On Hunting Trip

Gabriel Allison, 42, Had Heart Condition

An Amcelle plant truck driver, Gabriel Harrison Allison, 317 Footer Place, was found yesterday afternoon on the west slope of Town Hill while on a hunting trip. He was 42.

Death, according to Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, was attributed to natural causes. Allison was reported to have had a heart condition.

The victim, who was on vacation this week, was a member of the Piney Run Gun Club. He went into the woods with a party of 10 hunters and arrived in the Town Hill sector about 10:30 a. m.

The group spread out to make a drive and decided to meet at a designated place after it was completed. Following the drive, Allison failed to show up.

A search for him was started by the other hunters. Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police, said a 57-year-old Flintstone resident, Benjamin F. Teeter, was the last person to see the victim.

After an extensive search, Allison's body was found lying face down by Donald D. Shriver, 22, Flintstone, about 50 yards below Shipley's Road, located off Route 40.

Allison's gun was lying beside him on the ground. State Police received a call during the afternoon and an investigation was started.

Air Force Has New Plan For Volunteers

Men who wish to enlist in the Air Force now and still remain home for Christmas may do so, M/Sgt. Ralph W. Stewart, local recruiter explained yesterday.

Sgt. Stewart said men enlisting now will be sent to Baltimore to undergo physical and mental tests, and then will be returned here. If they are qualified for the Air Force, they will be shipped again to Baltimore after Christmas for induction, and then transported to Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, N. Y. for basic training.

Due to the large number of volunteers the Air Force usually has immediately after the holidays, it is difficult to process them quickly. By enlisting now, Stewart said, some of this rush can be avoided, and volunteers will still have the privilege of spending Christmas with their families.

This pre-holiday processing and enlisting will continue from now until December 20, Sgt. Stewart noted.

Enlisted last month and requesting immediate assignment were Roland L. Bolyard and Top E. Barnes, who have gone to Sampson for basic training.

Donald Frankland re-enlisted and was forwarded to Bolling Air Force Base, Washington.

Five other men have started basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas. They are Lloyd Seggie, William Wiland, Charles Wiland, Glenn Rohrbaugh and Robert Rohrbaugh.

Three Lawyers Gain Mention For Judgeship

Speculation Concerns Hagerstown Attorneys

Three well-known Hagerstown lawyers have been mentioned prominently around Court House circles here as most likely to be appointed judge in the Fourth Judicial Circuit to succeed the late Chief Judge Joseph D. Mish who died in Hagerstown Wednesday night.

They are Charles F. Wagaman, Washington County, State Senator David Kenneth McLaughlin and Leo H. Miller. All three are Republicans like Governor Theodore R. McKeldin, who will make the appointment.

Appointment of Wagaman would return a familiar name to the bench in Washington County. An uncle, the late Frank A. Wagaman, resigned from the judgeship in 1940 thereby enabling former Governor Herbert R. O'Conor to appoint Judge Mish as his successor.

Senator McLaughlin was just elected last month for his third four-year term in the upper chamber at Annapolis. A 49-year-old native of Chambersburg, Pa., Senator McLaughlin is a graduate of the Dickinson Law School. He is a former chairman of the Republican State Central Committee for Washington County. Judge Mish was serving in the State Senate at the time of his judicial appointment.

Miller was Judge Mish's opponent in 1942 when the latter was successful in winning election for a 15-year term. Before entering the legal profession he was a high school principal in Martinsburg, W. Va.

Whoever gains appointment will serve until the November 1956 general election when he must stand for election. That would be for another 15-year term. Appointment of a Republican in Washington County would give the GOP a clean sweep of the four judicial seats in the Fourth Judicial Circuit. Others are Judges George Henderson and Morgan C. Harris, this county, and Neil H. Fraley, the new Garrett County judge.

City Collects 78 Per Cent Of Current Budget

More than three-fourths of the 1954-55 levy of the City of Cumberland was collected on November 30 as the city ended the fifth month of the current fiscal year, according to a report on the condition of the levy issued yesterday by Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

The tax levy was within 13.4 per cent of its goal and spending by city departments was at the 40.1 mark, slightly below the 41.67 par for the end of November.

Collections totaled $1,173,245.10, or 78 per cent of the $1,505,270 levy, leaving $333,392.64 to come in. One account, the city's share of state income tax, is already $1,367.74 ahead of estimated revenues of $47,000.

Send More Bills

Tax collections on that date totaled $875,867.58, or 86.6 per cent of the $1,011,240 levy. This leaves $135,372.42 still to come in.

Some of these uncollected taxes include corporations, which are billed as certifications are received from the State Tax Commissioner. Statements for some $30,000 of corporation taxes were mailed out this week.

The state has forwarded $24,581.92 of the city's share of state racing income, and $25,418.08 more is expected before the end of the fiscal year.

Spending Lags

Other big shares of state income still expected are some $32,000 from state auto license fees and almost $34,000 from state gas and oil taxes.

The various departments of the city had spent $505,569.41 of $1,262,848.47 set aside for operating expenses, and this sum was just a shade under par.

Expenditures of major departments indicated they were living within their budgets.

Sen. Butler To Let Tydings Give Lone Speech In 'Debate'

BALTIMORE, Dec. 9 (AP) — U. S. Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md) said today he will not go to Salisbury Sunday in response to a debate challenge issued by former Sen. Millard E. Tydings.

The veteran Democrat, defeated by Butler when he ran for re-election in 1950, has hired a Salisbury theater for the debate Sunday afternoon.

Asked if he would show up, Butler said today: "No, no, indeed."

Tydings had challenged Butler to a debate on charges Tydings in 1950 "whitewashed" claims by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) that communists had infiltrated the State Department.

Tydings has blamed the whitewash charge for beating him in 1950. He recently issued a statement saying many of those listed by McCarthy as Reds working in the State Department still are on the job there.

Fort Hill Athlete Is Hospitalized After Car Crash

Dale Hillegas, 17, member of Fort Hill High School's football and track team, was hospitalized yesterday, with injuries sustained in an auto accident on Valley Road, which occurred while he was enroute to morning classes.

Attaches said his condition last night was "satisfactory." And he was reported to have sustained a chest injury and a cut over his left eye. X-rays were taken.

Dale and his younger brother, Dalton, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hillegas, Valley Road, had passed another motorist on the way to school and as they hit an icy spot on the highway the car began to skid.

To avoid going over a steep slope on the right side of the highway, Hillegas steered his car into the embankment on the left of the road. The front of the car was damaged.

Another Fort Hill student, Joseph Boyd, about 18, was driving toward Cumberland, came upon the wreck, and took young Hillegas to the hospital where he was admitted about 9:50 a. m. The accident, according to Dalton Hillegas, occurred about 7:45 a. m. inside the city limits.

City May Award Sewage Project Contract Monday

State Health Board Action Set Dec. 17

Mayor Roy W. Eves announced yesterday that the contract for the construction of the Cumberland sewage treatment plant may be awarded at Monday's council meeting.

He said the contract will be discussed by the Mayor and Council and possibly awarded unless some unforeseen circumstance arises. The city has 60 days from Monday to award the contract.

Moyer Brothers, Altoona, Pa., submitted the low bid of $1,531,006 for the plant which is to be built on a 22-acre city-owned tract between Offutt Street and the Potomac River.

Yesterday, the Mayor and Council completed a resolution to the State Board of Health, asking authority to float a bond issue for the plant.

Expect Green Light

The resolution is to be acted on by the board at a meeting December 17. Affirmative action will provide the official "green light" to the city to sell revenue bonds for the project which the State Health Department has been urging the city to build for a number of years.

Officials pointed out that the bond issue will have to be at least $1,862,000, since it is estimated that financing during construction, engineering and legal costs and rights of way will cost about $331,000.

The law under which the bonds will be authorized would allow a bond issue of up to $2,202,000.

Is Two Year Job

The plant, designed by Robert T. Regester, Baltimore consulting engineer, is designed to meet the needs of a city of 65,000 population, which is believed adequate to meet the needs of Cumberland for years to come and supply facilities for treating sewage from the suburban area.

Construction of the plant is one of the stipulations involved in the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's decision to build a plant at North Branch, since the company will need unpolluted water for manufacturing purposes.

The successful contractor is required to complete the big construction job within 750 calendar days after the city gives the proceed order.

The Weather

Early risers yesterday had the unpleasant sight of rain and sleet on the streets and sidewalks of Cumberland, but the temperature rose during the day, the sun shown at intervals and December's highest temperature to date, 46, was recorded at the Constitution Park weather station. Air Force Has New Plan For Volunteers

Men who wish to enlist in the Air Force now and still remain home for Christmas may do so, M/Sgt. Ralph W. Stewart, local recruiter explained yesterday.

Sgt. Stewart said men enlisting now will be sent to Baltimore to undergo physical and mental tests, and then will be returned here. If they are qualified for the Air Force, they will be shipped again to Baltimore after Christmas for induction, and then transported to Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, N. Y. for basic training.

Due to the large number of volunteers the Air Force usually has immediately after the holidays, it is difficult to process them quickly. By enlisting now, Stewart said, some of this rush can be avoided, and volunteers will still have the privilege of spending Christmas with their families.

This pre-holiday processing and enlisting will continue from now until December 20, Sgt. Stewart noted.

Enlisted last month and requesting immediate assignment were Roland L. Bolyard and Top E. Barnes, who have gone to Sampson for basic training.

Donald Frankland re-enlisted and was forwarded to Bolling Air Force Base, Washington.

Five other men have started basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas. They are Lloyd Seggie, William Wiland, Charles Wiland, Glenn Rohrbaugh and Robert Rohrbaugh.
